The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2006 (Senate No. 747), entitled:

An Act creating a board of managers to have control of the institutions for the care and treatment of the insane and the house of employment and support of the poor in certain counties prescribing their powers and duties and abolishing the office of directors of the poor in said counties

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, this bill effects but one county in this State and that is Schuylkill County. The act applies to counties having a population of not less than two hundred thousand or more than two hundred and twenty-five thousand and the only county in the State to which that can have application is Schuylkill county. It provides for a method of taking charge of an insane asylum in that county and control of the poor farm. Schuylkill county is now a separate poor district, under the act of April 4, 1831, P. L. 422. The insane asylum act of 1911, March 15, P. L. 13, is an amendment to that poor act of 1831 and is a special law applicable solely to that county.

This bill repeals provision of that old law and its amendments and is in itself a local law and notice of an intention to apply for its passage must be published thirty days prior to its introduction into the General Assembly.

POINT OF ORDER.

I therefore raise the point of order, Mr. Speaker, that this bill not having been advertised is therefore in violation of Section 8, Article 111, of the Constitution, which requires such advertising. The Senate Clerk and the Chairman of the Judiciary Local Committee of the House, stated to me that they had no evidence of its having been advertised.

The SPEAKER. The Chair cannot overrule this point, and being a constitutional question the Chair does not care to take the responsibility of sustaining it, and will submit it to the House in the usual manner.

On the question,

Shall the point of order be sustained?

Mr. J. R. JONES. Mr. Speaker, on this point there can be no difference of opinion. This act repeals in part the act of 1831, approved the fourth day of April, 1831, P.L. 422. the title of which is "An act to provide for the erection of house or the employment and support of the poor, in the county of Schuylkill," and provides a new system for the selection of the board of directors, and a new system for the selection of the trustees for the insane asylum, as provided for in Act of March 15, 1911, P. L. 13, repealing provisions of these local and special laws. Under the Constitution the provisions is very plain. (Article III, Section 8.) "No local or special bill shall be passed unless notice of the intention to apply therefor shall have been published in the locality where the matter or the thing to be effected may be situated, which notice shall be at least thirty days prior to the introduction into the General Assembly of such bill and in the manner to be provided by law; the evidence of such notice having been published, shall be exhibited in the General Assembly before such act shall be passed." The Clerk of the Senate states there was no advertising. The Chairman of the Judiciary Local Committee, Mr. Gibson, states that there was no advertising. Now the Supreme Court has passed on this question, in the case of Chalfant vs. Edwards et al., 173 Pa., page 251: The Court says, inter alia, "This is a local law passed to effect the repeal of the local acts of 1855 and 1869. Such a law is not necessarily within the constitutional prohibition. To hold that it was would make the road to uniformity much more difficult than was intended. The repeal of local laws is ordinarly made to open the way for the operation of general laws within the territory from which the local law had previously excluded them. Still it is trrue that such a law is local within the meaning of section 55 of article 3. Particularly is this true when the object of the repealing act is not to make way for a general law but for another local one. In such cases it is such a local law as the constitution declares shall not "be passed unless notice of the intention to apply therefor shall have been published in the locality where the matter or thing to be affected shall be situated." It is conceded that no notice of an intention to apply for the passage of a law repealing the local acts of 1855 and 1869 was ever published in the city of Pittsburgh. If this fact was not admitted our question might not be as free from difficulty as it now is. It is admitted. It was so treated in the court below. We have then a local law passed to repeal one local law in order to make way for another." "We cannot agree therefore with the learned judge in regard to the validity of the repealing act. It is invalid." This bill violates the provisions of the Constitution in two particulars; in that it repeals a local law which in itself must be advertised, and in that it attempts to enforce another local law which must be advertised. There can be no difference of opinion upon this question. It has not been advertised. The Constitution says it must be. The people of my county have a right to have notice; so I contend there is nothing for this body to do but sustain my point of order.

On the question recurring,

Shall the point of order be sustained.

The point of order was sustained.

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1983 (Senate No. 990), entitled:

An Act regulating the qualifications and election of township supervisors in township of the second class and limiting the term of all present township supervisors

The first section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That at the municipal election of the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen the qualified electors of each township of the second class shall elect three qualified electors of the township as township supervisors who shall serve as follows One to serve from the first Monday of December in said year until the first Monday of January one thousand nine hundred and sixteen one to serve from said first Monday of December until the first Monday of January one thousand nine hundred and eighteen and one to serve from said first Monday of December until the first Monday of January one thousand nine hundred and twenty Biennially thereafter the qualified electors of each township of the second class shall elect one qualified elector of the township to serve as township supervisor for a term of six years The terms of all present township supervisors of such townships shall end on the first Monday of December in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Section 1, line 6 by striking out the word "three" and insert in lieu thereof the word "two".

Line 9, strike out the word "January" and insert in lieu thereof the word "December."

Line 10, by striking out the word "sixteen" and insert in lieu thereof the word 'seventeen."

Line 11, by striking out the word "January" and insert in lieu thereof the word "December."

Line 12, by striking out after the word "eighteen" the rest of said line, also all of line 13 and the words "hundred and twenty" on line 14.

Line 17, after the word "years" by striking out the remainder of the Section.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the mendments?

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to state that these amendments are intended to remove the ripper features from this bill. The bill provides for the election of township assessors, fixing their term of office, and these amendments will accomplish the same purpose as intended and at the same time remove the ripper features.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

The section as amended was then agreed to.

The second section and the title of the bill were separtely read and agreed to as follows:

Section 2 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are repealed

The first section was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the sum of four hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($450,000.00) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated for the purpose of further carrying out the provisions of a joint resolution approved the fourteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled "A Joint Resolution to provide for the participation of the State of Pennsylvania in the Panama-Pacific International Exposition to be held in San Francisco California in nineteen hundred and fifteen to celebrate the completion and opening of the Panama Canal and the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of the Pacific Ocean and providing for the appointment of a commission and making an appropriation to defray the expenses of the same" The payment of moneys hereby appropriated shall be subject to the same conditions as were contained in said resolution

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. MATT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The amendment was read by the Clerk.

Amend House Bill No. 1383, file folio No. 9781, Section 1, by striking out the following words and figures in line 4: "four hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($450,000.00)" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000.00)."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, I will just say that the amount appropriated or recommended to be appropriated in this bill, I think is not out of reason. It is to represent the State of Pennsylvania at this Panama Exposition. I think every citizen of the State would prefer to see our State represented in a style to be in keeping with the position of the State and for that reason, I think it is very unwise to reduce the appropriation. If it is not necessary, it will not be expended. If we thought for a moment that the exhibit we had at the Inter-State Exhibition at Buffalo a few years ago should be duplicated, I think that any gentleman of the House would blush with shame and especially if he were to go to the Panama Exposition and see a display similar to the one we had at Buffalo. Thirty-five thousand dollars was appropriated to build a log-cabin. I hope the members of the House will consider this very carefully before they reduce the amount of the appropriation.

Mr. MATT. Mr. Speaker, I find that the expositions of the past have had in the neighborhood of three hundred thousand dollars appropriated. In the Louisana Purchase Exposition there was three hundred thousand dollars appropriated. The gentleman has referred to the Buffalo Exposition, that only thirty-five thousand dollars was appropriated at that time and there is a vast difference between thirty-five thousand dollars and four hundred and fifty thousand dollars. Further, I wish to state that the Governor of the State of California vetoed a bill for their own state, and why should we appropriate four hundred and fifty thousand dollars when we certainly can put up a good showing for three hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

Mr. C. A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I hope that this House will vote to give four hundred and fifty thousand dollars, as it should.

Pennsylvania today is one of the largest and only second to none of the best states in this Union. New York gave last year seven hundred thousand dollars through their Legislature, and the other week they again gave an additional two hundred thousand dollars which is a total of nine hundred thousand dollars which was recommended by the Governor of New York, Mr. Sulzer. Our place, our building at the exposition, is next to the New York State building. We should have a building there that will compare favorably aside the New York State building. Ohio and Illinois I have been informed will give liberally between four and five hundred thousand dollars and why should Pennsylvania give less. I hope and I trust that this House will vote for the full amount recommended, four hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

Mr. MATT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Columbia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Columbia, Mr. C. A. Shaffer, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. C. A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. MATT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman whether he is a member of this commission.

Mr. C. A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I am.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Chairman of the Appropriation Committee.

THE SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Jefferson, Mr. North, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the Chairman of the Appropriation Committee how much was appropriated two years ago for the commission which has this matter in charge?

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, my recollection is fifty thousand dollars. Something like twelve thousand dollars reported here was used or expended.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, early in this session, it was deemed wise for the members of this House to inquire into the matter of the commission which had been appointed for the purpose of laying out the plans for this Pan-American Exposition, to be held in San Francisco. Under the provisions of the resolution which passed the houses two years ago, a commission was authorized to act. Upon the authority given, such commission was appointed and upon that commission quite a number were named, very few, however, representing either the Senate or the House. The great majority of the Commission being private citizens; it seemed to be, in the appointments, a matter of mere preference in handling up a nice junketing expedition to those who were amply able to pay for the same and it so appealed to the members of this House that upon the slight information they had early in the session a request was made for a full report of that commission. The request was dated the tenth day of February of this year, and it appears on the page 230, 231 and 232 of the House Journal. I question very much if any members of the House have looked into the record which was filed at that time, but being of vital importance in conjunction with the bill which is now under consideration, it seems to me that the members of this House, before acting on or deciding upon this bill, fixing the amount which shall be provided for further junketing and further expeditions of this kind, that the matter of the report ought to be given some consideration by them. I feel that it would not be proper to attempt to digest this whole matter at this time. I feel that the responsibility of the same should not fall upon any individual member because I think the members of this House, before giving their vote, should feel better satisfied as to how much money that commission should have charge of to handle and do as it sees fit with in connection with this Pan-American proposition. I therefore, move you that further action on this bill be postponed for the present.

The SPEAKER. There is an amendment before the House.

HOUSE BILL NO. 1383 MADE A SPECIAL ORDER.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, my motion would carry the amendment with it. I will renew my motion and add that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present and that it be made a special order for next Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Whereupon, a division was called for, 64 gentlemen voting in the affirmative and 44 in the negative,

The motion was agreed to.

The bill as amended was then agreed to.

HOUSE BILL NO. 1459 MADE A SPECIAL ORDER.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following motion:

The motion was read by the Clerk as follows:

Moved by Mr. Humes, seconded by Mr. Allen, that House Bill No. 1459, file folio 7705, entitled:

An Act fixing the number compensation mileage and duties of the officers and employes of the House of Representatives and providing for their election or appointment and manner of filling vacancies on page 9 of to-day's calendar, Bills on third reading postponed for the present be made a special order for Monday evening next at 9.00 o'clock.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL PLACED ON CALENDAR.

Mr. HERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following motion:

The motion was read by the Clerk as follows:

Moved by Mr. Herman, seconded by Mr. Showalter, that the Committete on Railroads be discharged from further consideration of House Bill No. 1296, entitled:

An Act requiring certain railroad tunnels to be ventilated and providing a penalty for violation and that the bill be placed upon the calendar.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. S B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I beg to interrogate the maker of this motion.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Wyoming permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HERMAN. Mr. Speaker, certainly.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman what this bill is and why the committee should be discharged.

Mr. HERMAN. Mr. Speaker, this bill is a bill that I offered on March 12th, that makes it compulsory for railroads to ventilate certain tunnels. All the new tunnels that the railroads are building at the present time are ventilated in such a manner as to carry off the gas and smoke. In my county we have long tunnels and on account of the smoke and gas it is a nuisance to anybody who has to ride through, to say nothing of the men out on the engine and the men that have to work in that tunnel. I introduced this bill on the 12th day of March and I have never been able to get it out of the committee and I now ask the House to support this motion. I do not mean, gentlemen, to show any discourtesy to this committee whatever, though I have talked with the chairman of this committee several times relative to this matter and always with the same result.

Mr. EWING. Mr. Speaker, some time ago I notified the gentleman that we would consider this bill and he stated at the time not to do anything about it until I heard from him. I never heard anything about it until the other day he came to me and asked about the bill and told us he was undecided about asking to have it reported out on account of the General Utilities Bill covering all that he asked for.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

The SPEAKER (George E. Alter) in the Chair.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. EWING. Mr. Speaker, I make the point of order that it takes 60 votes to get this bill out of committee.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The Chair withdraws his decision.

The question recurring,

A rising vote was taken and 71 members or more than the number required by the rule having voted in the affirmative, the motion was agreed to.

SENATE MESSAGE.
RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented the following extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, May 27th, 1913

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That Senate Bill No. 120, entitled:

An Act regulating the pay election officers and clerks at certain elections hereafter held within this Commonwealth be recalled from the House for the purpose of further amendment.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the House of Representaties for concurrence.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the resolution?
It was concurred in.
Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of H. R. bill No. 1609, entitled:

A joint resolution providing for the appointment of a commission to investigate the condition of the canal formerly owned by the Susquehanna Canal Company and making an appropriation therefor

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?
Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken, and were as follows, viz:

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary of the Governor being introduced, presented communications in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which were read as folllows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 1038.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 23, 1913.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1038, entitled:

"An Act authorizing the appointment of a commission to promote the agricultural industries of this Commonwealth and making an appropriation therefor."

This bill is intended to promote the agricultural industries of the State by investigation and suggestion, with a view of developing the fertility of the soil.

These subjects are commendable, but they are within the scope of the duties of the Secretary of Agricultural, and the Board of Agriculture, and in my opinion can be as well performed by those officials as by the creation of a separate commission.

For this reason the bill is not approved.

(Signed) JOHN K. TENER.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the communication will be laid upon the table. The Chair hears none and it is so ordered.

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 1191.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 21, 1913.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1191, entitled:

'An Act to amend sections five hundred and forty and five hundred and forty-one of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven, entitled 'An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith.'"

Aside from the question of unconstitutionality, I am not convinced that the amendments proposed to be made in the school code by this bill will operate to the advantage of the public school system established by that act.

For this reason the bill is not approved

(Signed) JOHN K. TENER.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the communication will be laid upon the table. The Chair hears none and it is so ordered.

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 398.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 23, 1913.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 398, entitled:

"An Act to require the reporting by physicians to the State Registrar of Vital Statistics of certain occupational diseases and making a violation of its provisions a misdemeanor and providing penalties for violations thereof."

This bill imposes certain duties upon the State Board of Health, which Board has not been in existence since 1905.

For this reason the bill is not approved.

(Signed) JOHN K. TENER.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the communication will be laid upon the table. The Chair hears none and it is so ordered.

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 1316.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 22, 1913.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1316, entitled:

"An Act permitting building associations or other corporations whose charters have expired or whose affairs have been wound up to satisfy mortgages."

A similar bill was vetoed in 1911. I then said:

"In my judgment, the summary provisions of this bill are objectionable. The proper method to be pursued for the satisfaction of the mortgages referred to, would be by judicial proceedings after proper notice and hearing, as required by the Act of June 11, 1879, (P. L. 141)."

I know of no reason to change the views therein expressed.
For these reasons the bills is not approved.

(Signed) JOHN K. TENER.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the communication will be laid upon the table. The Chair hears none and it is so ordered.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I offer the follownig motion: The motion was read by the Clerk as follows:

Moved by Mr. Rockwell, seconded by Mr. Cochran, that the vote by which House Bill 1955 (Senate Bill 155), was defeated on final passage on May 20, be reconsidered.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion??
Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, this is the bill to which I raised some objections last week in relation to the discharging of defendants arrested in desertion cases. The Senator who is the sponsor of this bill seems to think that we gentlemen do not understand the bill, and preferred that we have it reconsidered and then recommitted to the Judiciary General Committee for a hearing.
The question recurring,
Will the House agree to the motion?
It was agreed to.
The question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General.
Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.
The motion was agreed to.

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do not adjourn.
The motion was agreed to, and at 7:05 P. M. the House adjourned to meet tomorrow morning at 10:00 o'clock.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA.

Legislative Journal.

Session 1913 120th of the General Assembly

VOL. 2. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, MAY 28, 1913. No. 74.

SENATE.

WEDNESDAY, May 28, 1913.

The Senate met at 10 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. D. P. Gerberich) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. A. C. James, offered the following prayer:

All Thy works are done in truth, Oh Lord, Thou hast granted unto us another day of lease upon this earthly dwelling. We know not how soon our tenure of life shall expire. We pray that Thou wilt grant unto us wisdom to choose the right, the pure, the good. We pray that Thou wilt grant unto us strength to face life's responsibilities and to bear its burdens. We pray that Thou wilt grant unto us Thy presence as we experience life's various vicissitudes. And now may the grace of Jesus Christ, the love of God and the fellowship of the Holy Ghost abide with us all evermore. Amen.

The PRESIDENT—A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. DAIX, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING CONTINUANCE OF COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE AND EXAMINE LAWS RELATING TO RECORDING OF DEEDS, MORTGAGES, ETC.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The resolution was twice read as follows:

Whereas, In compliance with a concurrent resolution approved May 12, 1911, a commission of five persons was appointed by the Governor on December 20, 1911, to investigate and examine the various laws now in effect in the different States relating to the recording of deeds, mortgages, the transfer of lands, the insurance of titles, and the practical operation of such laws, and to propose such changes in the Constitution and laws of this Commonwealth as to insure the best system of recording; and

Whereas, the said Commission made a report to the present Legislature recommending an amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania and also recommending that the said Commission be continued because of the necessity that the reform is one that should not be made without exhaustive research and deliberation, and that the subject should be referred for further consideration and report, if deemed wise by the Legislature, pending action upon the proposed Constitutional amendment, so that progress in other States of the Union may be observed and a carefully prepared scheme of legislation creditable to our great State may be ready for submission; therefore, be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That the present Commission to investigate and examine the various laws now in effect in the various States relating to recording of deeds, mortgages, the transfer of lands, the insurance of titles, and the practical operation of such laws, and to propose such changes in the Constitution and laws of this Commonwealth as to insure the best system of recording, be authorized to continue its work and make report and recommendations to the next General Assembly, in 1915, and that the expenses therefor be limited to $3,000 or so much thereof as may be necessary, and that the same be provided for in the next General Appropriation bill; and be it

Further Resolved, That all the powers conferred upon said Commission under Resolution of May 12, 1911, authorizing the appointment of said Commission, are hereby continued.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I move that Rule 39 be suspended in order to consider the resolution just read.

Mr. KLINE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WEDNESDAY, May 28th, 1913.

The House met at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (George E. Alter) in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. J. E. Wright, offered the following prayer:

O God, we lift our eyes and our hearts to Thee in loving adoration and in grateful praise. As Thou hast kept us through the night, wilt Thou graciously guard us and keep us throughout the day. We pray especially for Thy blessing upon us in connection with our work. May no spirit of self indulgence possess us today, no love of ease, no dread of opposition, no fear of shame. May we earnestly desire to know Thy will, and then earnestly do it. Wherein we make mistake, do Thou graciously pity and correct our errors, and if we wander from the way, do Thou in mercy bring us back. Lead us in the paths of righteousness for Thy name sake. May we be steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, for as much as we know that our work is not in vain in the Lord. We ask it in the name of Him who taught us to say:

"Our Father, who art in Heaven, hallowed be Thy name; Thy Kingdom come, Thy will be done, on earth, as it is in Heaven; give us this day our daily bread, and forgive our debts as we forgive our debtors; lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil, for Thine is the Kingdom, the power and the glory, forever, Amen.

The SPEAKER: The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when, on motion of Mr. Barner, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal was approved.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. AMBLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up House Bill No. 1652, File Folio 8103, bills on third reading postponed for the present, on page 30 of today's calendar.

Agreeably to order.

The House resumed the consideration on Third Reading of H. R. Bill No. 1652, entitled:

An Act to amend section twelve of an act entitled "An Act to provide for the more effectual protection of the public health in the several municipalities of this Commonwealth" approved the eighteenth day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five providing that all principals or other persons in charge of schools are hereby required to refuse admission of any child to the school or schools under their charge or supervision except upon a certificate signed by a physician legally qualified to practice medicine setting forth that such child has been successfully vaccinated or that it has previously had smallpox whenever and for a period of twenty-one days after the health authorities of the city borough township or municipality within which such school or schools are located or the State Commissioner of Health shall have given written or printed notice to the said principals or other persons in charge of schools as aforesaid that smallpox (variola or varioloid) exists within dangerous proximity to such schol or schools said notice to contain the name and location of the person or persons afflicted with the disease and said notice to be renewable so long as smallpox (variola or varioloid) continues to exist within dangerous proximity to such school or schools and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the author explain the purpose of the bill.

Mr. AMBLER. Mr. Speaker, this is a bill that passed the Legislature of 1907 by a vote of 110 to 2. It also passed the Legislatures of 1909 and 1911 by a vote of 109 to 4. It went over to the Senate. This bill is not an anti-vaccination bill; on the contrary, it is a bill that provides for the exclusion of unvaccinated children from schools. It is a compromise bill and it allows compulsory vaccination when there is smallpox in close proximity to school. The bill has passed the last few sessions and I hope it will pass this one.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—1.

Carson,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Mr. SCHUCK: Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up from page 30 of today's Calendar, House Bill No. 1763, bills on third reading postponed for the present.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on Third Reading of H. R. bill No. 1763, entitled:

> An Act relating to electric cars and requiring the operators thereof to turn out the search-light when approaching other vehicles et cetera and prescribing the penalties for violations

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MILLER: Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER: Will the gentleman from Westmoreland permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SCHUCK: I will.

Mr. MILLER: Dos the term "vehicle" in this bill include motor vehicles?

Mr. SCHUCK: Motor vehicles?

Mr. MILLER: Yes, automobiles

Mr. SCHUCK: It applies to street cars and electric cars only.

Mr. MILLER: As I read the bill it says that a street car in approaching a vehicle must turn off the light. Does the term "vehicle" mean automobiles?

Mr. SCHUCK: It does.

Mr. MILLER. Then, Mr. Speaker, this bill to my mind seems ridiculous. There is hardly a pike in Pennsylvania where there are not automobiles traveling almost incessantly at night, and if the traction car is compeled to turn out the light every time it meets an automobile, then there will be no light at all, and the provision is ridiculous in itself. I thoroughly agree with the theory of the bill, but when the light is blinding to cattle and horses there would be some reason for turning out the light. Between Allentown and Bethlehem automobiles are traveling nearly all the time, and if this bill passes we are going to have trolley cars running there without lights. It will amount to that because there is hardly a moment at night, in the early hours of the night, that an automobile is not traveling along there.

Mr. RUNK: Mr. Speaker, I do not think the gentleman from Allentown understands what he is talking about. I was superintendent of an electric railway for some time and I established the system of putting a searchlight on the cars in our locality. We had that difficulty with the searchlights, and I also put a red light on each car. It was required that that be done. We had no accidents. When the car aproached a vehicle they turned out the arc light and still had the red light to show the car. The car cannot get off the track and the automobile can, and this bill would cause no hardship to a trolley line whatever. They have two lights, the arc light or search light, and the red light. You could turn off the arc light, and still have the red light burning. I think it is the duty of the House to pass this bill.

Mr. ALLEN: Mr. Speaker, like the gentleman from Cumberland who last spoke, I have had some connection with street car work. The purpose of a light on a car is two fold, first, that the person on the highway, or on the right of way of the street car line may note the approach of the car, and secondly, that those in charge of the car may note any object which appears on the track, to prevent doing damage to it. With the street car facilities being extend over those routes which can be traversed, we now find almost every avenue throughout the land is either paralleled by or run over by a street car line for the reason that highways as a rule reach thickly populated points. Now, to say that a car would have to turn out its light whenever it met a vehicle approaching would be absolutely absurd, it would be ridiculous. When this bill appeared first upon the calendar, I thought the bill was a joke, like a good many other bills that find their way into the House. It is up to the point now when the members are called upon to exercise their judgment in relation to the matter. Those who are interested in protecting the lives and interests of those traveling the highways in vehicles or on foot, if thy are desirous of protecting those interests, they will vote against this bill. If they have any consideration for those who use the cars as a means of travel, they will vote against this bill for the reason that oftentimes it is very dangerous to the passengers on the car if it should strike some object and be derailed, or turn turtle and leave the track and crash into a bank, thereby doing vast injury, as sometimes is the case. We should both protect the persons who passengers on the car lines and the persons traveling the highways. You ought to give them all the protection you can, and all the light that you can. This bill should not receive an affirmative vote of a single member of this house.

Mr. SCHUCK: Mr. Speaker, I am not going to get excited or alarmed about this bill. If you think it is a good proposition to turn out the searchlight when approaching vehicles, then vote for the bill. If you don't believe that it is, then vote against it.

There are many cases in this State where public highways parallel trolley lines, and many cases where the companies have equipped their cars with searchlights. There have been cases where a third vehicle could not see the approach of the second vehicle, not the street car, on account of the blinding light on the street car. It is to prevent that very thing that this bill was introduced. Most of the cars are equipped with a red light, or rather an incandescent light, and that is for the purpose of snapping out the search light. It is now being done in Harrisburg and in many other places. In places where they don't have to do it, they don't do it. If you think it is a good proposition to give the public this protection, then vote for the bill, but if you think it is not a good proposition to turn out this search light when a car is approaching a vehicle then vote against it.

The question recurring.

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on Third Reading of H. R. bill No. 113, as follows:

A Supplement to an act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven entitled "An Act to restrain and regulate the sale of vinous and spirituous malt or brewed liquors or any admixture thereof"

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That it shall be unlawful for any person licensed to sell vinous spirituous malt or brewed liquors or any admixture thereof at retail or any employee of a person or corporation so licensed to receive payment from any person for such liquors furnished to or drank by another person upon the premises

Section 2 This act shall not be construed to prohibit the payment by one person of liquor drank by another in connection with a meal served in the regular dining room of a hotel

Section 3 Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars and in default of payment of the fine imposed shall undergo an imprisonment in the county jail of not less than ninety days nor more than six months

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third rearing?

Mr. H. B. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendment for information.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend Section two, by striking from the end thereof, the words "served in the regular dining-room of a hotel."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment? Is there any objection?

Objection has been made to the giving of unanimous consent.

Mr. H. B. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House go into Committee of the Whole for the purpose of special amendment.

Mr. SWIFT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

Whereupon, a division was called for, and 65 gentlemen voting in the affirmative and 46 in the negative.

The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Rockwell, will kindly act as chairman of the Committee of the Whole.

Mr. ROCKWELL in the Chair.

The CHAIRMAN. The Committee of the Whole House having under consideration House Bill No. 113, for the purpose of special amendment, the Clerk will again read the amendment, offered by Mr. H. B. Dunn.

The Clerk then again read the amendment as follows:

Amend Section two by striking from the end thereof the words "served in the regular dining-room of a hotel."

On the question,

Will the Committee of the Whole House agree to the amendment offered by the gentleman from Huntingdon, Mr. Dunn?

Mr. H. B. DUNN. Mr. Chairman. The whole intent of this amendment is not to allow treating to be done in any connection whether taken in the dining room of a hotel or any other place. As the bill stands now it only allows treating in the dining room of a hotel. The amendment if passed strikes out the hotel part and allows treating to be done in connection with a meal at any place under any circumstances and, therefore, it seems to me, the amendment should pass.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman explain to me what the difference is between a man treating in a bar-room and treating when eating a meal—where is the distinction?

The CHAIRMAN. Does the gentleman from Allegheny desire to interrogate the gentleman from Huntingdon?

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Chairman, that is my interrogation.

The CHAIRMAN. Will the gentleman from Huntingdon, Mr. Dunn, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. H. B. DUNN. Mr. Chairman, I didn't hear the question. Will the gentleman talk louder?

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Chairman, I desire to ask the gentleman what is the moral difference between treating in a bar-room and treating in a dining room?

Mr. H. B. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I am not an expert at treating and, therefore, I cannot answer that question.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Chairman, if the gentleman is not up on the subject of treating, how does he know that treating is bad at all.

Mr. H. B. DUNN. Mr. Chairman, if that is the interrogation, I know that treating is bad from what I have seen in hotels and outside of hotels.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Chairman, if treating be bad in hotels as well as outside, then certainly this provision relative to treating ought to have been made as broad as possible. The only restriction which was placed on it in the original bill which was re-written after having been introduced in this House away back in January and kept on the second reading calendar for weeks and months and then re-written again and then put on third reading calendar and finally was put on special order, and now it dawns on the sponsors of the bill that it is too narrow as it was presented to this House when finally it only limited or rather limited treating to meals in hotels only. It seemed that the people who were willing that the restriction should stand in this bill are the people who say that treating should not be allowed anywhere. I mean, Mr. Chairman, that the people who wanted to broaden that limitation are the people who say that treating should not be allowed anywhere. The people who were willing to have it restricted in hotels alone are the people who say that treating ought not to go on anywhere. The question of the gentleman in relation to not being an authority on treating but still saying that treating is bad I believe is rather correct.

It shows clearly in his endeavor to have stricken out of this bill one of the very things which the bill would reach. Under the original bill, mark you, no one could treat anywhere save at a meal which was being served in a hotel. Now then, if a man wants to treat at a meal that is being served anywhere, he has a perfect right under this bill. If the gentleman is convinced that it ought not to be limited to the service in hotels, but ought to be extended to a service that is being made anywhere, perhaps he will finally be enlightened and be convinced as I am convinced that if it is good at one place it is good even at the bar itself. The amendment ought not to be allowed to stand as it was originally prepared, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Will the committee of the whole agree to the amendment?

A division was called for, 63 voting in the affirmative and 78 in the negative.

And the amendment was not agreed to.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, I move that the committee of the Whole do now rise and report back to the House.

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. (George E. Alter) in the chair.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, as Chairman of the committee of the Whole, I report back to the House, House Bill No. 113, without amendment.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the committee of the Whole?

It was adopted.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. H. B. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, this bill is called by its enemies a "liquor bill." I deny that it is a liquor bill in the sense of the term in which they use it. The bill was not gotten up by the Anti-Saloon League. It was not gotten up by the W. C. T. U. It was not gotten up by any organization supposed to represent the temperance organization. The bill was gotten up by the gentleman who addresses you, and if it is backed by the Anti-Saloon League, I do not know it. The fact of the matter is, gentleman, that it would not be backed by the Anti-Saloon League because if there is anythink that the Anti-Saloon League do know, if they know anything, it is that the treating habit is a habit that is ringing the death-knell of the liquor interests in the State of Pennsylvania. That is what is bringing an odium upon the business. You could not blame the temperance organizations if they were against this bill. You could hardly blame them if they were looking at it from a selfish point of view, because they know, or should know, that if this anti-treating bill should pass, the chances are that the real bona-fide liquor business would be allowed to continue for many years to come longer than it would be if treating is allowed to go on. You all know what I mean about treating. I was down here one night at the Columbus and saw twenty men sitting around a round table, and they spent about forty dollars before they got through. There were men there in that crowd who did not want to treat, but they were afraid of being considered mean and stingy if they did not treat.

The consequence was that some of them went out drunk and the balance of them went out broke. They will no doubt tell us that the bill if passed could not be enforced. I say, Mr. Speaker, that it could be enforced as well as any other bill, but it does not matter, gentlemen, whether it could be enforced or not. As the gentlemen from Erie said the other day about the garnishee bill, it is the moral sentiment back of it which would help out in this matter and keep young and thirsty men from getting drunk. They consider that they must be treated, also that they must treat, and if they have a dollar in their pocket, they want to treat a dollar and a half's worth and trust for the balance, and go home drunk and go home broke as I said before. Now, Mr. Speaker, I want to say this: That this bill in my opinion should be passed in the interest of the young man coming on today in this State. You will hear great speeches made in favor of the local option bill and the prohibition bill. The organizations known as temperance organizations, the churches and individuals are doing the best they can to keep the young man coming on in this state from taking his first drink. They are all after them and saying: "Do not touch, taste or handle." But, Mr. Speaker, no one looks after the moderate drinker. No one looks after the boy who is going to take a drink, because you know as well as I that cannot be done by those organizations or by the churches. There are ten to twenty thousand men coming on the threshhold of manhood today who will take a drink. Now then, if that is the case we must admit the fact—what we want today is not so much, so far as we are concerned, taking care of the young man who never will take a drink, whose influences surrounding him are such as will prevent him from taking one, as to help out the young man who will take a drink, but who doesn't want to get drunk thereafter. I was approached by a young man of this place the other day, a barber in this city. He did not know that I was the sponsor of this bill and he spoke to me about it and said he hoped this bill would pass.

He told me about a young man in this town who likes to go in and take a drink, and likes to go in and take a drink every day, and can go out and leave it alone. But sometimes he runs into a crowd of fellows who sit down and they treat and he feels that he is mean and stingy if he does not treat, though he does not want to treat, but he is compelled to do so by the force of custom to treat. The consequence is that he spends all of his money and gets drunk and stays drunk for a week.

I have been spoken to by men around this House, not members of the House, members of the departments here, members who are high up in their positions, who have spoken to me in regard to the bill and hoped that it would go through. I have letters from different people in this State in this respect. The fact of the matter is that the best hotel keepers and the best bartenders in this State are for this bill. Some of them have dared to express themselves. Others have not done so for fear of losing their positions, but I feel confident that if they could do so without its being known, that they would express themselves in favor of it. Now, then, Mr. Speaker, as I stated, I want you, by passing this bill, if you will do so, to go into the bar, in front of the bar, along with anyone whom you wish, put your hand upon the young man's shoulder and say, "Drink if you will, but you are not to be tempted by the bartender or by anyone else to take more drinks than you need." As I said, the temperance organizations and the churches have got to stay out. They can follow the young man to the door of the hotel, but they cannot go in there.

They would not be permitted to do so; it would not be proper for them to do so; but if this bill passes, Mr. Speaker then we can say to the young man, "You are safe to go into a hotel; you are safe to go into a bar and ask for a drink, and the bartender will not wink if someone treats you and you do not treat him." For that reason, Mr. Speaker, I ask you to pass this bill, and believe if you do you will never regret it.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen, this bill, like many others of its kind, has been thoroughly debated in this House and I am satisfied that all the arguments that all of us could produce would not change a single vote, because we know that when a man is thirsty he wants a drink and not a speech and vice versa is also true.

Now, my friends, we all know that all law depends for its enforcement upon the moral approval of the people of the State. If the people do not want a law enforced it cannot be enforced by all the machinery known to law; and if the moral sentiments of the State stand for a certain condition, no law is necessary to work out the will of the people.

Now, gentlemen we all know—let us be fair and honest with each other—that there are many men in this House who would prefer not to vote upon this question. There are men who will vote against the treating and who will go out and have a laugh to themselves and will proceed to forthwith treat all their friends and acquaintances. Now, therefore, my friends, I believe that the fair and honorable thing to do would be to save the time of this House and save the patience of members in listening to speeches and for that purpose, Mr. Speaker, I move you that this bill be stricken from the calendar.

Mr. GANS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

Mr. MATT. Mr. Speaker, I call for the yeas and nays.

Mr. MOSES I second the call.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would call the attention of the gentlemen to the fact that he may be substituting two roll calls for one.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that the suggestion of the Chair is a very proper thought. We might just as well vote on the bill and save two roll calls if the mover will withdraw his motion.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, I am willing to withdraw the motion.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. JAMES A. DUNN: Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER: The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. JAMES A. DUNN: Mr. Speaker, on May 7th, during the debate on the State Civil Service Bill, I read to this House a copy of a letter from a reputable citizen of Philadelphia to his Honor, the Mayor of Philadelphia, making certain charges and presenting facts in regards to an examination held in Philadelphia for the Chief Clerk of the Civil Service Commission, charging corruption in the marking of those examination papers. On May 22nd the gentleman from Philadelphia, under a question of personal privilege, had placed on record a letter supposed to be signed by the President of the Civil Service Commission of Philadelphia, which apparently places me in the light of presenting to this House a letter containing charges that we absolutely and unqualifiedly false, also attacking the truthfulness and integrity of a reputable citizen of Philadelphia. To enlighten the members of the House (I would like to have a little order, because this is a very important matter to me), to enlighten the members of the House, I will try to relate to you the procedings in regard to the question of personal privilege raised by the gentleman from Philadelphia on last Thursday. He rose to a question of personal privilege and presented a letter to this House, the letter supposed to be signed by the President of the Civil Service Commission of Philadelphia, in regard to a letter that I had read which had been sent to the Mayor of Philadelphia regarding certain practices in the Examining Board and charging corruption. When the gentleman from Philadelphia asked consent to have his letter placed on record, I offered objections, my objections were overruled, and by a motion the letter was placed on record. Immediately after the motion was passed, and was so decided by the Chair, the Chief Clerk of the House, in looking over the letter, discovered there was no signature whatever attached to the letter. He called the Chair's attention to it, and the Chair called the attention of the gentleman from Philadelphia who presented the letter to this House to the fact that the letter at the time was accepted by this House and put on record had no date nor signature, and appeared in the form of an anonymous letter. Now, on the record I find that it has the signature of the President of the Civil Service Commission of Philadelphia attached to it. How did the name get on there after it went on the records of the House as an anonymous communication excepting that somebody put the name of the President of the Civil Service Commission to that communication, which is on record at the present time. Therefore, gentlemen of the House, the reason I rise to this question of personal privilege is that I had no knowledge at the time of what was contained in the letter, and had no opportunity to reply to it on last Thursday. I had no knowledge of what was contained in it until I came back here on Monday night, and found that it was printed in the record. But the Press of our great Commonwealth received a copy of that letter and within a few hours flashed it all over this country. One of the head lines was "Walnut repudiates Dunn on Record." That is personal, and I want to clear myself as a representative in this House in regard to this question of personal privilege. I have the letter here and for the benefit of the House will read that letter.

No. 1615 North Sixty-first Street,
Philadelphia, May 26, 1913.

Mr. James A. Dunn,
House of Representatives, Harrisburg, Pa.

Dear Sir:—I noticed in the Legislative Journal the letter of the Civil Service Commission to Mayor Blankenburg wherein they brand as "unqualifiedly false" the charges contained in my letter to the Mayor which was read by you in the Legislature.

I regret that you should thus be placed in the position of having seemingly published charges that were unfounded, and in order to place you right I wish to state that after the above letter was written to the Mayor by the Commission, I wrote to him and offered to prove certain specific occurrences which seemed to me to prove fraud and favoritism. This letter seems to have been "lost in the shuffle," as no attention was paid to it, and it was carefully excluded from the correspondence spread upon the Legislative Record.

This is what I offered to prove: That the opinions as to Mitchell's eligibility from a standpoint of residence were based upon the assumption that he told the truth when he said that he took up his residence at 5315 Walton Avenue on February 26, 1912, and that it was then his intention to permanently reside here, regardless of whether he passed the examination or not. As a matter of fact, he moved his household goods and his family from Riverton, New Jersey, to 806 Highland Avenue, this city, on or about May 2d, after he had been appointed and two months after the examination in which a Philadelphia residence was an essential qualification

The Commission showed precipitous haste in making the appointment the day after the list was published, and utterly ignored my charge that Mitchell did not live at the address he gave.

The examination was divided into two parts, viz: Written and oral. After the papers for the written part had been marked, those who had successfully passed this portion were invited to come in for the oral test. The first part of the examination was then a closed incident. But after the oral test had been held, Mitchell's original mark for experience, already the highest given to any of the competitors, was made higher by changing it from 94.8 to 95. The papers of no other competitor were altered after the oral test. Here are the marks that were given Mitchell by one of the examiners in the oral test:

Character and disposition,	Excellent.
Address,	Excellent.
Manners,	Excellent.
Health,	Excellent.
Personal appearance,	Excellent.
Readiness, quickness, fluency,	Excellent.
Judgment,	Excellent.
Discretion (tact),	Excellent.
Resourcefulness,	Excellent.
Command of English,	Excellent.
Accuracy of Information,	Excellent.
Experience and business capacity,	Excellent.
Oral language,	Excellent.

Even with this it was found, although he had been given a much higher mark for experience than any other competitor, and had been given the highest attainable mark by one of the examiners, in the oral test, that Mitchell was number two. It was then that his original mark for experience was made higher and it could only have been done by collusion between one of the examiners and one or more of the Commissioners.

I desire to absolve Mr. Walnut, Mr. Hanson, and Mr. Godwin from all guilty knowledge in connection with this examination. These gentlemen were in no way connected with the fraudulent features of the matter and I feel that they sincerely believe that the examination was properly conducted. But consider these facts:

A non-resident was admitted to an examination in which a bona fide residence was an essential qualification.

He was given by far the highest mark for experience, a matter entirely at the discretion of the examiners.

He was then given by one of the examiners, one who knew him and who had worked with him for a number of years, a perfect mark in all of the thirteen branches of the oral test.

And after all this, it was found that he was number two on the list, and then his original mark for experience, already absurdly high, was made higher.

Yours very truly,
(Signed,) JOSEPH FLAHERTY.

Now the letter which Mr. Flaherty speaks of, I will read to you.

Philadelphia, August 13th, 1912.

Honorable Rudolph Blankenburg,
Mayor of Philadelphia.

Dear Sir:—I have read the reply of the Civil Service Commission to the charges contained in my letter to you of July 12th, and will endeavor to prove, by a statement of occurrences which must have been marvelous, if accidental, that my charges are not "unqualifiedly false."

Despite the Commission's denial, the date "tentatively" set for the Examination for Office Manager and Chief Clerk was set back two weeks. Whether or not this was done to allaw Mr. Mitchell time to establish a residence is out surmise on my part and is not susceptible of proof, but the surmise is justified in the light of subsequent happenings.

The charges I make as to a change in the marks on Mr. Mitchell's papers is specific, not general. There were numerous changes on the papers of all the applicants, but the change I refer to was made after the identity of all the applicants was known, and after it was known that Mr. Mitchell was number two on the list. It was not done openly. An effort was made to conceal the change. But the change in this mark necessitated the rubbing out of numerous other marks and the preparation of a new "completed average sheet" for Mitchell. This is written in entirely different typewriting from the computation sheet of all the other applicants. If the Commission will produce the papers and answer this question I put to them, I will prove to your satisfaction that this change was made after the identity of the applicants was known and for the purpose of making Mitchell No. 1 on the list.

The opinions as to the eligibility of Mitchell from a standpoint of residence are based upon the assumption that Mitchell told the truth when he said that he moved here to 5313 Walton Avenue on February 26 of that it was then his intention to permanently reside in Philadelphia thereafter. There must be no contingency. That his intention to reside here was dependent upon his passing this examination and receiving the appointment is conclusively proven by the fact that he did not move his family and furniture to Philadelphia until he was appointed and this was two and a half months after he filed his application in which he swore he was a resident of Philadelphia and lived at 5313 Walton Avenue. The neighbors of the occupants of 5315 Walton Avenue declare that he did not live there and that he and his wife and child stopped there two nights about February 26th and then went away.

Now, as to the oral test. Mitchell received 92 in this branch of the examination. The Commission points out the personal reputation and integrity of the examining board. In my previous letter you will note that I charged but one member of this Board with being implicated in this "frame-up." The highest mark in the oral test was excellent. The following is a copy of the markings given Mitchell by one of the Board which conducted the oral test:

Character and disposition,	Excellent.
Personality,
Address,	Excellent.
Manners,	Excellent.
Health,	Excellent.
Personal appearance,	Excellent.
General Intelligence; (shown in conversation),
Readiness, quickness, fluency,	Excellent.
Judgment,	Excellent.
Discretion (tact),	Excellent.
Resourcefulness,	Excellent.
Command of English,	Excellent.
Accuracy of Information,	Excellent.
Experience and business capacity,	Excellent.
Oral language,	Excellent.

Doth not this indicate on the part of this particular examiner an intense desire to give Mitchell an "excellent" average? I can bring a number of gentlemen who have come in contact with Mr. Mitchell, he in his official capacity who will tell you that, in their opinion, he is utterly lacking in tact, judgment and maner, especially the latter.

I do not wish to enter into a personal controversy with the Commission as to myself, but will endeavor to prove to you, if given the opportunity, that rank injustice and favoritism characterized the conduct of the examination for Office Manager and Chief Clerk of the Commission.

With an expression of confidence and respect for you, I remain,

Very truly yours,
(Signed,) JOSEPH FLAHERTY.

In regard to this question, I think it is clear on the record and not only on the record but with regard to what is printed in the papers throughout this great Commonwealth. I was anxious to place it on the record. He was there on the ground when it happened and all we ask in regard to the charges that the Honorable Mayor of Philadelphia, whom we elected a reform Mayor would grasp the opportunity to eradicate all wrong that might possibly occur; to remove all charge of corruption that might be made of any citizen of ours and in order to relieve those charges presented to him in April last, 1912. But what did the Honorable Mayor of Philadelphia do? He did not take up the charges presented against a reputable citizen who asked for a hearing and when I presented a letter to this House and after showing the letter as to what work is being done in the County of Philadelphia, today that it was nothing but a farce when the appointing power would over-ride the rules of the Civil Service Commissioner to that particular office which he wants, no matter what kind of an average he would receive, if the appointing power didn't want you then it is impossible for you to be appointed to any position in the city of Philadelphia. Therefore, I say the Civil Service law as it is worked today in the city of Philadelphia, as it is proven today by the statements which I have submitted is nothing but a farce. When I presented in this House this letter, I did it with all confidence that the man who gave it to me was just as capable and just as strong in his character and was as pure as any Civil Service Comissioner who has been appointed in the City of Philadelphia. I say it was only because of a reflection on that man that I wanted to have it printed in the Journal something that every member of this House should know.

I tried to find out where the letter went so that I could see that letter. I went to the transcribing room and they informed me that when a motion was made to place a letter like that on the record, it didn't come through the transcribing room and therefore, it was merely a motion to place on the Legislative record, and the only way that a communication could be put in the Legislative Journal was merely for the information of the House and was not official, and the letter went directly, as they supposed, to the printer, instead of going through the regular process of the House. I went to the printer and the printer informed me that the letter was there and they would let me look at it, provided I got an order from the Chief Clerk of the House.

I want to say further my friends, that when we elected the Honorable Mayor in Philadelphia, while I was not one of a party to help to elect the Honorable Mayor of Philadelphia, but after he was elected, I pledged my support to do all I could and would try to help to see that his administration would prove successful. We thought when we elected a reform Mayor in Philadelphia that every thing in that great city, where a charge of corruption would be made, would have the attention of the Mayor who for thirty years or more has been active in any charges that were made as to corruption in a municipality and has magnified it. Last week this Honorable Mayor went out to Wisconsin and before that great University out there, as the Mayor of our city stated, my friends, that the people of Philadelphia were ignorant and were selfish. He is the last man in that great city who should make that charge. He went through that city for thirty years and he is the last man who should say that the good men of the city of Philadelphia are ignorant or selfish. That was spread all over this entire country, placing the great city of Philadelphia into the position all over this great country of ours, that we, the citizens of Philadelphia, are nothing but an ignorant and selfish class of people there. It was wrong on his part that the Mayor of the great municipality of Philadelphia, this city of ours when these charges were presented to him that he didn't take up the charges and clear up the commission, which has charge of that particular examination and then show everything to the world whether this man, this reputable citizen of Philadelphia, was stating the facts or not. Therefore, I ask my friends, the members of this House, in regard to this statement that has gone out whether or not, Dunn had a fair chance.

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to say that when this letter was presented to me, I read the letter and I knew what the letter contained. I had seen the original letter and I knew that it had been signed by the President of the Commission. The signature of the President of the Commission was, therefore, affixed to the letter by me after it had been delivered at the desk. I don't feel that this House is interested in any further discussion of the Civil Service Commission of Philadelphia or of any of the examinations and I therefore, merely wish to assure the House that to my personal knowledge none of the complaints made by the gentleman who failed to secure first place in examination are well founded or are worthy of consideration.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up House Bill No. 1789, file folio 8981, from to-day's calendar Bills on Final Passage postponed for the present.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on Final Passage of H. R. bill No. 1789, entitled:

An act regulating process pleading and practice in all civil cases whether at law in equity or in divorce or otherwise however hereafter brought in any court of common pleas of this Commonwealth and providing a complete system of procedure within the limits of the subject matter of this act

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer an amendment to this bill at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was then read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section three by transposing line 9 to the end of line 3.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment? The Chair hears no objection and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill be prepared for final passage.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up House Bill No. 1288, from today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of H. R. bill No. 1288, entitled:

An Act empowering cities of the first class to enact ordinances to regulate the discharge of smoke

On the question,

Shall the bill pass?

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, this bill was postponed for the purpose of correcting a printer's error. I am going to ask the House to pass upon the bill without that correction. If the bill lies over, I will not be able to get it through this week. I now call up the bill for the purpose of having it passed. It is merely a printer's error.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I note that in the Legislative Journal of May 21st, on page 3271, I am recorded as voting in favor of Senate Bill 882. As a matter of fact I was not in the House when the roll was called and I would like to have a record made of the correction.

The SPEAKER. The correction will be noted.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of H. R. bill No. 1254, entitled:

An Act making it a misdemeanor to solicit procure or induce a person to perform any act of adultery fornication buggery sodomy or any other unlawful unnatural sexual intercourse providing for the taking of finger prints of defendants convicted thereunder and of the admission of the records thereof in evidence

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass?

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, this is one of the bills that have been suggested by the Vice Commission in Philadelphia in order that the municipal authorities may better control one of the most serious questions that affect any municipality, namely, the vice question. Under our present law there is no very clear way in which the matter may be taken care of and controlled. Under the Act of 1871, which is the only act covering the question of solicitation, it is provided among the people who may be committed, that the authorities may commit a vagrant, a drunkard or a disorderly street walker. Under that act it has been found impossible, in view of the very decided conflict of opinion as to what those words mean, to secure a conviction of any one for solicitation upon the streets or in any public place.

There are further provisions in here covering certain unnatural crimes which are now almost out of reach of police authority.

I believe if this House is interested in the question of curbing this very vicious form of vice that this bill should be passed. If we are interested, however, in preserving certain forms of vice, why the House can vote this bill down. But I do not believe this House is interested for one minute in the attitude taken by certain gentlemen who appear to be more interested in opposing the District Attorney than in upholding his hands, in their opposition to this bill. I am satisfied also, and as a matter of interest to the House would say, that the original suggestion for this bill came from the District Attorney's office. I think that, perhaps, should answer some of the objections presented by the other gentlemen who are opposing this bill, that the bill is impracticable or unnecessary, but the District Attorney has found it necessary and has made this suggestion.

On the question recurrings,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of H. R. bill No. 1705, entitled:

> An Act making State taxes unpaid bonus interest penalties and all public accounts a lien upon the franchise and property of corporations companies associations joint stock associations and limited partnerships and relating to the entry continuance and satisfaction thereof providing for the furnishing of certificates relative to such liens and repealing certain acts

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. FORSTER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the further consideartion of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. CONRADE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 2011, Senate Bill No. 280, entitled:

> An Act for the protection of the public health by providing that persons firms or corporations who are operating or conducting hotels restaurants common cerriers and other public eating places in this Commonwealth shall not employ or keep in their employ as cooks waiters kitchen help chamber maids or other house servants any person or person who are suffering from or who are carriers of a communicable disease and further providing that no dishes pots pans finger bowls linens or other kitchen or dining room utensils shall be used or towels furnished in washrooms maintained in any hotel restaurant common carrier or public eating place except as provided in this Act and providing a penalty for violation thereof was defeated on Final Passage on Wednesday, May 21st, be reconsidered.

Mr. CURRY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, this is the Gerberich Bill for the protection of Public Health by providing that persons, firms or corporations who are operating or conducting hotels, restaurants, common carriers, etc., shall not employ, or keep in their employ, as cooks, waiters, kitchen help, etc., any person or persons who are suffering from, or who are carriers of a communicable disease. I would ask the House to reconsider this bill, and then I will offer amendments to the bill which I think will meet the objections of those who are opposed to the bill when it was up before the House last week.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SWIFT. Mr. Speaker, it is utterly impossible for us to hear in the back of the House what is being done.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, as I said before, this is the Gerberich Bill which provides as follows:

> An Act for the protection of the public health by providing that persons firms or corporations who are operating or conducting hotels restaurants common carriers and other public eating places in this Commonwealth shall not employ or keep in their employ as cooks waiters kitchen help chamber maids or other house servants any person or persons who are suffering from or who are carriers of a communicable disease and further providing that no dishes pots pans finger bowls linens or other kitchen or dining room utensils shall be used or towels furnished in washrooms maintained in any hotel restaurant common carrier or public eating place except as provided in this act and providing a penalty for violation thereof

The House has reconsidered the vote by which this bill was defeated, and I am now asking for a reconsideration of the vote by which it passed third reading in order that I might offer amendments to it to meet the objections of those who opposed the bill when it was up for final passage last week.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. RONEY: Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER: The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend Senate Bill No. 280 file folio No. 3267

Section No. 1 line 9 by inserting after the word "diseases" the words "providing that if any person or persons firm or corporation operating or conducting any hotel, restaurant, common carrier or other public eating place, shall have a medical inspection for their cooks, waiters, chamber maids, kitchen help and other house servants at regular intervals, at least twice a year, for the purpose of keeping such employees free from communicable disease, they shall be considered as complying with the provisions of this Section unless the communicable disease is plainly visible or unless notice has been served in writing upon the management of such hotel, restaurant, common carrier or other public eating place by a practicing physician or by the health authorities.

Amend Section No. 2 line 4 by striking out after the word "which" to the word "and" in line 5 and by inserting after the word "which" in line 4 the words "are kept in an unsanitary condition."

The SPEAKER: Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

The bill as amended was then agreed to on third reading.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

RECESS.

The SPEAKER: The hour of one o'clock having arrived, this House will now take a recess until three o'clock P. M.

AFTER RECESS.

The House reconvened at three o'clock.

The SPEAKER (George E. Alter) in the Chair.

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House bill No. 1678, entitled:

An Act prohibiting health or accident insurance companies associations or societies doing business in Pennsylvania from providing in their policies of insurance written or granted therein that benefits or insurance thereunder shall be payable only where the insured suffers or has suffered from a well defined disease or only where such insured person is or has been actually and necessarily confined to his or her bed

The first section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That from and after the passage of this act it shall be unlawful for any corporation unincorporated association or society whatsoever which now is or shall hereafter be engaged in the business in Pennsylvania of insuring persons against sickness or accidents and paying benefits or insurance to such persons or their beneficiaries because of disability on account of an accident or accidents or because of sickness or in either of said business to insert or permit to be inserted in their policies or agreements of insurance or indemnity issued or granted in said State any provision or requirement whereby the payment of the sum or sums payable under said policies or agreements shall be contingent upon the insured person being or having been actually and necessarily confined to his or her bed during the period of sickness or disability or upon the fact that he or she suffers or has suffered from a well defined disease it being the intention of this act to prohibit the writing in Pennsylvania of policies or agreements of health or accident insurance by the provisions of which no benefit or insurance is payable although the insured is incapacitated by sickness or disability from following his or her vocation such insured suffers or has suffered from a well defined disease or is or has been continuously confined to his or her bed

On the question,
Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. H. B. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Section 1 line 23 After the word "vocation" insert the word "unless"

On the question,
Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

The section as amended was then agreed to.

The second section and the title of the bill were separately read and agreed to as follows:

Section 2 No corporation unincorporated association or society whatsoever which now is or shall hereafter be engaged in the business of insuring persons in Pennsylvania against sickness or accidents and paying benefits to such persons or their beneficiaries because of sickness or because of disabality resulting from accidents shall be permitted to plead in any court of this Commonwealth or elsewhere in defence of an action which may be brought against it to recover any insurance benefit or benefits claimed to be due by it under any policy or agreement of insurance issued or granted by it in said State of any such provision or agreement as is prohibited by the first section of this act

An Act prohibiting health or accident insurance companies associations or societies doing business in Pennsylvania from providing in their policies of insurance written or granted therein that benefits or insurance thereunder shall be payable only where the insured suffers or has suffered from a well defined disease or only where such insured person is or has been actually and necessarily confined to his or her bed

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to, as amended.

Orere, To be transcribe for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

Resolved That such sum of money as may be specifically appropriated by an item in the general appropriation bill for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this resolution shall be paid on warrants of the Auditor General on the State Treasurer in favor of and upon the requisition of the president of the said Salisbury Memorial Commission to be accounted for by proper vouchers certified under the hands of the commission and filed with the Auditor General" and

Whereas, The Legislature of one thousand nine hundred and eleven failed to incorporate in the general appropriation bill any sum of money to carry into effect the provisions of this resolution

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the sum of twenty thousand dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary to carry into effect the provisions of the concurrent resolution aforesaid is hereby specifically appropriated from any money in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered. To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1967 (Senate No. 1050), entitled:

A joint resolution providing for the appointment of a commission to investigate into the causes of mine accidents in the anthracite coal regions of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania authorizing the commission to conduct experiments and tests and to enter mines fixing the compensation of the members of the commission and making an appropriation to carry into effect the provisions of this resolution

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2057 (Senate No. 1267), entitled:

An Act making a special appropriation for the purpose of continuing the work of the Economic Zoologist as provided for in this act entitled "An Act to provide for the protection of trees shrubs vines and plants against destructive insects and diseases providing for the enforcement of this act and the expenses connected therewith and fixing penalties for its violations" approved the thirty-first day of March Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and five

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

The SPEAKER. Mr. Kitts, by reason of having to go to attend a Conference Committee, asked unanimous consent to take up on page 17, bills on third reading, House Bill No. 925. Will the House give unanimous consent. The Chair hears no objections, and consent is granted.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of H. R. bill No. 925, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Hamot Hospital Association of the city of Erie Pennsylvania

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. KITTS. Mr. Speaker, we found on examining this bill that it needed a slight amendment. I consulted with the appropriation committee and they suggested it be amended on the floor of the House. It does not change the amount. It only changes the place where it is to be applied, and I ask unanimous consent to make the amendment it order to save recommitting it to the Committee.

Mr. KITTS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 1, line 16, strike out "Nurses' Home", and insert in lieu thereof the words, "erecting an addition to hospital"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendment as read? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendment as read will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

The bill as amended was then agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of H. R. bill No. 1982 (Senate No. 791), entitled:

An Act vesting in the municipalities of this Commonwealth the title for municipal highway purposes to land embraced within the lines of all streets lanes and alleys within their corporate limits laid out by this Commonwealth

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if there is any one here to explain the purpose of this bill?

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, the only thing that is embraced in this bill—and it is very brief as it covers about eight lines, is giving municipalities absolute control over the streets in those municipalities, placing in them practically absolute ownership, so that by the provisions of this bill, they would have control over such institutions as might seek to utilize those streets for the laying of water pipes or conduits or anythink of the kind, or for street railway purposes and thereby giving the rights necessary to extend and legislate by ordinance, granting franchises for their uses in these respects.

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Allen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, certainly, so far as I know.

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the gentleman explain what effect this would have upon the control of State Highways running through boroughs—on highways built by the State.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, none whatever.

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, I understand the gentleman to say that this is to give boroughs absolute control.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, certainly. and I say to the Department, as the gentleman well knows, you have no right to grant away the rights of users. The streets are kept open for street purposes and are under the absolute control of the municipalities for this purpose and I say the Department and no other department would have the right to give away the rights of the users of these streets—the right of way through any street or public highways within the municipalities, but a municipality within itself, could give the right to a water company to lay water mains or a telephone company to lay underground telephone conduits or run overhead telephone lines or anything of that sort. It places the management and control of those streets which are open to the public highways and roads under control of the municipality.

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know whether a municipality has not that power now?

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, no. The municipality,—all municipalities, within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania have only such powers as are conceded to them by the Legislative authorities and none other.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same without amendment.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. ARON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to call up House Bill No. 955, file folio 6347, on page 7 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I received a telegram from Philadelphia asking that this bill be postponed until tomorrow. I received a telegram from Mr. Cook, Director of Public Safety, as follows: "Am preparing printed matter explaining garbage bill. Please postpone vote until received about noon tomorrow." And I hope the gentleman will not insist upon calling up the bill at this time.

Mr. ARON. Mr. Speaker, I insist upon calling up the bill.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of H. R. bill No. 955, entitled:

An Act authorizing cities of the first class to make contracts for removal of garbage for a period not exceeding five years providing for annual appropriations for payments for successive years prescribing the extent to which such contracts shall be included in statements and estimates of current liabilities and current income in tax levies and in determining the legality of warrants on the city treasurer and repealing inconsistent acts

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, this is simply a motion for a slightly further postponement of this question. We ask for the postponement because the Director of Public Works of Philadelphia telegraphs that he is preparing printed matter in order that the House may fully understand all the bearings on this matter. We ask a further postponement, and I don't believe it possible that the House will ask to go to a final vote on this matter in its own ignorance when it could have the information.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. S. B. SCOTT and Mr. WALNUT.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of H. R. bill No. 1939 (Senate No. 484), entitled:

An Act to amend section thirteen of an act entitled "An Act regulating the collection of taxes in the several boroughs and townships of this Commonwealth" approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass.

Mr. MATT. Mr. Speaker, I would like the sponsor or some one to give an explanation as to the effects of this bill. This bill seems to repeal all the local and general laws for the collection of common taxes. We have a special act in Bedford County to collect taxes and I want to know if this bill will repeal it.

BILL POSTPONED.

I move the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. BURNETT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of H. R. bill No. 2029 (Senate No. 1151), entitled:

An Act prescribing the time and manner of submitting to the people for their approval and ratification or rejection a certain proposed amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

Shall the bill pass?

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, will some one explain what this bill does.

Mr. E. E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, this bill went through the Public Roads Committee and the purpose of the bill is merely to set definitely the time at which the vote will be taken upon the fifty million bond issue. It designates the regular election day in November as the special and specific time for the vote to be taken on the fifty million bond issue by the people. That is all there is to the bill.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, don't the constitution fix that any way.

Mr. E. E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I cannot answer that question. We are told in the Committee that it would be necessary, or at least advisable, to set a specific date on which the vote should be taken, a particular day on which it should be voted for.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, my thought was that this being a constitutional provision the Constitution had fixed, ever since the Constitution was adopted in 1874, how the constitutional amendments should go before the people at the general election and the proposition be printed on the ballot, and so on.

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, we passed a bill similar to this today, introduced by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol, in reference to another constitutional amendment.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I understand that it is the practice and has been for years, whenever a constitutional question is to be submitted, for the General Assembly to pass a bill similar to this, prescribing the exact time when it should be submitted. Whether this is absolutely necessary or not, I do not know.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the House, the Chair will call attention to Section 1, Article XVIII, of the Constitution which says that after having been passed by two sessions "such proposed amendment, or amendments shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State in such manner and at such time, at least three months after being so agreed to by the two Houses, as the General Assembly shall prescribe."

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Walnut refers to a bill similar to this. We have a resolution passed last session and passed this session pertaining to the extension of the term of the judges. The resolution passed two sesions and then it was essential to have the day of election fixed. Mr. Thorn of the Secretary of the Commonwealth's office came to me and we had the bill introduced and it came to the Judiciary Special Committee. That is the bill, which Mr. McNichol introduced. This bill is undoubtedly for the purpose of having now fixed at the November election, the regular election day, the election for this Constitutional amendment.

Mr. E. S. JONES. Mr. Speaker, there is another point in connection with this matter, and that is that the election coming this Fall is only for the municipal elections under our Constitutional Amendment of 1909. This being a statewide proposition, there was some question as to whether the next general election would be in November of this year or November of the next year. Therefore, it was to make this perfectly clear that this bill was introduced.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of H. R. bill No. 2009 (Senate No. 992), entitled:

An Act providing for the rechartering of building and loan associations or companies after expiration of their charter and for the taking over of all of the property and assets by the re-chartered corporation

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to insert an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Title, lines 1 and 2: Strike out the words "or companies."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

The bill as amended was then agreed to on third reading.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

AMENDED BILLS.

The SPEAKER. The experience of the session up until this time has indicated that it is unwise to pass bills which have been amended by striking out without letting them lie over for reprinting as other amended bills. Some serious errors have almost occurred from this cause. Therefore, hereafter, bills which are amended on third reading, although by striking out merely, will be prepared for final passage as are other bills that are amended.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Would the Speaker hold that, that would apply in the case of an amendment to the title. It seems to me that in amendments to the title, where the amendments are simple, the bill could pass on. Of course, I just merely wanted to ask the question as to what the Speaker felt about it.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, I offered this amendment at the request of the sponsor of the bill Senator Buckman. The words "of companies" were stricken out of the body of the bill when it was in the Committee on Banks and Banking, and it evidently was the intention to amend the title on second reading. The bill has passed second reading, and it is necessary now to have the title amended so as to conform with the body of the bill. The sponsor of the bill stated that he was satisfied with the amendments made by the House, but he ask that the title be amended accordingly.

The SPEAKER. There is no objection, of course, to the amendment. The parliamentary adviser of the Chair, from his observation and experience, is very strongly of the opinion that it is safer to pursue the course which the Chair has indicated, whether it be the title or the body of the bill. It does not take very much change in a bill when it is finally signed to create considerable excitement, if properly handled.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceded to the consideration on third reading of H. R. bill No. 2016 (Senate No. 1207), entitled.

An Act fixing the salaries and providing for the expenses of county solicitors in counties of this Commonwealth over one hundred and fifty thousand population and less than two hundred and fifty thousand population

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass?

Mr. JOSEPH GRAY. Mr. Speaker, I just want to call the House's attention to the fact that a bill similar to this bill was dropped from the calendar by a very positive declaration of the House not very long ago. The only difference is that the salary of the County Solicitor in that case was permitted to be as much as twenty-five dollars, as I remember it, and this bill allows the County Commissioner in counties of a population reaching one hundred and fifty and two hundred and fifty thousand to make the County Solicitor's salary, instead of one thousand dollars, eighteen hundred. The words are the same as they were in the other bill. We know what it means as a rule with regard to the increase of salary. As far as our county is concerned, I know the people from my district are very much opposed to giving our County Comimssioners the right to raise the salary of our County Solicitor from one thousand dollars a year to eighteen hundred dollars a year. We can get good men to do the work for one thousand dollars, which is plenty, and if there are men who deserve more money, they can get it in other employment, and if there are men who are worth a thousand dollars, they are not worth eighteen hundred dollars. There is no reason or no demand whatever for this increase of salary. It is introduced for the purpose of benefiting several men who already have the positions, and we all know how it is with County Commissioners, who are closely related in their work with the solicitors and they will be called on pretty soon for the increase of salary when there is an opportunity given for it. It means that we are going to pay eighteen hundred dollars a year instead of a thousand dollars a year. I think this bill ought to be treated just the same as the other bill was and that it should be voted down.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Joseph Gray, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOSEPH GRAY. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir. Certainly.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, it is not mandatory that they should be paid eighteen hundred dollars a year instead of a thousand dollars. It don't say so. It says they may be paid eighteen hundred dollars. I would like to know whether the present condition is not somewhat clouded from their being two different acts; whether the act of 1895 is not rather of an indefinite character? Is not that true?

Mr. JOSEPH GRAY. Mr. Speaker, I think not.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, there are two acts: One making it a thousand dollars and the other the salaries is governed at the discretion of the County Commissioner.

Mr. JOSEPH GRAY. Mr. Speaker, I think that the law states it as a thousand dollars in salary.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, of course this does not effect the salary in the county which I have the honor to represent but it strikes me that some of the larger counties would not get a very good attorney for a thousand dollars a year and where you take a county with a large population it seems to me that the work of a county solicitor must be if he would do the work that he ought to do and is called upon to do, earns a salary of eighteen hundred dollars a year and this gives authority to the county commissioners to secure a competent man if their county and the work in it requires the services of a good man and then they don't want to get a poor man on that account I feel disposed to support the bill on that ground.

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, while the gentleman from Delaware does not come from a county affected by this bill, still there seems to be some fear as to whether or not commissioners in such counties could get solicitors for the amount of money fixed by law. I beg to assure him that in my own county, in my judgment, one thousand dollars is sufficient salary for the work done by a county solicitor. I don't think this bill should pass. The word "may" will be construed, where there si political interest enough, to empower the county commissioners to give that amount of money.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Schuylkill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. John Robert Jones, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Schuylkill feel that he would care to fill a position of county solicitor of his county and perform all the duties and labor required and do it efficiently and fill that position for one thousand dollars a year.

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, I would be delighted to be county solicitor of Schuylkill county at a salary of one thousand dollars a year but under present political conditions, they would not select me to do the work, even if the salary were five hundred dollars a year. To speak seriously, a bill of a similar nature with a salary fixed at twenty-five hundred dollars a year was stricken from the calendar not very long ago. My people at home are opposed to this bill. But three persons have spoken to me in support of this bill, one gentleman from my own county and two gentlemen from other counties, and of the three, two were county solicitors. I am voicing the sentiment of my people, as far as I can find out, against this bill. It is a matter of judgment as to what the House should do, but speaking as I do for a county affected by the bill, I should vote no.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to state to the House, representing as I do, in part, a county of one hundred and seventeen thousand, that we pay our county solicitor twelve hundred dollars a year. I have some knowledge of this fact on account of experience in the court house of the amount of work which is required to be done in looking after the liens throughout the county. We have, scattered all over our county, hundreds and thousands of lots upon which liens must be entered and this calls for a great deal of labor, and it seems to me that as the bill is not mandatory in its language and simply says it "may" be eighteen hundred dollars. I feel sure that the House ought to open the door and allow county commissioners to get the benefit of high class men who could not do the work for a thousand dollars. The Legislature is not fixing the salary.

Mr. STRAUSS. Mr. Speaker, as a member from Berks county I wish to say that we should have a provision of this kind and we are engaged in a system of public improvements in the county and the county commissioners feel that they would like to have this bill passed so that they could adequately pay their county solicitor what he is worth. As we are only allowed to pay one thousand dollars now. I want to say that in Berks county we are willing to leave that to the county commissioners to employ honest men and men who would earn what they are paid, whatever the salary is. I feel that the bill should pass and leave it to the county commissioners where the work does not require an increase that it should not be made for more than one thousand dollars by the county commissioners. My friend from Schuylkill has said that he would be delighted to be the solicitor of his county at one thousand dollars a year, but I am sure he would be more delighted if the salary was twelve hundred dollars or eighteen hundred dollars a year. I know he would earn his money and I feel that we ought to pass this bill.

Mr. ELY. Mr. Speaker, it strikes me that the county having a population of one hundred and fifty or two hundred and fifty thousand would be employing a very cheap attorney at one thousand dollars a year, if he were to do the necessary work that is to be done at one thousand dollars a year. I am very much surprised to hear an attorney of this House get up and argue against a bill of this character and if there is any place or any county that wants to get a good man for solicitor, he should be paid for his services. I know that in Westmoreland County, we are very anxious to have this bill pass and I trust that the House will vote in favor of the bill.

On the question,

Shll the bill pass finally?

An Act making the land heretofore or hereafter purchased for the new Western Penitentiary in Centre County subject to taxation for local purposes regulating the assessment thereof and the payment of taxes thereon

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GRAMLEY. Mr. Speaker, just a few words in behalf of this bill. The State has taken over 5,000 acres of land in Benner Township, Centre County, for a penitentiary site. That township has an area of almost twenty-four square miles. The land taken over by the State covers almost six square miles; therefore one fourth of the taxable land of that township is taken away, unless this bill will pass. In other words, hereafter on three acres of land we must raise the same tax in that township that we heretofore raised on four acres, unless the State will help us out. It will work a hardship on that county.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of H. R. bill No. 999. entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Pennsylvania Epileptic Hospital and Colony Farm Chester county Pennsylvania

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I move that the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present. I do so merely so that the sponsor of the bill may acquaint the members more fully with the facts and explain it to the House. There is an appropriation in this bill for forty thousand dollars and the amount that has been recommended by the State Board of Charities was $4,500.00. In the report of the State Board of Charities we have the report as to the amount necessary for maintenance, supplies, etc. Last year the amount of the appropriation was ten thousand dollars. Now, there was a fire there, as I understand from Mr. Whitaker, who offered the bill, but as this is such a large amount of increase I think we should at least have some further explanation or investigation.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker,. I see no reason why this bill should be postponed at this time. I see no occasion for it. There is no difference in this appropriation from any other of the numerous appropriations made to institutions that take care of the State's indigent epileptics and feeble-minded. The only difference between tihs appropriation and some of the others is that this institution in the past has been a little more modest in its requests than the other institutions. Here is an institution which has for years been supported almost entirely by the voluntary contributions of the people around the neighborhood, and it has been by their aggressive work that they have been able to maintain it without asking for much of an appropriation from the State. They never in other times have had a large appropriation recommended by the State Board of Charities and they have never had an opportunity to explain their case or have the institution visited by the Board of Charities, and the particular reason at this time why I asked the State for an appropriation per capita for maintenance the same as other institutions is that this year most of the contributions will be devoted to rebuilding because of a fire which occurred at the institution last November. One of the large buildings burned down and since that time, since November, they have collected thirty thousand dollars of voluntary contributions toward the rebuilding. They have twenty thousand dollars collected from the insurance company, and they have already begun their building, and it is almost completed, a ninety-five thousand dollar building. The $25,000 which this bill appropriates to them for the purpose of aiding them in the rebuilding of that ninety-five thousand dollar building is certainly not an excessive amount. On the question of maintenance in this bill they are limited by the bill to the expenditure per capita per annum. That is twenty-five thousand dollars lower than the next lowest institution which cares for this kind of patients, and from fifty to seventy-five dollars per capita less than most of them. There are eighty-five patients in the institution now, seventy-five of whom are maintained absolutely free. If these patients were maintained at the same cost as at the Spring City Institution or Ellwood, or other institutions of this kind which receive appropriations from the State, it would cost the State $31,500.00. Instead of that $31,500.00 this bill is asking for $15,000.00, the balance of which they intend to make up by voluntary contributions.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Chester.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Chester permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman what the amount asked for was in the original bill?

Mr. WHITAKER. Forty-three thousand dollars, including all purposes, building and maintenance and so forth. The Appropriation Committee has seen fit to cut out three thousand dollars, making it forty thousand dollars.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. What is the amount of the endowment fund?

Mr. WHITAKER. I do not know, but most of the income comes from voluntary contributions from a large number of members.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, my idea here is merely to have the bill postponed and the gentleman from Chester should indulge the House to that extent. We have here the appropriation of last year and the year before of ten thousand dollars, and now we have an appropriation made of forty thousand dollars, and more especially because it is a feeble-minded institution, being that character of an institution where there is a great deal of discussion as to taking care of the feeble-minded, such as the institutions in the eastern part of the State and Spring City and Ellwood as the gentleman from Chester has mentioned. This motion now is merely to put the bill upon the postponed calendar, from which it can be called up on Monday night. By that time all the members can be fully informed on the subject. I do not think it proper now to ask that this bill, without full consideration, be simply put through in the same manner as the other bills. I do not think that it is proper to do so, and I do not think the gentleman from Chester should have any hesitation in agreeing to my motion when I merely ask to have it postponed.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I see no reason whatever for asking to have this bill postponed. We have all the information now that we can possibly have at any time. The Appropriation Committee has visited the place and know all about it. The only reason that the appropriation is larger this year than in former years, is because this institution has been a little more modest and generous, and has not asked for the help that they are entitled to.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I do not think it is right for the gentleman from Chester to insist upon a roll call at this time. There is no difference between this bill and any other appropriation bill. If there is nothing in it to be concealed. I do not see why it could not go over until Monday. A jump from ten thousand dollars to forty thousand dollars is extraordinary. He states that they have twenty-five thousand dollars for the building of a new building which they have gathered from contributions, and that they have collected twenty thousand dollars from the insurance. I cannot see why we are to vote them this increase that they have asked for.

I hope the gentleman will not insist upon this matter of having this bill go to a vote now and allow this motion to prevail to place the bill upon the postponed calendar.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I feel as I did in the first place and there is no reason for the postponement of this bill.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I now withdraw my motion for postponement and am ready now to proceed with the bill.

The SPEAKER. The question is, shall the bill pass?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I take it that this House should not support this appropriation. I don't feel that we should take exception to charitable appropriations as a general matter and I am sorry that the gentleman from Chester has allowed older members to influence him who have called on him on the floor of the House not to agree to postponement of this bill. He places this question now in its present position. Undoubtedly, this institution is a semi-private institution that has been supported for many years for good purposes, but we are here now facing the passing of an appropriation bill not for the maintenance of a hospital that has been fixed by other Legislatures gone by. Last year there was no contest whatever relating to this bill and the amount of money that was appropriated for the Pennsylvania Epileptic Hospital and Colony Farm at West Chester was as follows:

> "That the sum of ten thousand dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary, be and the same is hereby specifically appropriated to the Pennsylvania Epileptic Hospital and Colony Farm, for the two fiscal years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, for the following purpose, namely:
> For the purpose of maintenance, training, and treatment of epileptic patients, residents of the State, to be paid for in proportion to the number of indigent epileptic received from the various counties of the Commonwealth, at an annual rate not exceeding two hundred dollars per capita, nine thousand dollars, or as much thereas may be necessary.
> For the purpose of improvements, the sum of one thousand ($1,000.00) dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

There is no deficiency; the hospital is not in debt, but they have had a fire and the building has been burned down and if it were necessary for the re-establishment of the building, it would be quite logical that the gentleman from Chester should ask for an appropriation for this hospital, for the amount of money necessity to put them back into a working position. But we find that they have collected twenty thousand dollars from an insurance company and we find that they have had contributed to them thirty thousand dollars from very wealthy people in this hospital. For us to be compelled to raise this appropriation five thousand dollars upon maintenance making it fifteen thousand dollars and then twenty-five thousand dollars for building, without any further explanation, is not fair to ourselves. Many of you gentlemen have your bills still in committee and they have not come out. If such a big appropriation as this is passed without full investigation and instruction is not proper. I don't want to oppose an appropriation to a charity, but I don't think the gentleman from Chester ought to oppose the motion that has been made here, asking for a postponement, as he has. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted back to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. John R. K. Scott, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if he has ever visited this institution?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, no, sir, I have not, and that is why I would like to get more information so that I might more intelligently vote on this appropriation. If I had visited the institution I might be in possession of the information I now seek.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I will state to the House that this is an institution within eight miles of my home. I have known it ever since it was constructed. It is managed by as high a class of men as there are in the State of Pennsylvania. It is doing one of the kinds of work that very few institutions are performing, taking care of one of the most unfortunate classes of people, known as epileptics. It takes care of young people and full grown persons. And like other institutions of this character, it is struggling and trying to get appropriations, who have made application to get them. Every one of you know that institutions of this character all over the State get help from citizens in the communities and much assistance and then they come to the State besides and must come to the State to help it. This is involved in every institution of this character. The gentleman from Philadelphia has made no effort to find out whether it is honestly managed. It seems to me that there is no good reason to ask for postponement. I have in my mind an institution in the City of Pittsburgh which has had an appropriation given to it of seventy-five thousand dollars more than was recommended by the State Board of Charities. There is no increase in this appropriation. Only about fifteen thousand dollars to complete the improvement, to build this institution which has been burned down. They simply ask for assistance. They have made up seventy-five thousand dollars among themselves for this noble work and they ask the State to assist them. The Appropriation Committee has seen wise to recommend thirty thousand dollars. They are doing as good work as any institution in this State. There is no necessity to postpone action on this bill.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, I would call the attention of the House to the fact that we have for our guidance in passing appropriation bills of this character the State Board of authority which is supposed to receive applications from various institutions of this nature to investigate the circumstances of the institution carefully and then to report and make recommendations by which this House may be guided. The State Board of Charities in this Commonwealth has received recommendations to be placed on the pay-roll of nearly every institution of the State. They have recommended to this House that they first take care of the State and semi-State institutions and take up the question of making appropriations for hospitals and homes and then to provide for institutions of a different character under a different arrangement. Mr. Speaker, in my district there is the Pennsylvania Deaf and Dumb Asylum at Mount Airy to which the State Board of Charities recommended three hundred and twenty-five dollars per capita per year. Owing to the lack of funds at the disposal of this Legislature, that appropriation was cut down to three hundred dollars per capita per annum. I think that if this State must take care of its indigent inmates under State control and provide proper maintenance that is necessary, it is a mistake to appropriate twenty-five thousand dollars to put up buildings on property that is under the jurisdiction of private individuals. I recall having heard in the Appropriations Committee how the State in the past has appropriated large sums of money aggregating something like from three to four million dollars to put up buildings on grounds owned my State Normal Schools which were entirely under private control and now the condition arises that those institutions may dispose of their entire plant without any definite provision as to the distribution of the assets. I certainly object to an appropriation for buildings that does not require the institutions to secure the State for the money advanced. I feel that this House when it passes an appropriation for new buildings under the circumstances such as have been coming before this House, that we should first take care of the indigent State institutions in a proper manner.

The SPEAKER. The question is shall the bill pass?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I have here in reply to the gentleman from Delaware who spoke about the number of patients to be cared for. I wish to refer to the report of two state institutions. Spring City has asked for $1,487,065. There was recommended by the State Board $686,000.00 The bill that was offered was for $1,535,935.00, and the amount reported out by the bill was $554,450.00. The institution at Polk which is the other feeble-minded institution located at Warren, Pennsylvania, for that there was asked $1,430,500.00. There was reported our $940,000.00. Here are two state feeble-minded institutions and they have gotten much less than the amount recommended by the Board of Charities. In one particular case the Board of Charities recommended nearly $700,000.00 and they get $500,000.00 and in the other they recommended $500,000.00 after they have recommended nearly a million. In other words the state institutions of the feeble-minded have gotten much less than the amount that was recommended by the State Board of Charities but not so with this institution—and don't confuse the state with the semi-state institutions. Spring City and Polk institutions are absolutely state institutions and absolutely under the control of the State and the Boards are appointed by the Governor of the State of Pennsylvania and the maintenance is entirely by the Commonwealth. Now, the bill for the institution which we have under consideration at present is not an institution of that character. It in a semi-state institution in its nature. It is maintained in part by the contributions of those who are friendly to it. It is of course, taking care of some portion of the feeble-minded who are dependent upon the public and that upon that they get their help from the Legislature.

It is optional with them if they have the right to receive them, and they receive them when they have the means of receiving them. Now, then, in Polk and in Spring City we have the right to have our patients admitted through the proper process of the law. Now we have before us an appropriation bill requesting $5,000 more than years gone by for maintenance, and it costs $25,000 for the aiding in building upon the lands of a private corporation, not the land owned or maintained by the State. We have given them, according to this bill, $25,000 to build properly when they have in their own hands $50,000 to go on with their building. Now, I say, Mr. Speaker, that this appropriation being passed so early in this session, so far as appropriation bills are concerned, is a mistake.

You members of this House, Mr. Speaker, who have to go back to your districts and have to explain to your constituents why you have not been able to get the amount that they have been calling upon you to get for their institutions, have this to explain: Why we have given $40,000 to an institution where there is but $9,000 recommended by our State Board of Charities. I take it, Mr. Speaker, that the sponsor of this bill is badly advised and is taking an illogical position in his legislation. The voting of this bill down now, having it placed before the House, does not mean the destruction of the bill. There is a power, under our parliamentary procedure, to revive the bill and have it amended, and it is proper for us to have it fully explained. I say it is a mistake, Mr. Speaker, to urge this bill now, and I, for one, will be compelled to vote against this bill. I do not believe that when the various state institutions for the feeble-minded; when the state institutions for the insane, are crying, as they have been session after session, for aid from the State, we should take this $25,000 without a little explanation and give it to this semi-public institution. Now, Mr. Speaker, the condition of the insane institutions in the State of Pennsylvania is well known. We had a commission some sessions ago appointed. That commission made its investigation and that commission reported back to this Legislature. They reported the Norristown and the Danville and the Dixmont and all the other various insane institutions throughout the State of Pennsylvania. They were so overcrowded with patients that patients were compelled to sleep in the corridors. No room for them in the various rooms. They had to sleep out in cots. We haven't the money that would take care of our insane, but we find that those state institutilons must stand aside while we take this semi-public institution and give to it $25,000 to build a building for which they recovered $20,000 for the building which has just been destroyed. Now, Mr. Speaker I do not think it is proper for the gentleman from Chester, and for his colleague, the gentleman from Delaware, to force us to a vote on this bill at the present time, but if he persists in doing it, I take it that the only thing I can do is to vote against the bill, hoping that before the five days expire, he will see the light and have it moved to reconsider, and bring it back here and give us an amendment or give us a proper explanation.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I realize that the House does not want to hear a lot of figures on this subject, but in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia I want to give just a few. He mentions Spring City, Polk and Elwood, the three institutions which provdes for ths class of patents. In Spring City it costs the State of Pennsylvania $75 a year more for each patient than it would cost in this institution. In Polk it costs slightly more—I don't know the exact figures, but something over $200. In Elwood we have made an appropriation this year in the amount of $225 per capita. Now, then, isn't it economy in the State of those indigent epileptics by sending them to this institution, which offers to do it just as well or rather better, with a better equipment, perhaps better physicians, and cost the State of Pennsylvania only $200 per capita? In relation to the new buildings, at Spring City it costs $2,000 per capita to do the work of the institution. At Elwood it costs between one and two thousand dollars per capita. I say it is not unusual to make appropriations to institutions which do not belong absolutely to the State. Nine tenths of those we have passed to-day have gone to semi-state institutions and those which do not belong to the Commonwealth, and it is economy to make this appropriation to take care, as it did last year, of seventy-five absolutely free patient, and those seventy-five cannot be taken care of as cheaply in any other institution. I hope the members will vote for this bill.

Mr. WALTON. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by Messrs. Dickinson, Wildman, R. J. Baldwin, Neel, Heyburn, Ramsey, Wiltbank, Geary, Keeport, Steedle, Lowers, J. H. Wilson, W. F. Blair, Becker, Sassaman, Body, Currier, G. C. Irwin, Gans, Missimer, Whitman, Sherwood, Moulthrop, Fahey, Ely and others.

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative.

The SPEAKER. The yeas are 111 and the nays 11.

Does the Chair understand that this is a private institution?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Then less than the majority required by the constitution having voted in the affirmative, the bill falls.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, there are only 120 votes in the House. How are you going to pass on these institutions when there is not a constitutional quorum here to vote?

The SPEAKER. That is further along. The gentleman from Delaware having suggested a question which is not strictly appropos until this bill is disposed of, the Chair desires to say that neither at the present time or any other time will the Chair permit appropriation bills to be passed unless there are at least 138 members present. This bill has not passed.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill was defeated be reconsidered.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my motion.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, for the purpose of assisting the gentleman if he desires to put that motion, for the purpose of doing some other business, I move that we adjourn with the hope that the motion will be defeated.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill (House Bill No. 999) failed on final passage, be reconsidered.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know the purpose of the gentleman, whether it is to put the bill on the calnedar or to postpone it?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Chester has agreed to put it on the postponed calendar.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to call the House's attention to the fact that so far as anything has been said by the gentleman from Philadelphia, that would authorize the House in passing this bill, I think if the members would look at and consider carefully what he has said, he has made no charge here that this institution is not properly managed, he has made no charge that the institution is getting too much money, and this bill ought to pass just the same as other bills in the House and I don't think it ought to be put on the posponed calendar. I think the bill ought to pass.

There is not a constitutional vote on this bill and I do not see how it was defeated at that.

The SPEAKER. There is always a constitutional vote when there is a quorum present and voting. The bill falls because it lacked a two-third vote.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion to postpone further consideration of the bill for the present.

It was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. It being apparent from this roll call that since the last appropriation bill was passed, the number of members in attendance has been reduced to less than 138, the Chair will not place any more appropriation bills before the House at this time.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, I move that we adjourn until tomorrow morning at 10.00 o'clock.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

Mr. GEARY. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House adjourn until Monday night at 8 o'clock.

Mr. LOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order, that the gentleman is out of order because there has been no other business transacted since the other motion.

The SPEAKER. The motions are different.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, certainly this House is not doing to adjourn over until Monday with all this work on the calendar.

Mr. McCLINTOCK. Mr. Speaker, I feel that the most of the members of this House would like to get away from here tonight, and I do not see any reason why we cannot go on with the work. It may be that an occurrence such as has just happened on this bill, will not take place again on the calendar.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, it comes to my mind that we might take a recess until 8 o'clock tonight and clean up the calendar tonight.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to adjourn until Monday night?

It was not agreed to.

RECESS.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House take a recess until 8.30 o'clock tonight.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Whereup (at 6.45 o'clock P. M.) the House took a recess until 8.30 P. M.

AFTER RECESS.

The House reconvened at 8.30 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER (George E. Alter) in the Chair.

BILL SIGNED BY THE SPEAKER.

The Speaker announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bills had passed both houses of the General Assembly, and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows :

Senate Bill No. 550:

An Act regulating the operation of motor boats and providing a penalty

A joint resolution providing for a commission to arrange for and supervise the transfer from the Library and Museum building to the new cases in rotunda of the Capitol building of the flags of Pennsylvania commands in the War for the Suppression of the Rebellion and the Spanish-American War and other flags of historical value and to arrange proper and fitting patriotic ceremony in connection therewith and making an appropriation to defray the necessary expenses incident thereto

Senate Bill No. 773:

A supplement to an act entitled "An Act for the government of cities of the second class" approved the seventh day of March Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and one authorizing cities of the second class for the purpose of preventing fires the spread of fire fire waste and loss of life from fire or a loss of life or damage to property from unsafe or improper construction or design of buildings to enact ordinances to provide for and regulate the construction equipment arrangements maintenance inspection alteraton repair and removal of buildings and premises and appliances apparatus and conditions in and about them to provide for the regulation of the manufacture transportation storage sale and use of explosive gases inflammables and dangerous chemicals and substances to prohibit the manufacture of explosives and fire works and the transportation storage sale and use of nitro-glycerine imposing on the Department of Public Safety the enforcement of ordinances relating thereto and authorizing such department to investigate fires providing for the service of orders made by the said department and for the appeals from and reviews of certain of its orders for the method of recovering money expended by the cities in remedying conditions and the method of obtaining a lien therefor and providing that the courts of common pleas shall have jurisdiction to punish witnesses for disobedience of orders of the Director of said Department when holding investigations

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

AMENDED HOUSE BILL CONCURRED IN BY SENATE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate had concurred in the amendments made by the House of Representatives to House Bill No. 1102, entitled:

said bill having been recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary of the Governor being introduced, presented the following communication from the Governor which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 23, 1913.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I have the honor to advise you that I have this day approved and signed Concurrent Resolution from the Senate and House of Representatives, recalling from the Governor for the purpose of amendment, House Bill 483, entitled:

"An Act to amend an act approved the thirtieth day of April one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four entitled 'An Act imposing additional taxes for State purposes and to abolish the Revenue Board' as amended by an act approved the eleventh day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled 'An Act amending section four of an act entitled 'An Act imposing additional taxes for State purposes and to abolish the Revenue Board' approved the thirtieth day day of April Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four by requiring the treasurer of each school district and chief officer of each incorporated district to make report under oath to the Auditor General of the amount of scrip bonds or certificates of indebtedness outstanding in their respective districts."

(Signed) JOHN K. TENER.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. BROSIUS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed finally be reconsidered.

Mr. JAMES A. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. BROSIUS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. JAMES A. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BROSIUS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend by striking out the title and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"An Act to amend an act approved the thirtieth day of April one thousand eight hundred sixty-four, entitled, 'An Act imposing additional taxes for State purposes and to abolish the revenue board' as hitherto amended, by providing for the return by the State Treasurer of seventy-five per centum of certain State taxes to the respective county, city, borough, school district or incorporated district where collected."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

The bill as amended was then agreed to on third reading.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

SENATE MESSAGES.

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented the following extract from the Journal of the Senate.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 56.

In the Senate, May 28, 1913.

Whereas, in compliance with a concurrent resolution approved May 12, 1911, a commission of five persons was appointed by the Governor on December 20, 1911, to investigate and examine the various laws now in effect in the different States relating to the recording of deeds, mortgages, the transfer of lands, to the insurance of titles, and the practical operation of such laws, and to propose such changes in the Constitution and laws of this Commonwealth as to insure the best system of recording; and

Whereas, The said Commission made a report to the present Legislature recommending an amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania and also recommending that the said Commission be continued because of the necessity that the reform is one that should not be made without exhaustive research and deliberation, and that the subject should be referred for further consideration and report, if deemed wise by the Legislature, pending action upon the proposed Constitutional amendment, so that progress in other States of the Union may be observed and a carefully prepared scheme of legislation creditable to our great State may be ready for submission, therefore, be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the present Commission to investigate and examine the various laws now in effect in the various States relating to recording of deeds, mortgages, the transfer of lands, the insurance of titles, and the practical operation of such laws, and to propose such changes in the Constitution and laws of this Commonwealth as to insure the best system of recording, be authorized to continue its work and make report and recommendations to the next General Assembly, in 1915, and that the expenses therefor be limited to $3,000 or so much thereof as may be necessary, and that the same be provided for in the next General Appropriation Bill; and be it

Further Resolved, That all the powers conferred upon said Commission under Resolution of May 12, 1911, authorizing the appointment of said Commission, are hereby continued.

Ordered, That the resolution lie over for printing.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of H. R. bill No. 1422, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Charleroi-Monessen Hospital Charleroi Washington county Pennsylvania

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SCHUCK. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Allen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ALLEN. Yes, sir.

Mr. SCHUCK. Mr. Speaker, what is the purpose of postponing this bill for the present?

Mr. ALLEN. The purpose is, Mr. Speaker, that unless I have further information than is now in my possession, I will be compelled to oppose the passage of the bill. If the gentleman is desirous of having the bill acted upon now, of course that is his prerogative. I can only say this briefly, Mr. Speaker, that this bill calls for an appropriation of twenty thousand dollars. The Board of Public Charities, in which we have some confidence and which acts throughout the year and who introduce themselves to this House with a statement contained in their report that "Unusual care has been exercised in ascertaining the amounts to be recommended to the various institutions," on page 44 of their report, state that the application for aid for this institution for the years 1913 and 1914 amounted to $10,000.00. They say that:

> "This was formerly a private hospital (Monessen-Charleroi Hospital). The demand for a hospital in this vicinity to take care of the indigent is great, as there are 40,000 people living in the vicinity, mostly employed in industrial pursuits who will be benefited. Many cases die while being taken to the nearest hospitals.
> A new charter has been requested from the Court by a number of reputable citizens, who have organized and are prepared to assume control of this institution and put in on a working basis. From various statements of citizens in this community, we are inclined to believe that the demand for a hospital to treat the indigent is well founded.
> We, therefore, recommend $2,500 a year, or $5,000 for two years, for maintenance, or so much thereof as may be necessary."

Now this is one of the many reports which the Board of Charities makes to the House, and they make it, as I said a moment ago, filing their report and introducing the work of the Board of Charities in this way.

> Unusual care has been exercised in ascertaining the amounts to be recommended to the various institutions. Owing to the increased cost of provisions and other supplies, and to the larger amount of free work done, it has been found necessary, in many cases, to make a larger allowance for maintenance than in previous years. In all cases of private or semi-private institutions, the actual needs and the amount of free work done, have been carefully compared as the basis for amount of aid recommended. It will be observed that outside of the State and semi-State institutions, the Board makes no recommendations for appropriations for building purposes, at this time. This is due to the fact that needs for maintenance have increased to such an extent as to consume all the estimated revenue of the State, which in the judgment of the Board, can be set aside for charitable work.

Now, taking the suggestion of the committee and realizing the fact that their report no doubt in that particular is correct, that during the two years since the last session they have used their best judgment in examining through these institutions and have their basis upon which to make a recommendation and the further fact of their report on this particular institution in which they say that these people are prepared to assume control of this institution and put it on a working basis—which to my mind would indicate that it is not on a working basis, at this time, and the fact that the recommendation of the Board of Charities is but $5,000.00 for two years; and the further fact, if it please, Mr. Speaker, that this institution only asked for—as $10,000.00 and an appropriation of $20,000.00 is now made—without some information showing why that increased amount, why it has doubled since the institution filed its request with the Board of Charities, would compel me, I say, to seek further information in relation to this institution before I shall vote for an appropriation in this amount. I am not here, Mr. Speaker, to vote against an institution that is deserving, but when it would appear by the report of the committee itself that a new institution, which up to this time has been a private institution and which is now being taken over and cared for by the State, and the sum of $5,000.00 appropriated for maintenance and the sum of $15,000.00 for purchasing buildings and completing and equipping the hospital, clearly indicates that a new institution is being considered, one which the State is financing at this time.

Further than that, it is remarkable in such cases that a bill which has four times increased in the demand over the recommendation made by the Board of Charities, or twice rather, $2,500.00 a year or $5,000.00 for two years, which asked $10,000.00 from the Board of Charities, this institution then comes here and files a bill for $20,000.00 and that bill is allowed, being the first appropriation, Mr. Speaker, that this institution has received from the State. No appropriation was made to the institution, I believe, last year and this is the first one, and why has it increased just four times over the recommendation of the Board of Charities which is presumed at least to know the condition not only of the institution but what the finances of the State will warrant in expending in this direction, and dealing with a matter of this kind the Board of Charities takes into consideration the demands of State institutions and semi-State institutions, and all these institutions to which money is diverted from the regular channel. If this one be increased over the Board of Charities' estimate four times, somebody has to suffer at that expense and I say to this House, Mr. Speaker, that I really believe that the Board of Public Charities, with its make-up as it has, can come more nearly at arriving at the facts and the needs of an institution in 365 days than any committee of forty even if they were all called upon to do some work in relation to investigating institutions.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny (Mr. Allen) permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, certainly.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to call the attention of the gentleman from Allegheny to the fact that the Board of Public Charities on the first page of their pamphlet state clearly that they make no recommendations for building in any of these institutions.

Mr. ALLEN. Yes, Mr. Speaker, and if the gentleman will read just preceding that he will learn why.

"It will be observed that outside of the State and Semi-State Institutions"—let us be fair —"the Board makes no recommendation for appropriations for building purposes at this time. This is due to the fact that needs for maintenance have increased to such an extent as to consume all the estimated revenue of the State, which in the judgment of the Board can be set aside for charitable work.

A very satisfactory explanation to my mind, Mr. Speaker, and I hope, sufficient to convince the gentleman from Delaware. So I say, Mr. Speaker, that under the circumstances in which this bill stares us—in which we meet this bill at this time, I shall be compelled to oppose this bill.

Mr. SCHUCK. Mr. Speaker, I wish to say to the House I do not care to have this little hospital in my own town made a bone of contention. If the gentleman from Allegheny is sincere, as he said, in wanting information and wanting facts, I have them and have plenty of them and will be very glad to give them at another time and have this bill postponed.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, that is all I ask.

Mr. SCHUCK. Mr. Speaker, I wish to say we are forty miles from the City of Pittsburgh where it has become almost impossible to get a charity sick patient in the Pittsburgh Hospitals which are receiving State aid. They must be accident cases or the hospitals are filled. We have above us McKeesport, with a population of 40,000 and two hospitals that are asking State aid. This little hospital, which I do not wish to become the bone of contention or have a contest on it, will serve 25,000 people. Now if it is the desire of the gentleman from Allegheny that this bill be postponed, I will move myself to have it postponed for the present.

BILL POSTPONED.

The SPEAKER. There is already a motion pending to postpone consideration for the present.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

PETITION PRAYING FOR THE IMPEACHMENT OF JUDGE ROBERT E. UMBEL.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has received the petition of H. S. Dumbauld, praying for the impeachment of the Honorable Robert E. Umbel, President Judge of the Fourteenth Judicial District, which the Chair refers to the Judiciary General Committee, with the request that said committee advise the House whether the said petition appears to contain sufficient to require the appointment of a Committee of Investigatoin.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered. That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of H. R. bill No. 1292, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Board of Directors of the Duquesne University of the Holy Ghost at Pittsburgh Pennsylvania

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker. I would like to be recorded as voting no on this bill.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, this bill I think ought to be made the subject of a slight consideration on the policy of the State towards these educational institutions. In the first place we ought to draw a careful line of distinction between the purely charitable institutions, those dealing with the sick and indigent and defective classes and those which have to do with the education of the youths of the State. I think our State has been exceedingly lax in laying down any particular policy as to the development of its higher education. We have, I am happy to say, an excellent system of public schools and high schools and normal schools, but we are absolutely without policy when it comes to the higher education. Now if we simply had no policy at all, and made no attempt towards higher education, but left the matter entirely in the hands of private individuals, that would be a reasonable and consistent policy, but gradually and insiduously we have been appropriaating money to one institution after another, and every session some new institution, giving as an excuse the fact that we have been appropriating to other institutions, are gradually creeping in, and if we continue our present lack of policy we will be compelled to divide our money up among all the institutions of higher education of the State, we will not only have no consistent State policy in this matter, but will have no money in the treasury. Therefore, until the Legislature looks the matter squarely in the face and outlines some definite policy toward this matter of higher education, I shall feel it my duty to oppose any new grant of money or any increased grant of money for higher education. It has been suggested that this is a sectarian institution, and that I base my opposition on that ground. There are subsequent bills on the calendar to which I could call your attention, one of them being No. 154 on the calendar, which calls for an appropriation to the Groce City College. That is sectarian, but of a different sect, and I intend to oppose both of these equally. Let me state here now that I intend to oppose any increase in the appropriation of the University of Pennsylvania and of Temple College, or any institution of higher learning until the State institutes some definite and consistent policy.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, when this bunch of bills was under consideration by the Committee on Appropriations there were a lot of bills of this character intermingled with bills for charitable institutions such as we have been passing this afternoon and evening. I suggested at that time that the Clerk be instructed to report them out in separate bunches so that the bills making appropriations to educational institutions and miscellaneous appropriations would not be confused and come in the same line as those for charitable institutions. I did that for the express reason that it was stated in the Committee that many of the educational institutions had never had an appropriation, and did not suppose they would ever receive one. Now, I would like to know what institutions on this list for educational purposes have not received appropriations heretofore, and I would like to interrogate the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee and ask him if this is one of those bills to which he had reference at that time.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Jefferson permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if this institution ever received an appropriation from the State before?

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, not to my knowledge.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, that is all. I shall vote "no" on this bill.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. GOSS. Mr. Speaker, in the absence of the sponsor of this bill I ask that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. LETZKUS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of H. R. bill No. 15, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Dayton Normal Institute of Dayton Pennsylvania

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass?

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the same question of the gentleman from Jefferson.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Jefferson, Mr. North, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman, did this institution ever receive state aid before?

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, not to my knowledge.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Bleloch, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman is he not a member of this Appropriation Committee?

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, I am.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman why he didn't find this out when they were investigated?

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, I think that I explained the method under which these bills for educational institutions came out of the Appropriations Committee. Time after time, meetings of that committee have been held with the proper notices not being given to the various members of this committee. There was a meeting called for to-day for 2.30 o'clock in the appropriations room, in the House Caucus room, where the meetings are held, where we were in session in that committee until a quarter after three. The meeting then adjourned to attend the session of this House. Since that time, I have learned that while this House was in session another meeting of that committee was called without notice to the various members and bills have been reported out to this House. At other times meetings of that committee have been called, under similar circumstances, and the various members of that committee have not had due notice.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman further.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know is it not a known fact that another member of this House is prompting you in this work?

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, early in the session when somebody asked me who my boss was, it was admitted that nobody knew and they didn't think I knew myself. I have tried to perform my duties as a member of the various committees in this House with fidelity and earnestness to the high oath which I have taken. I am only one of the forty members of that Appropriation Committee and this being my first session, I don't feel that I should carry all the burden of that Committee and I think that any member of that Committee will appreciate that.

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Bleloch, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, willingly.

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman if he voted against the reporting out of these bills, he has referred to.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, I think I have already explained twice to this House the circumstances under which these bills for miscellaneous institutions came out under the House.

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, if it is not out of order, I would like to have the gentleman repeat what he said a few moments ago relative to the notice that was given as to the meetings of the Appropriations Committee. I didn't quite catch his remarks before.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, I said that there was a notice posted on the bulletin board for a meeting of the appropriations committee at 2.30 P. M. today. I was in attendance at that committee meeting until a quarter after three. The House reconvened at three o'clock. I have been informed since that time that while the House was in session there was another meeting of that committee called for which the members didn't have due notice and I believe, Mr. Speaker, under the rules of this House no committee can sit during the sessions thereof, without the permission of the House.

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, there was a meeting called for the purpose of reporting out a bill that would provide the necessary expenses to pay the employes of the House and Senate, which is now due. That is the only meeting that has been hurriedly called during the session. We adhered to the rule at the opening of the session or at the organization of the Appropriations Committee whereby we fixed the number for a quorum at ten members. There has not been a meeting, to my knowledge, and the minutes of our committee will show that, that there has not been any bills acted upon during the entire session unless there was a quorum present. I don't recall any meeting at which we acted on any measure that there was not more than a quorum—anywhere from twelve to thirty members present. The notices of the meetings were made and posted publicly on the bulletin board as far ahead of the time of the calling of the meeting as it was possible.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. LATSHAW. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. J. H. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Jefferson, Mr. North.

The SPEAKER. There is nothing at present before the House.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Jefferson, on a question of personal privilege as Mr. North has practically attempted to put me in a false position before the members of this House, and I would like to ask the gentleman under what circumstances and how he called that Committee meeting which was held during the session of the House this afternoon.

Mr. KITTS. Mr. Speaker, I suggest that we make this a special order of business for next Saturday afternoon at four o'clock.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, I think under the rules I am entitled to state my question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The Chair and the House are without power to require the gentleman from Jefferson to respond.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of H. R. bill No. 182, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Pennsylvania Home Teaching Society and Free Circulating Library for the Blind

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of H. R. bill No. 428, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Panther Creek Valley Hospital Coaldale Schuylkill county Pennsylvania

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BECKLER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend the title by striking out the words "Panther Creek Valley Hospital" and inserting the words "State Hospital of Coaldale"

Mr. BECKER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to insert the amendment as read? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendment as read will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

The bill as amended was then agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of H. R. bill No. 484, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the trustees of the Cottage State Hospital at Connellsville Fayette county Pennsylvania

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of H. R. bill No. 842, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Pennsylvaina Industrial Reformatory at Huntingdon Pennsylvania

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. H. B. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Section 1, line 21, after the word "sum" insert "of."
Sec. 1, line 49. Strike out the word "form" and insert "farm."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendment as read? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendment as read will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

The bill as amended was then agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of H. R. bill No. 230, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the trustees of the State Hospital for the Insane at Warren Pennsylvania

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken, and were as follows, viz:

Mr. W. H. WILSON, from the Committee on Municipal Corporations, reported with a negative recommendation, House Bill No. 1674, entitled:

An Act regulating the election of members of councils in boroughs.

Mr. SASSAMAN, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported with a negative recommendation, House Bill No. 101, entitled:

An Act creating a Department of Charities, defining its powers and duties, restricting the issuance of warrants by the Auditor General for the payment of money to certain institutions, prohibiting the solicitation of appropriations by officials and employes of institutions, regulating the responsibility for maintenance of beneficiaries transferred from one institution to another, providing for the return of alien indigent insane persons, and abolishing the board of public charities.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would state to the House that the calendar for tomorrow will contain but very few bills, most of which will be appropriation bills and will probably not furnish the House with an hour's work. What is the pleasure of the House?

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House do now adjourn.

The motion was agreed to and (at 10:15 P. M.) the House adjourned until Monday, June 2, 1913, at 8 o'clock P. M.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA.

Legislative Journal.

Vol. 2. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, JUNE 2, 1913. No. 75.

SENATE.

MONDAY, June 2, 1913.

The Senate met at 9 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor John M. Reynolds) in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. A. C. James, offered the following prayer:

O Lord, Thou art the same yesterday, to-day and forever. With Thee is no variableness neither shadow of turning. Thou art the God of justice, but Thou art also the God of mercy; Thou art an austere God, but Thou art also the kind and compassionate One; Thou art our Master, Thou art also our Heavenly Father. Thou art the giver of every good and perfect gift. We come at this time seeking the gift of grace divine. Thou art the Fountain of eternal life, of which if a man shall drink he shall never thirst again. We come seeking to drink of these eternal waters. Thou art the Good Shepherd; Thy rod and Thy staff, they comfort us. As we enter upon another week of labor, grant unto us strength to perform our work with such fidelity that we shall not only receive the commendation of men but rather that higher approval and noblest of all encomiums, even Thy "Well done thou good and faithful servant." Hear us in this our evening prayer, we ask it in our Saviour's name. Amen.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. McILHENNY, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES.

Mr. ENDSLEY, from the Committee on Agriculture, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 871 (House Bill No 1010), entitled:

An Act relating to domestic animals, defining domestic animals so as to include pountry; providing methods improving the quality thereof and of preventing controlling and eradicating diseases thereof, imposing certain duties upon practitioners of veterinary medicine in Pennsylvania, regulating the manufacture and sale of tuberculin, mallein and other biological products for use with domestic animals, defining the powers and duties of the State Livestock Sanitary Board and the officers and employees thereof, fixing the compensation of the State Veterinarian and Deputy State Veterinarian and providing penalties for the violation of this act

Mr. HUFFMAN, from the Committee on Judiciary Special, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1573, entitled:

An Act to amend an act approved the 28th day of May, 1907, entitled "An Act defining the rights and duties of water companies and compelling them to furnish water to municipalities in which their source of supply is located or forfeit their rights to a sufficient quantity of water from such sources as will supply the needs of such municipality, city, borough or township, and the inhabitants thereof; also giving private and municipal water companies, organized under the provisions of this act, the right to condemn, take and appropriate with the consent and approval of the State Water Supply Commission, a sufficient quantity of water from any source of supply lying within the corporate limits of the municipality, when such source of supply is not being utilized for supplying water to such municipality and the inhabitants thereof; also providing that water companies file statements with the State Water Supply Commission under certain conditions and making their failure to do so a misdemeanor, and prescribing penalties for a violation of the same," by providing compensation for the taking of water by municipalities and townships.

RESOLUTION TO DISCHARGE JUDICIARY SPECIAL COMMITTEE FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL NO. 252.

Mr. HUFFMAN offered the following resolution which was twice read

Resolved that the Judiciary Special Committee of the Senate be discharged from further consideration of House Bill No. 252 Senate Bill No. 622, and that the same be reported to the floor of the Senate and duly placed on the calendar

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. HUFFMAN. The resolution refers to a bill which has been in the Judiciary Special Committee since the twelfth day of March, covering the matter of a Constitutional Convention. I do not want to go into the merits of the bill at this time, but I do feel that it is the privilege of every Senator here to vote for or against this bill. It is a referendum and if there would be anything about this bill that was not satisfactory, it can be amended as any other bill can be on the floor of the Senate. But I do deny the right of this Committee or any other to decide for the whole body of Senators that they may not consider on the floor of the Senate this bill. This bill is a matter of grave importance to the Senate and to our respective districts, and after a full consideration it is the duty, I think, of every committee when a bill of this character is before it, to take some action upon it. And on this matter I ask for the ayes and nays.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I hardly know how to answer the gentleman's motion to discharge the Committee which has had the Constitutional Convention bill before it for some time. I wish to say, however, that when this bill was up for a hearing and the proponents were to be heard, the Chairman of this Committee had a canvass of the members of the Senate who belong to the Committee to attend that Committee hearing, and then after canvassing every member of the Committee to come to that hearing, it was found that four would be at the hearing and the rest of the Committee was made up of Senators who were not members of that Committee. The truth of the matter is, Mr. President, that a good many members of that Committee and other committees in the Senate are willing as long as the Chairman of the committee has the intelligence to hold a bill, I mean intelligence of the wish of some members of that Committee that they do not want that bill to come out and he sees that intelligence and keeps the bill in committee. They never came to that hearing to vote upon it, and it seems to me the Chairman has a perfect right to exercise his privilege and go and canvass the members who were present at the hearing held by the committee, or any majority of the members of that Committee who were at the hearing of the proponents of the Constitutional Convention when they decided that the bill should not come out for the present. It seems to me that should be binding upon other members of the Committee who refused to attend the hearing whereof they had notice. Now, then, so far as I am concerned I am not playing any politics in this matter, and I wish to say as a matter of privilege, I am not afraid to take any position in Committee that I will not take outside, and without being discourteous or unkind to some members of this Committee, I would not like to say that they are in the same position. Now, then, the Constituional Convention bill was discussed in the Committee and among members on the floor and by the Chairman, and the majority of that Committee are not yet ready to report on it. We had a meeting last week against the Constitutional Convention, and permit me to say that the Chairman had just the same trouble to get a hearing by the members of the Committee as he had several weeks before when the proponents were to be heard. Now for the purpose of printing and newspaper exploitation, I submit it is a very good proposition to move to discharge the Committee, and I do not object to that kind of advantage if any Senator desires to take it. As for myself, it is a matter of perfect indifference to me what the newspapers say as long as I try to act in consonance with my conscience and what I believe is just in the premises. I am fully aware. I might just as well state as this time, gentlemen of the Senate, that the Republican party is pledged to a Constitutional Convention, and many other so-called uplifting bills. While I have been a Republican for many years, I am not in the Senate, however, by Republican or so-called Progressive votes. I am here because a constituency in Schuylkill County, regardless of party, saw fit to give me a majority at the last election, although there was considerable hysteria and considerable uncertainty as to what was politically right and sane. However, the election decided that and decided it conclusively, especially when you compare the vote with the vote of four years ago when the party was united, and we had, as we thought then some formidable opposition. The majority was very small as compared with the majority which the Senator from that district had at this session. Now I want to say to the members of the Senate, who are called upon to vote this bill out of Committee that if they had attended the meetings of the Committee when they were held and had been as honest with the Chairman in saying they were in favor of getting this bill out of committee as they may be anxious to show the public that they want to make themselves right with the so-called Republican organization or the Democratic Party, the bill might be out and voted upon and defeated as I believe it will be and ought to be. Now, so far as the pledges of the Republican Party are concerned, I wish to say to the Senate, and to the Republican members of the Senate, that I do not believe they are bound by any pledge made through an organization that painted the Republican ship red and put a pirate's banner upon it upon the high seas with a hawser underneath the ocean to connect with a new ship, so they could get the old one and new one together when they saw fit. I don't believe any Republican is bound by any pledge made through that kind of an organization, and so far as I am concerned personally, I want to say I believe I have as much regard for my word and my pledge as any member of the Senate or any member of the Republican, Democratic or so-called Progressive Party. Personally I am opposed to the Constitutional Convention bill, and I said so to members of the Committee, and I wish to say that the majority of the members of that Committee so stated to me, and I am very sorry that the gentleman from Monroe feels that this Committee has not given the Senate a fair opportunity. And I wish to say to the members of this Senate that in all the while that this bill has been in the Committee of Judiciary Special not a member of this body has asked to have it reported out, not one. Now the gentlemen who are anxious to get it out of Committee are either playing to the public, to the galleries or they are playing the chairman of the Committee. So far as I am concerned I wish to state that if this Committee desires to report this bill out all they need to do is to say so at the meeting of the Committee and it is unfair to the Chairman, unfair to the members who attended these committee hearings to say that it is smothered in Committee and not permitted to come out because it is the knowledge of the chairman that at least nine-tenths of the members of that Committee have voted to postpone it for the present, not indefinitely, and the call did not come from the great Republican Party. I want to say to the Republican Senators that the men who want it are no longer in the party and no Republican Senator is bound to respond to men who deserting the ship scuttled it and had declared it no good and say it is a thing of the past and surely no Republican Senator representing the Washington party or Progressive party, which had no State platform when this pledge or when this platform presented by men who by accident took advantage of the opportunity to foist it upon the Republicans of this State. There are a good many things in the platform which according to some lawyers were adroitly done. They may pledge themselves to a constitutional convention. They may have pledged themselves to child labor bills, but they did not pledge themselves to bills drawn by certain gentlemen who are no longer members of that party, and for one I do not propose to be bound by any men who do not any longer recognize the Republican party, and who is in constant conference with the chief of the Progressive party, who say they do not belong to the Republican party unless they may run the Republican Party. Now then, gentlemen of the Senate, I wish to state again, not a member of this body not a member of this committee ever asked to have the Constitutional Convention bill reported out and in fact I wish to state that several members of the Senate said that they did not care how long it would stay in Committee, but of course, if it came out, why they would have to vote for it. Now I believe according to rules when a member of the Senate says that to the Chairman of a Committee, that means it shall stay in. He is not asking for it to come out. So far as the Chairman of the Judiciary Special Committee is concerned if the majority of the members of the Committee wish to have the Constitutional bill reported out he will abide by their request and until the majority does he will not and so far as party pledge is concerned, if any Republican Senator wishes to discuss that or any so-called Republican newspaper wishes to make that a hit and an argument why that bill should come out the Chairman of this Committee has stated where he stands. He still believes in Republican principles, but believes that the men to carry out Republican principles are the men who helped to make that party not scuttle it, and so far as he is concerned he is not in favor of a constitutional convention and he says this about every other bill before that Committee and what he says in Committee the Chairman of the Judiciary Special is willing to say on the floor of the Senate. Now I submit, other members of the Senate do likewise.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I trust that the members of this Senate will vote down the resolution as offered by Senator Huffman. The Judiciary Special Committee has given to the bill relating to the Constitutional Convention as much consideration in its deliberation as any other bill that has been before this body or any Committee of this body. Only on last Tuesday night the Committee had a hearing upon the bill and they sat until practically 11 o'clock and the meeting of the Senate taking place at ten o'clock in the morning, by 12 o'clock Wednesday most of the members had departed for home and the remaining members departed between 2 and 3 o'clock in the afternoon. If there is any bill before this Senate that has been given more consideration in the matter of hearings I would like to know from any Senator who is on any other committee outside of Judiciary Special. The Committee has its usual meetings on Tuesday, the matter of reporting of the bill either affirmatively or negatively will be considered in its proper time and this session from all appearances is not going to draw to a close at a very early date and I think it is only due to the members of that Committee that the courtesy extended to all the Committees of this Senate be extended to the Judiciary Special. I trust the members of this Senate will consider because I would like to hear from any Senator who will say this Committee has not given this bill due and proper consideration, and that this bill be left in the hands of the Commiteee until the Committee has had sufficient time after the hearing of last Tuesday to give it sufficient consideration before reporting on it.

Mr. FARLEY. Mr. President, I would just like to say that while the district I have the honor to represent is in favor of a constitutional convention, yet after hearing the remarks of the Chairman in all fairness due to him I do not think I can vote to discharge that Committee.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I did not intend saying anything more about it except this. I think the Chairman of that Committee is a little bit forgetful yhen he makes the statement that nobody has asked to have the bill reported out; however I think that quite immaterial. The bill has been in that Committee for three months and doubtful courtesy so-called here, seems only to run in one direction and never runs in favor of the minority and never runs in favor of anything that would strike at or in any way affect a loaded committee. I am only asking for the benefit of the Senators on the floor of the right to vote on this question and if the Chairman thinks he has enough to defeat it he need have no fear. When I came down here in January I was not in favor of a constitutional convention but realizing the great difficulty there is existing in this State, the turmoils that we are experiencing, realizing that the great Republican Party of this State two years ago believed then that a constitutional convention should be held and the public sentiment was not yet ripe for it, but the public sentiment is getting worse and next year there will be a turmoil again, the following year a governor will be elected, a United States Senator and then in preparation for a presidential campaign. I am saying in all fairness, in all sincerity without any politics in this matter that the best time to hold a constitutional convention and relieve this situation in Pennsylvania is now. We are face to face tonight with a bill called an Employers Liability Act which is drawn under the constitution of Pennsylvania so as to include perhaps one-half of the population of this State, and it is not desired to so include them but to make that bill constitutional under this old archaic constitution we have in Pennsylvania it is necessary to so draw the bill. I say this legislation is endangered. We cannot make progress in Pennsylvania because the constitution is not in shape to permit us to do so. The constitution is being constantly attacked. There are now pending in this legislature twenty-one different amendments and I am saying that the longer you wait for a constitutional convention—because it will come gentlemen—the worse situation you will have to meet and while I feel just as much as anyone here that you don't want to do anything with a constitutional convention that will disturb the progress of the state, there is no use waiting.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I have no objection to that, but I think whatever remarks the Chairman has to make he may as well address to the Senate.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I simply desire to ask, does he refuse to be interrogated?

The PRESIDENT. Does the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, refuse to be interrogated?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I decline to be interrogated.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I may make a statement later that will answer the same purpose.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HUFFMAN and Mr. JARRETT and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 162, as follows:

An Act providing for the joint acquisition by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey of certain toll bridges over the Delaware River and making an appropriation therefor

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the word "bridge" wherever used in this act shall mean any bridge wherever toll is charged over the Delaware River between the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey except such bridges as are used exclusively for railroad or railway purposes and shall include the actual bridge the approaches thereto and all real and personal property including the franchise belonging to the owner or owners of such bridge used in the operation and maintenance of same

Section 2 The Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is hereby constituted a commission to act in conjunction with a similar commission of the State of New Jersey as a joint commission for the acquisition of the various toll bridges over the Delaware River between the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey

Section 3 The acquisition of said toll bridges may be either by purchase or by condemnation proceedings as said joint commission may deem more expedient The one-half of the cost of acquiring said bridges shall be paid by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

Section 4 The said joint commission as soon as conveniently may be after the passage of this act shall ascertain or estimate the value of each of such bridges and shall in writing give notice of such valuation to the respective owner or owners thereof Such notice shall contain an offer to purchase such bridge at the respective valuation

Section 5 In the event that the owner or owners of any such bridge refuse or neglect to accept such offer it shall be the duty of said joint commission to determine in which state the said condemnation proceedings may be instituted

Section 6 In the event that said joint commission determine to institute any such condemnation proceedings in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania application shall be made by the Attorney General or by the owner or owners of any such bridge to the Court of Common Pleas of the county in which the head of such bridge is situated for the appointment of viewers Whereupon said court or any law judge thereof shall appoint three discreet and disinterested freeholders to view such bridge and estimate the value thertof None of said freeholders shali be a resident of the county wherein such application shall be made The said court shall fix a time not less than twenty nor more than thirty days thereafter when said viewers shall meet upon the property and view the same The said viewers shall cause at least ten days personal notice of the time and place of such first meeting to be given to the Attorney General and to the owner or owners of such bridge if resident within said county If said owner is a corporation such notice shall be given to the president secretary or treasurer thereof if such officer resides within said county If neither said owner or any of said officers resides within said county or cannot be found therein notice of such first meeting shall be given as said court may direct

Section 7. The said viewers having been duly sworn or affirmed faithfully and impartially to perform the duties required of them under the provisions of this act shall at the time fixed for said first meeting proceed to ascertain as accurately as may be the value of such bridge and to that end may require the attendance of any persons whose testimony may be pertinent thereto and the production of any such books and papers as said viewers may deem necessary If any person shall refuse to appear and testify before said viewers or refuse to produce such books and papers when thereto required the said court or any judge thereof shall upon application of said viewers or a quorum thereof make such order therein as may be necessary

Section 8 Whenever said viewers shall have ascertained the value of said bridge they shall prepare a full report of their labors Said report shall include a plan showing the location of said bridge Upon the completion of said report the viewers shall fix a time when they shall meet and exhibit same Ten days written notice of the time and place of such meeting shall be given to said Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings to the Attorney-General and to the owner or owners of said bridge At the time and place mentioned in such notice the said viewers shall meet and shall publicly exhibit said report and hear all exceptions thereto After making any changes in such report as they may deem necessary the same shall be filed in said court.

Section 9. Within thirty days after the filing of said report in said court the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or any person interested may file exceptions thereto whereupon said court may confirm said report absolutely or modify it or refer it back to the same or to new viewers with like powers and duties as the former viewers

Section 10 Within thirty days after final action on said report by the court the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or any person interested may demand a trial by jury or may appeal to the Supreme Court

Section 11. The cost of said condemnation proceedings including the court costs compensation of viewers and the advertising herein required shall be paid by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania Each of said viewers shall receive a sum not exceeding five dollars ($5.00) for each day actually and necessarily employed in the performance of the duties herein prescribed

Section 12. The one-half part of the purchase of said bridge or of the damages awarded under said condemnation proceedings shall be paid by the Treasurer of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania upon warrants drawn by the Auditor General under such conditions as may be prescribed by said Auditor General

Section 13. As soon as said joint commission and said owners shall have agreed upon the price of any such bridge or as soon as said joint commission shall have determined to acquire any such bridge by condemnation proceedings of the said joint commission if funds sufficient for the purchase of the bridge are available shall at once take possession of such bridge in the joint names of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey Toll charges on such bridge shall thereupon cease and such bridge shall thereafter be free to the traveling public under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by such joint commission or their lawful successors Any railroad or railway now having the use of any such bridge by lease or agreement shall continue to pay to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey in equal proportions the same rental charges and in the same manner as such charges are now paid to the owner or owners of such bridge.

Until the amount of such purchase price is paid to the owner or owners of such bridge interest shall be paid thereon at the rate of six per centum Interest at the same rate shall be paid on any award or verdict under condemnation proceedings from the time of taking such bridge until the termination of such proceedings by final decree of said court or of final decree on an appeal to the Supreme Court if any be taken.

Section 14. Upon the acquisition of any such bridge by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey the same shall remain in the charge and control of said joint commission or their successors Such bridge shall thereafter be maintained jointly by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey shall be kept in constant repair and shall be rebuilt when destroyed The one-half of any and all expense connected with such maintenance repair or rebuilding shall be paid by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Section 15. To carry out the provisions of this act the sum of five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000.00) is hereby specificially appropriated out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated Not more than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000.00) thereof shall be used in any one year.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I think some of the Senators are mistaken about this bill. This is not the bill that we had a public hearing on last week. The bill that we had a public hearing on that refers to the city of Pittsburgh and Philadelphia is still in committee and has not been reported out. This is another bill.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1325 (House No. 969) entitled:

An Act relative to commissioners of townships of the first class and regulating their term and election

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. McNICHOLS. Mr. President. I ask unanimous consent to amend the bill in section 1, line 23, by striking out after the word "commissioners" the words "The terms of the present;" also by striking out in section 1, lines 24, 25 and 26.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendments were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 1326 (House Bill No. 984), on third reading, entitled:

An Act to provide for the registration and enrollment of voters of the State according to their respective party preferences fixing the compensation of registry assessors for making said registration and enrollment and prescribing penalties for false registration or enrollment and for voters voting or attempting to vote and for election officers permitting or conspiring to permit them to vote at a primary by or on any other than their own party ticket

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1375, as follows:

An Act providing for the formation and regulation of stock corporations having shares without nominal or par value and authorizing such corporations to issue shares without par value upon reorganization merger or consolidation

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That upon the formation or reorganization of any stock corporation under the laws of this Commonwealth now or hereafter in force or upon the merger or consolidation thereunder of two or more such corporations provision may be made for the issuance of the shares of stock of such corporation other than preferred stock having a preference as to principal without any nominal or par value by stating in the certificate of incorporation or reorganization or in the joint agreement of merger and consolidation

(a) The number of shares that may be issued by the corporation and if any of such shares be preferred stock the preferences thereof If such preferred stock or any part thereof shall have a preference as to principal the certificate shall state the amount of such preferred stock having such preference the particular character of such preferences and the amount of each share thereof which shall be five dollars or some multiple of five dollars but not more than one hundred dollars

(b) The amount of capital with which the corporation will carry on business which amount shall be not less than the amount of preferred stock (if any) authorized to be issued with a preference as to principal and in addition thereto a sum equivalent to at least five dollars for every share authorized to be issued other than such preferred stock but in no event shall the amount of such capital be less than one thousand dollars

Such statements in the certificate shall be in lieu of any statements prescribed by the law under which the corporation shall have been formed or reorganized merged or consolidated as to the amount or the maximum amount of its capital stock or the number of shares into which the same shall be divided or the amount or the par value of such shares

Section 2 Each share of such stock without nominal or par value shall be equal to every other share of such stock subject to the preferences given to the preferred stock if any authorized to be issued Provided however That the voting power of the different classes of stock (whether preferred or common) to be issued hereunder may be so regulated in accordance with the Constitution of this Commonwealth as may be provided in the certificate of incorporation or reorganization or in the joint agreement of merger and consolidation or in the by-laws of the corporation

Section 3 Every certificate for such shares without nominal or par value shall have plainly written or printed upon its face the number of such shares which it represents and no such certificate shall express any nominal or par value of such shares The certificates for preferred shares shall state briefly any rights given to the holders of such shares in preference to the holders of other shares

Section 4 Such corporation may issue and may sell its authorized shares from time to time for such consideration as may be perscribed in the certificate of incorporation or reorganization or in the joint agreement of merger or consolidation or as from time to time may be fixed by the board of directors pursuant to authority which authority may be conferred upon the board of directors in such certificate or agreement or if such certificate or agreement shall not so provide then pursuant to authority of the holders of two-thirds of each class of shares then outstanding given at a meeting called for that purpose in such manner as shall be prescribed by the by-laws

Section 5 Any and all shares issued as permitted by this act shall be deemed fully paid and non-assessable and the holder of such shares shall not be liable to the corporation or to its creditors in respect thereof

Section 6 No corporation authorized to issue stock without par value in pursuance of this act shall begin to carry on business or shall incur any indebtedness until the amount of its capital as stated in pursuance of this act shall have been full paid in cash or in property taken at its actual value Provided That nothing in this act shall be held to exempt any corporation from the payment of ten per centum of its capital in cash as now required by law The directors of the corporation in whose administration any indebtedness has been incurred in violation of this section except those who may have caused their dissent therefrom to be entered on the minutes of such directors at the time or who being absent when such action was taken shall have filed their objections with the secretary of the corporation upon learning of such action shall be liable jointly and severally for such indebtedness but no action shall be brought under the foregoing provision of this section unless within one year after the indebtedness shall have been incurred the creditor shall have served upon the director written notice of intention to hold him personally liable for such indebtedness Any director who because of any such liability under this section shall pay any indebtedness of the corporation shall be subrogated to all rights of the creditor in respect thereof against the corporation and its property and also shall be entitled to contribution from all other directors of the corporation similarly liable for the same indebtedness and the personal representative of any such director who shall have died before making such contribution

Section 7 No such corporation shall declare any dividend which shall reduce the amount of its capital below the amount stated in pursuance of this act as the amount of capital with which the corporation will carry on business In case any such dividend shall be declared the directors in whose administration the same shall have been declared except those who may have caused their dissent therefrom to be entered upon the minutes of such directors at the time or who being absent when such action was taken shall have filed their objections with the secretary of the corporation upon learing of such action shall be liable jointly and severally to such corporation and to the creditors thereof to the full amount of any loss sustained by such corporation or by its creditors respectively by reason of such dividend with rights of subrogation and contribution as provided in section six hereof

Section 8 Any corporation having shares without par value in pursuance of this act may increase or reduce the number of shares which it may issue or may increase or reduce the amount of its stated capital in the manner and subject to the terms and conditions now provided by law for the increase or reduction of the capital stock of a similar corporation having shares with a par value Provided however That the stated capital as increased or reduced shall be in compliance with the provisions of section one sub-division (b) hereof In case consent is given to an increase of stated capital or to an increase of the number of shares that may be issued the resolutions of directors and stockholders declaring such purpose and consenting to such increase included in the return filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall specify the amount of such authorized increase of stated capital if any and the number of additional shares authorized

Section 9 The bonus required by law to be paid upon the authorized capital stock of a corporation shall in the case of a corporation issuing shares without par value be paid upon the amount of capital with which the corporation carries on business as stated pursuant to section one sub-division (b) of this act and upon any increase thereof

Section 10 No corporation which shall issue shares without par value in pursuance of this act shall be authorized to issue any shares except as herein prescribed

Section 11 For the purpose of any rule of law or of any statutory provision (other than the provisions of this act) relating to the amount of the capital stock of a corporation or the amount or par value of its shares the aggregate amount of the capital stock of any such corporation having power hereunder to issue shares without nominal or par value shall be deemed to be the aggregate amount specified in the certificate or certificates or thejoint agreement filed in pursuance of this act as the amount of capital with which the corporation shall carry on business the amount or the par value of each share of preferred stock having a preference as to principal shall be deemed to be the amount thereof so specified and the amount or the par value of each other share shall be deemed to be an aliquot part of the aggregate capital so specified in excess of the specified amount (if any) of the preferred stock therein authorized to be issued with a preference as to principal In any case where under existing law corporation is required to make return to any public officer stating the rate percentum of dividends declared within any stated period a corporation having shares without par value shall make return of the amount per share of dividends declared within such period

Section 12 Except as otherwise provided by this act corporations issuing shares without par value under the provisions hereof shall be and remain subject to the laws of the Commonwealth now or hereafter in force relating to the formation and regulation of such corporations and all other laws applicable thereto

Section 13 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED FOR THE PRESENT.

Mr. McNICHOLS. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now resume the consideration of Senate Bill No. 1216 (House Bill 1194), on final passage postponed for the present, entitled:

An Act providing for the election of a borough controller in all boroughs of this Commonwealth prescribing the qualification powers and duties thereof and abolishing the office of borough auditors in said borough

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1216 (House Bill No. 1194), entitled:

An Act providing for the election of a borough controller in all boroughs of this Commonwealth prescribing the qualifications powers and duties thereof and abolishing the office of borough auditors in said boroughs

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McNICHOLS. Mr. President, this bill provides for the election of a controller in boroughs and is optional. In section 8 on page 5 "This act shall not become operative or affective in any borough until the council of any borough shall by ordinance duly passed accept the provisions hereof," so that any borough in the State can accept the provisions or reject them. Some boroughs having eighteen or twenty thousand population wish to have a controller instead of an auditor and this bill gives them the right to elect a controller and abolish the office of auditor.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 469 ((House Bill No. 130), on second reading, entitled:

An Act amending section twenty-six of an act entitled "An Act to regulate the nomination and election of public officers requiring certain expenses incident thereto to be paid by the several counties and punishing certain offenses in regard to such elections" approved the tenth day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred ninety-three by providing for secrecy in voting for rendering assistance to voters unable to mark their ballots by reason of physical disability defining the term physical disability and imposing certain duties upon election officers and clerks go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 721 (House Bill No. 118), on second reading, entitled:

An Act regulating certain political parties providing for and regulating the nomination of candidates of such political parties for certain public offices the election of delegates and alternate delegates to national party conventions and of certain party officers a method whereby electors of such political parties may express their choice of candidates for the office of President of the United States and the payment by the several counties and their reimbursement by the State of the expenses of the same and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act and for the punishments of certain offenses provided for herein and repealing inconsistent legislation

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 361, as follows:

An Act to authorize the acquisition at the cost of the Commonwealth for the use of the respective counties of bridges over one thousand feet in length erected over rivers creeks and rivulets by corporations organized under general or special laws except bridges occupied in whole or in part by steam railroads and for the abolition of tolls thereon and regulating the procedure in such cases

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That when any bridge company incorporated under any general or special laws has heretofore erected or may hereafter erect any bridge over a river creek or rivulet crossing any road or highway on which the public are required to travel and which bridge shall be more than one thousand feet in length and such company or corporation is authorized to use and take tolls for the use and crossing of such bridge and at least twenty residents and tax payers of the county where such bridge is situated shall petition the court of common pleas of Dauphin county or if said bridge be located on a river creek or rivulet dividing two counties then upon petition of at least twenty residents and tax payers of each county representing that the said bridge is necessary for the accommodation of public travel and that the payment of such bridge toll is burdensome to the traveling public and praying that the same shall be taken for public use as a county bridge the said court shall appoint five disinterested persons none of whom shall be residents of the county or counties wherein such bridge is located and one of whom shall be a civil engineer to view the said bridge and assess the damages if any which such company may sustain by the taking of the same and make report of their proceeding to the said court of common pleas of Dauphin county at the next term thereof Provided That no bridge shall be taken to be a county bridge under the provisions of this act which shall be used in whole or in part by any steam railroad duly incorporated under the laws of this Commonwealth

Section 2 The viewers so appointed shall give notice to the Attorney General of this Commonwealth and the county commissioners of the respective counties in which the said bridge is located of the time and place appointed for the meeting of the viewers They shall have authority to subpoena and compel the attendance of witnesses and to hear and take testimony of witnesses in relation thereto for and against the same

Section 3 The viewers so appointed or a majority of them shall make report at the next term of court which said report shall state particularly First who of them were present at the view Second whether they were severally sworn or affirmed Third whether the bridge be necessary as a free bridge for public accommodation and the payment of tolls on the same is an unjust burden on the traveling public and the people of the city borough or township where the same is located Fourth the amount of damage if any sustained by such corporation or corporations by reason of the taking of the same

Section 4 Notice of the filing of such report shall be given to the Attorney General and Auditor General and the county commissioners of the county or counties in which such bridge is located and to the corporation owning the same either of whom shall have the right to file exceptions thereto at any time within thirty days and it shall be the duty of the said court of common pleas of Dauphin county after hearing upon deposition or otherwise as the said court may direct to determine all questions raised by the said exceptions and whether or not the said bridge is necessary for the public accommodation and that payment of tolls thereon is an unjust burden on the travelling public and the people of the cities boroughs or townships where the same is located subject to appeal to the Supreme Court as in other cases If the said report shall be finally approved and confirmed by the said court the court shall order and decree that said bridge shall be taken for public use and forthwith be declared and taken as a county bridge and the damages shall be payable by the State Treasurer on warrants drawn by the Auditor General out of any moneys specifically appropriated for the purpose of paying damages incurred by the appropriation of such bridges and thereupon all tolls for travel thereon shall cease

Section 5 The company owning said bridges shall have the right to appeal from any award of damages made under the provisions of this act to the court of common pleas of Dauphin county under such regulations for bringing the matter to trial in due course of law by a jury as the said court may prescribe

Section 6 All costs and expenses incident to any proceedings under this act shall in case the said bridge is taken to be a county bridge be paid by the county or counties in which said bridge is located but if the said petition is dismissed or the final determination thereof shall be adverse to the taking of said bridge then such costs and expenses shall be paid by the petitioners

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. MAGEE. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 415, on second reading, entitled:

A Supplement to an act entitled "An Act for the government of cities of the second class" approved the seventh day of March Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and one providing for the appointment of an attorney-at-law as solicitor for the department of city controller in said cities prescribing his duties and providing for his compensation

be recommitted to the Committee on Municipal Affairs.

Mr. MOORE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Magee.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Magee, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAGEE. Mr. President. Yes Sir.

Mr. SNYDER. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Magee, state the reason for recommitting the bill to the Committee on Municipal Affairs?

Mr. MAGEE. Mr. President, for the purpose of a hearing.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, it seems to me that this bill on its face is plain and tells what the purposes of it are.

Mr. HUNTER. Mr. President, I would like to know from the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Magee, what the purpose is to recommit this bill?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Magee, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAGEE. Mr. President, I will. The purpose of recommitting this bill is for the purpose of a hearing.

Mr. HUNTER. Mr. President, I just wish to say that this bill was in Committee of Municipal Affairs for considerable length of time and as it didn't happen to be in a bunch of what we may term the fifty-seven varieties of second-class city bills was held in Committee until last week and it was probably in there about three months. There was a hearing given on the bill and it was postponed for the present. Now I wish to say, Mr. President, in objection to this bill being recommitted it is only for the purpose of bottling it up and that I am opposed to. If they want to defeat the bill let them do it now and I have no objection to that if they have enough votes to do it, but the purpose of introducing this bill is to enable the City Controller of second class cities who is elected by the people to appoint his own counsel. You can readily understand and every member of this Senate can understand that there is bound to be a difference of opinion arise between the Mayor of any city of the second class and the Controller of the same. Now as matters stand the mayors of cities appoint the full board of attorneys and I must say so far as the City of Pittsburgh is concerned all languages are properly represented, even the dead ones. And any matter that transpires on which the controller requires counsel it has been necessary for him time after time to spend from his own purse funds to secure counsel to conduct his own department or that of the municipality. That is certainly not fair and it is equally unfair to expect an appointee of the mayor to give counsel contrary to the desire of the man who appoints him. Now that only is the purpose of this bill to give the city controller who is elected by the people, just as the mayor is, the authority to appoint his own counsel and I sincerely trust that this motion will not prevail.

Mr. MAGEE. Mr. President, I have no desire to bottle this bill or any other bill in the Committee of this body. When I ask for this hearing I asked it in good faith and I ask for a hearing to-morrow afternoon. I have never yet recommitted a bill for the purpose of a hearing without having a hearing, and if the hearing is not held then I ask that the Committee report the bill out of that Committee for the consideration of this body. On May 6th, House Bill No. 1703 was recommitted for the purpose of a hearing by the gentleman from Allegheny. The hearing was never held. On May 6th, House Bill No. 1113 was recommitted to the Committee on Corporations for a purpose of a hearing. That hearing has never been held. On the same day House Bill No. 1119 was recommitted for the purpose of a hearing by the gentleman from Allegheny, and the hearing has never been held. On the same day House Bill No. 1503 was recommitted for the purpose of a hearing and that hearing was never held. On the same day House Bill 1228 was recommitted to the Committee on Coruorations by the gentlemen from Allegheny for the purpose of a hearing and that hearing was never held. On May 12th, House Bill 1236 was recommitted for the purpose of a hearing by the gentlemen from Allegheny and that hearing was never held. On the same day House Bill No. 1562 was recommitted for the purpose of a hearing by the gentlemen from Allegheny and that hearing was never held. On May 20 House Bill No. 1600 was recommitted for the purpose of a hearing and that hearing was never held. These bills which I have enumerated and which he include among what he calls the fifty-seven varieties, were all reported from the Committee on Municipal Affairs, some of them Corporations, others Judiciary Special and spread out through the various committees of this body. I come here to-night and ask that this bill be recommitted for a hearing to-morrow. I ask that in good faith.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. MAGEE and Mr. MOORE.

Mr. HUNTER. Mr. President, I move to amend the motion that the bill go over in its order instead of recommitting it.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair states that after a call for the "Yeas" and "Nays" is made and seconded that the motion of the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Hunter, to amend is not in order, unless the call for the "Yeas" and "Nays" be withdrawn.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion to recommit the bill to the Committee on Municipal Affairs?

The yeas and nays were as follows, viz:

YEAS—18.

Beidleman,
Daix,
DeWitt,

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 781, as follows:

To authorize an appropriation for the benefit of incorporated musical organizations by boroughs or municipalities of any class whatsoever in the Commonwealth

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That from and after the passage of this act all boroughs in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or municipalities of any class whatsoever may appropriate such sums as are deemed advisable to pay the rent or to provide quarters of any musical organization which has been incorporated and has had an existence as a musical organization of over five years from this date

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 796 (House Bill No. 399).

An Act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and regulating procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder

The first, second and third sections of Article I were read as follows and agreed to:

ARTICLE I

Damages by Action at Law

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in any action brought to recover damages for personal injury to an employee in the course of his employment or for death resulting from such injury it shall not be a defense

(a) That the injury was caused in whole or in part by the negligence of a fellow employee or

(b) That the employee had assumed the risk of the injury or

(c) That the injury was caused in any degree by the negligence of such employee unless it be established that the injury was caused by such employee's intoxication or by his reckless indifference to danger The burden of proving such intoxication or reckless indifference to danger shall be upon the defendant and the question shall be one of fact to be determined by the jury

Section 2 The employer shall be liable for the negligence of all employees while acting within the scope of their employment including engineers chauffeurs miners mine-foremen fire-bosses mine superintendents plumbers officers of vessels and all other employees licensed by the State or other governmental authority if the employer be allowed by law the right of free selection of such employees from the class of persons thus licensed

Section 3 An employer who permits the entry upon premises occupied by him or under his control of a laborer or of an assistant hired by an employee or contractor for the performance upon such premises of a part of the employer's regular business entrusted to such employee or contractor shall be liable to such laborer or assistant in the same manner and to the same extent as to his own employee

The fourth section of Article I was read as follows:

Section 4 No agreement composition or release of damages made before the happening of any accident except the agreement defined in Article two of this act shall be valid or shall bar a claim for damages for the injury resulting therefrom and any such agreement other than that defined in Article two herein is declared to be against the public policy of this Commonwealth The receipt of benefits from any association society or fund to which the employee shall have been a contributor shall not bar the recovery of damages by action at law nor the recovery of compensation under article two hereof and any release executed in consideration of such benefits shall be void This article shall not apply to any employer who does not elect to be bound by the provisions of article two in the manner hereinafter provided

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I move to amend section 4 of Article I, in line 12, by striking out the words "This article shall not apply to any employer"; also by striking out all of lines 13 and 14.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I would like to know if the amendment is simply to strike out the elective feature in the bill as put in by the Committee on Corporations.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, yes, sir.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, as the Chairman of the Committee on Corporations, before which this bill was considered at length, I feel under the circumstances and especially in view of the publicity that has been given this bill and the amendment, that something should be said in defense of the Committee's action in inserting this amendment. In the first place I want to say that this bill came into the hands of the Committee on Corporations with that Committee strongly prejudiced in favor of a workmen's compensation bill. We recognized the binding force and effect of a recommendation along that line by the political parties to which we belong. We recognized the fact that that demand was made in the platform of each political party, in fact in the platforms of all three political parties and that therefore without any regard to politics the members of the Senate and of the Legislature as a whole were committed to the enactment of a fair workmen's compensation bill. We took up the consideration of this bill, as I said before, prejudiced in favor of such legislation and I want to say in defence of the Committee that there is not a man on the Committee but who stands to-day in favor of the enactment of a workmen's compensation law. The point upon which we differ from those who proposed this legislation is not to the principle but to the plan submitted in this bill. We gave the fullest opportunity to the proponents of the bill and also to those who were against its enactment. A number of hearings were held and the fullest opportunity for discussion and consideration given it. After the hearings ended we considered it frequently, seriously, conscientiously in executive session. We were in constant communication with the proponents of the bill and by that I mean with the Governor of the State and with the members of the Commission who framed this bill. We made an honest effort, Mr. President, to arrive at some compromise which would eliminate what we regard as the unfair drastic, unreasonable features of this bill. Some other form of compensation was discussed and proposed but the proponents of the bill stood committed to this plan and refused to consider the substitution of any other plan of compensation for the one that was embraced in this legislation. So, Mr. President, it was not for the purpose of defeating the enactment of a workmen's compensation bill but in defence of the employers of labor over this State that the amendment as a last resort was put into this legislation. We argued that if the claims of the advocates of this legislation were correct, if it was correct that the larger corporations of the State were satisfied with the provisions of this bill that under this amendment, if they were in good faith they would have an opportunity to come under its provisions and demonstrate within the next two years its workable features and if their contention be true, as we propose to continue this commission for the next two years to study its operation as applied to the corporations that see fit to accept its provisions, then at the end of that time if the larger corporations of this State who are standing for it accept its provisions and demonstrate its workable features, the commission could come to the Legislature in two years and report that those were the conditions and there would not be a dissenting voice against amending it so as to make it apply to all the employers of labor of this State. Mr. President, under our Constitution it is impossible to enact a workmen's compensation law that limits the compensation for personal injuries. Under our Constitution it is impossible to enact a compensation law that does not apply to all employes and to all employers. This is called an optional bill. It is made optional or called optional because under our Constitution you cannot enact any other kind of a bill but in order to make it compulsory this bill provides that as a penalty on the employer for refusing to accept its provisions his defences of contributory negligence, of the negligence of the fellow servant, or the assumption of the risk are wiped off the statute books and the common law and there is no other course left open to him, Mr. President, but to come under the provisions of this bill, otherwise he would be put in the position of having his cause tried without a single defence available. Now we argued that if this bill were optional, if this bill were to be made compulsory by its conditions on the one side then it ought to be made compulsory on the other; but there they encountered that constitutional provision which says that you cannot limit the amount of compensation for personal injuries by law. So what is the condition that this bill is actually in in its original form? The employer of labor is forced under its provisions by having his defences taken away and the employee himself has a right to refuse to accept its provisions and his employer after he has refused to accept the provisions is forced to go into the trial of a cause with him for personal injuries without a single defence to sustain him because that section of this act, this section that we have under consideration, wipes away from the employer of labor if he refuses to accept the provisions of the bill all his defences. This is one of the matters, Mr. President, to which we objected. We felt that if this bill were to be made optional on the one side with its compulsory features then it ought to be made compulsory on the other and that was one of the strenuous objections we made to this provision in the bill. Now another objection. As I said before, under our Constitution we cannot exclude or except from the operation of the bill any particular employer or employes and for that reason the small manufacturer of labor who may himself be a laborer, the small manufacturer of labor with a small capital invested who is himself an employe is put in a position under this bill of paying to his employe notwithstanding the fact that he may not be financially responsible, notwithstanding the fact that the employe may be worth in dollars and cents more than the employer himself, he is obligated under this bill and there is no escape from it, he is obligated under this bill to take the dollars and cents away from his own wife and children notwithstanding the fact that they may need it worse than the man who is injured and turn it over to him who has already more of this world's goods than the employer himself. Now we felt, Mr. President, that this was an unfair provision of this bill. But they say to you that that is an exceptional case. Mr. President, I say to you that there are thousands of cases in the State of Pennsylvania where the employer of labor is worth less in dollars and cents than the man he employs and notwithstanding that fact under the provisions of this bill it would be necessary for him to take even the smaller amount that he has and give it over to him who has already more. Now they say that you can remedy all this by insurance. Mr. President, it would be ten years before the farmers and small employers of labor of this State would ever find that this bill is on the statute books and they would never find it out unless some solicitor for casualty employment company would seek them out. He would never find it out until some accident happened that took away from him what he had labored long years to save and husbanded for his wife and children, take it away and give it to somebody else who needed it not half so bad. Now, Mr. President, on account of these unfair features we felt that this bill did need serious consideration. We felt that it was not fair to put upon the statute books of this State legislation that would work injustice as this bill would necessarily work. But they say that is a rare thing. But, Mr. President, the State of Pennsylvania cannot afford to put upon her statute books legislation which of itself works injustice and outrage to any of her citizens. I am as strongly in favor of a workmen's compensation bill as anybody else. I hope that this Legislature will not close until a proper and fair law has been enacted. This proposed bill is not fair even to labor itself. Representatives of labor unions who appeared before our Committee made the statement that this bill, though not satisfactory to them, because of its objectionable features, but they felt it was the best they could get. Mr. President, I want to call the attention of this Senate to one feature of this bill that works the greatest injustice to labor itself. This bill provides that for a single man a certain amount of compensation is to be paid in case of death, that depending upon the number of his dependents. Well, we all know that with a single man there are very seldom dependents. He is usually without dependents and in that case no money whatever is paid under this bill except his funeral expenses. I want to ask you what the effect of that provision of this bill is. If the employers of labor are the hard-hearted individuals that some people would have you believe, refusing to do justice to their men in case of injury and other misfortunes, I ask you if they would not avail themselves of that provision of this bill and employ only single men so that in case of their death under this bill they would only have to pay their funeral expenses. What is the effect of that? This bill is proposed to protect the man who has a wife and family dependent upon his. If there were only single men to be cared for this bill would never be proposed. It is to take care of the wife and children and loved ones in case of the death of the father. Now I ask you if, with this bill on the statute books, the employer of labor for their own protection would not employ single men to the prejudice of the married men, the men of families? And the bill works an injury and a gross injury to those that this bill hoped to help. As I said before, Mr. President, we are all for a workmen's compensation bill. I would not have any one believe that I would raise a hand here or elsewhere against the cause of labor. The laboring man is a king among men. He is the uncrowned king of this and every other land. I would not press down upon his brow one single thorn much less a crown of thorns. I am here as his friend and when there is presented to the Senate or if this bill goes to conference and there is presented to the Committee of Conference a plan of compensation that will protect the employe and not murder the small employer of labor we are for it and I hope to see this enacted before the close of this session. I ask the members of this Senate to vote down the proposed amendment to this bill. The effect of it is to strike out the optional features and that we do not want to see done.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I just want to say in reply, this bill has been drawn by a commission that has been in session for the past two years, a commission consisting of eminent lawyers as well as manufacturers and laymen and the results of their labor speaks for themselves in this bill. I will not undertake to answer the eloquence of the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Crow. I do not consider that I possess the ability except to say in reply that I think the apprehension of those gentlemen who are termed employers is rather far fetched because as an employer of labor I think that this bill is going to result not only beneficially to the laboring man but also beneficially to the employer of labor and I trust the amendment will be inserted.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, as I understand the amendment is to put the bill back in the shape it was when it came over from the House. Is that correct?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, yes.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President. Just a word. I want to confess that this bill has given me more concern than anything else I have had to vote on at this session. It is very easy for any of us to vote for these bills that seem popular and it seems a very popular thing to do and it is easy for the man who comes from a district like Philadelphia or Allegheny to say it is a benefit to the laboring men to put through a bill of this character because he has practically but one class of laborers but when you consider the districts that a number of others represent here, the country districts such as my own, it is a different matter and I feel safe to say that if there was nobody being considered here except the mine owners and the manufacturers that I would not hesitate about what to do on this bill. About 75 per cent. of my constituents, and my district is like a number of districts represented here, are farmers and householders and this bill under the same archaic constitution I was speaking about a few minutes ago takes in those people who are not desired to be covered by this bill. That is to say a farmer with one employee who owns a small farm, if an accident happens must take care of that employee the same as the manufacturer does who averages up the cost to him without very much inconvenience. Now the small farmers in districts like mine have a great deal of insurance to pay. Some of them are not able to carry fire insurance. Most of them need to carry insurance and to ask of them to pay additional insurance is more of a burder than I feel like helping to load on them. A client of mine came to my office last Saturday, a farmer, and said to me that his farm was worth about three thousand dollars and he was against this bill, that he didn't want to run the risk. He said that if he was forced to pay for one accident under this bill it would practically ruin him for life. Now the farmer who has a three thousand dollar farm is the kind of man who accumulates that much in a life time and I have not been able to convince myself, with all due respect to the laboring mens interests here, that I am doing what is proper to the majority of my constituents in helping to put this bill on the statute books as passed in the House. I am saying this with the understanding, however, that before we adjourn this session a proper compensation bill framed so that the burder does not fall upon the individual employer so hard as this one does will be agreed upon in conference in the House and Senate.

Mr. FARLEY. Mr. President, I agree with the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol, on this proposition. These gentlemen have spent the past two years trying to frame up a bill which perhaps would be of some benefit to the working class. It is true, Mr. President and Gentlemen of this Senate, that I do not employ labor, therefore perhaps it seems strange on my part to stand here to-day and crush down the employer. I am not trying to crush down the employer, I am trying to be a friend of the employer and I think that if there is any bill that will bring together both the employer and the employee this is the proper bill. This bill perhaps or bills of this character have been passed in other States of this great United States, perhaps not exactly the same but the principles to my mind are the same and I think that the men of this Senate and the men of this State desire to show their gratitude to the working class regardless of whether they be a member of organized labor or not. Now is the opportune time. It is true that we can get a bill up perhaps somewhat different from this. We all seem to be in favor of passing a workmens compensation act but we don't seem to be in favor of passing a workman's compensation act of this character. We do, and are in favor of it. Some of the gentlemen of this Senate have told you of passing an act perhaps before this Senate adjourned, but I say to you, Mr. President, and gentlemen of the Senate, let us pass the act now and not wait for amendments that will kill in its entirety the bill as it stands to-day. I am in favor of the amendment offered by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol, and will stand for this bill to the finish.

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, It appears to me to leave this optional with the manufacturer or employer who comes under this provision as they please will make a farce of this bill and I cannot see how we can have a good workmens compensation act unless all employers come under that same act. We read that the employers try to economize in every way possible to bring the greatest profits to him. and many times in doing this a great deal of danger is thrown around the employees which would not happen had more money been expended and had there not been so great a desire to make money. For this reason the employee has no way of protecting himself from danger of this kind and I say it is nothing but proper that the Legislature should come in between the employer and the employee and give a compensation act of this kind. Now this Commission is a very able Commission that has spent two years in trying to give us the best kind of an act that is possible, and I believe they have given us a good one and the employee should have the protection that is given them by this act. Many men in this State go to their work never knowing whether they will come back dead or alive or whether they will come back crippled so that they will be unable to earn a living and support their family and it seems to me that they all ought to have protection.

The miner goes to the mine and helps to dig the coal out, and when he is doing it he is giving a profit to his employer, and at the same time he is helping the consumer and giving fuel to the necessities of life. The woodsman enters the woods and works for his employer and helps to manufacture the trees into lumber, and when he is doing it he is helping his employer to get more money and at the same time helping the consumer to get lumber to build his home and for his own fuel if his fuel should be wood. Mr. President, when that same employee starts in to prepare a tree into lumber he starts in the first place to cut the tree down. Probably he is a man of skill in that line and uses his best judgment as to which way that tree shall fall. But after he has cut into the heart, possibly a great wind turns up, a great wind turns the tree the other way, or it lodges in another tree, and it falls in a different direction from what he expected and that employee is killed or crippled for life; that same log and many other logs will be put upon the lumberman's railroad and taken to his mill, and Mr. President, the employees that are taking these logs to the mill are in great danger because if you have any experience in lumbering you realize this that the employer tries to build that railroad just as economically as possible on account of the short time he will keep it in that certain valley where that timber is.

Where he should have two ties he will have one. Where he should have a heavy rail, he will have a light one, and the bending of that rail may cause danger to the employees. When these logs go to the pond there is more danger, and when these logs are taken to the mill to be sawed into lumber, there is dangerous machinery where the employees are working. Now, Mr. President, remember these employees have no profit to these lines of business. They only have their day's wages, about enough to support their family. The manufacturer has all the profit, yet if an employee is injured in any way he has to look after his own expenses, and the employer can go and hire another man to take his place and no loss to him. Why shouldn't we have an employers' liability act? The employer pays in order to protect himself against fires—pays insurance, and if he wants he can insure himself against this compensation act and it is nothing but just and right that he should have to come under this compensation act and give his employees the protection he should have. Now take this crippled man that I spoke of, that may be crippled from cutting down that tree, he has got nothing to live on but charity you might say in a great many cases, but if this compensation act goes through just as soon as he is taken to his home he will call up a doctor and he will come with all assurance that he is going to be paid, and the nurse will come with all assurance that she is going to be paid, because they know that under this compensation act they will be paid, and this same crippled man does not have to worry in addition to his sickness about financial end. He is protected in this way. I have been very much surprised the last week or ten days at the number of letters I have got from the Grangers of my Senatorial district. I live in a Senatorial district where there are a great many farmers and great many grangers. If it had not been for the Grangers' vote I would not have been elected to this Senate last fall, so I believe that I am under great obligation to the Grangers, but, Mr. President, with all the misrepresenting literature that has been sent to the Grangers throughout this State, I am satisfied that they do not understand this act as it is. It was misrepresented to them and they misunderstood it for that reason. In the face of this protest from the Grangers of that Senatorial district I am going to support this measure with the expectation that when they make an investigation as to the true meaning of this act and discover what it really means, that my action will meet with approval instead of censure, when they make that discovery, and for that reason I do not consider I am voting against their will, because I know they do not understand it. About a mile from where I live a Grange Lodge met last week, and about the only discussion that they had in the lodge was against this Workman's Compensation Act. They had heard that I favored the bill, and they had every member write to me protesting against this bill. I have received those letters and while I believe them sincere and honest in their protest against this bill, I want to say that through these misrepresentations they misunderstand it, and I do not believe if the Grangers of this State truly understood the bill they would be against it. It is impossible, as the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Crow, has stated to make it constitutional to except the farmer, but every effort has been made to protect him. If I understand the letter from Mr. Reed, the Chairman of this Commission, and of my understanding of this bill that all a farmer has to do is to hang a sign out that he does not come under this act and write a letter to some department here in Harrisburg, and he is relieved from being under this act. Now it seems to me the farmer when he understands the true meaning of this act will be willing to do that for the benefit of the employees in the great cities will get from a compensation act of this kind, and I hope the members will vote to keep this amendment in, because I consider it a farce if we pass it with this option in it.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I desire to say that if Senator Hilton understands that the farmer can except himself from the provisions of this bill by filing a notice with some department here, and serving a notice upon his employees and not sacrifice all the defenses that he now has by statute and at common law, he has been misinformed.

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, I would not pretend to enter into an argument on legal points with an attorney because I am not an attorney, but I am informed that there are three attorneys on this Commission, and they told me what I have stated to-night. I have also taken it up with attorneys in the city or town where I live, and they also told me the same thing, that what I have stated here tonight regarding this is true.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I believe the rule is not to speak more than twice. With the indulgence of the Senate I would like to state that this bill makes no exceptions whatever and the same rule that applies to the manufacturer, to the mine owner and to every other form of employer in this Commonwealth applies to the farmer. The farmer can exempt himself from the provisions of the bill, just as the mine owner can and just as the manufacturer can, but when he does he sacrifices at the same time every defense he has, and if an accident happens to an employee of the farmer, he goes to trial in the Court of Common Pleas absolutely at the mercy of the employee without one single defense at his command.

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, I agree with Senator Crow, that this exception comes under the head of all employment. I only mentioned the farmer as an example, while I was speaking about the protest the grangers were making about this act and that is the reason that I mentioned the farmer instead of somebody else, but if I understand this act right that you do not have any chance to go into the Court, that the compensation is settled right there. It states what it is and that is all there is to it.

Mr. NULTY. Mr. President, I am not going to make extended remarks on this bill, but from what I have read and the communications I have received some of the employers of labor seem to think that immediately after this bill has passed that the employees will go into the factories and deliberately run their hands into a saw or through a pair of rolls, or main themselves so that their families can be benefited. I have not heard anybody say anything about the number of accidents that happen in the State of Pennsylvania in a year. I think the employers of labor after this bill has become a law will regulate themselves to the conditions and safeguard their employees in numerous ways that they now avoid. With this bill passed, it will regulate itself as similar other legislation has that has been passed that the people have been very unfamiliar with; familiarize themselves with this bill. The employers of labor will soon regulate themselves to the conditions that surround it. Labor to-day as you know is neglected, and I hope that the members of this Senate will see fit to pass the bill as it originally came from the House.

Mr. KNAPP. As a member of the Corporation Committee I wish to state that I am in accord with the sentiments expressed by my colleague Senator Crow. We took this question under discussion, we spent a great many hours in looking it over from every standpoint, and we could see nothing in this bill that was fair to both parties. To my mind the greatest objection to this bill, is the fact that it makes the innocent man because he just happens to be an employer liable for the acts of his labor, although he may be guilty himself. The innocent man his to suffer for the acts of the guilty because he happens to be an employer. In that particular it is not fair to anyone. It is not even fair to the laborer, because the laborer in his turn becomes the employer. Ninety per cent. of the business men of this country now and they are all employers of labor in some form or other fail during some period of their life. Now to place this burden upon the business man, the farmer, the manufacturer, the employer of labor, the contractor. Now to place upon him the extra burden on the business man, the farmer, the employer of labor to place upon him the extra burden of being obliged to pay for the accidents which come to his employees, whether he is guilty or not, is unfair in every respect. It is against our American institutions, it is against our Constitution and against the idea upon which our government is based, and I believe that when we get down to the bottom of this, we will not want that principle established. We all want an employers liability act but not on the basis which makes innocent men suffer for the guilty. We want it upon a basis that when the employer is guilty himself of negligence or carelessness he becomes responsible for the act, but when it comes down to making him pay for the act of his employee, which may be willful and make him pay for these acts although he is perfectly innocent and has done everything possible to prevent it I say it is not fair and right. That is why this amendment is put into this bill. They tell us if we put this amendment into this bill making it optional that nobody will want it. If nobody wants it that is a very good reason why we should not pass it here. They tell us nobody will want it if that is in at all. And nobody will accept it, but as I said before nine-tenths of the people are employers of labor and if none of them want it why then should we pass it here.

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, In answer to the Senator from Warren County I would like to make this statement. He said if the employers do not want to take this option it shows pretty good reason why they should not have it. The employers do not want this act. You cannot blame them as a class if they can get out of it but I think it is necessary for us to step in between employer and employee and give the employee the protection he should have. Even if it is against the wishes of the employer to provide that protection is fair.

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I just want to say a few words in regard to my position as well as the position of several of the Senators of this body, that is in regard to those who were elected by two parties. We made certain pledges and among the pledges that we made was that we should vote for a fair workman's compensation act. It has been charged in the papers that those who refuse to vote for this bill are violators of their pledges. I deny the right of anyone to say this, because it has been demonstrated here this evening to my mind that this is an unfair bill. I can take the young man who guards this outside door whom I appointed from my county and give you a practical example of one who would not receive one cent under this bill. He had his hand taken off in a corn shredder. It was owned by two men or boys who were worth scarcely anything at all, the old thing they ran would possibly bring fifty or seventy-five dollars at the most this young man would not have received a cent under this compensation act and to my mind if it will protect a certain class it should protect them all and I believe a fair compensation act should be arrived at. I believe that the laborer should have a short cut to justice and I believe every senator in this body believes that. But to be held up here and compelled to vote the way we do not want to vote simply because we are accused of being pledge breakers, I deny the right of anyone to accuse me of that when I vote as my constituents or at least ninety per cent of them want me to.

Mr. SONES. Mr. President, That the Senators may thoroughly understand the amendments that the corporation committee has put in the bill which makes it clearly elective I want to say the amendment provides that all individuals corporations who want to come under the provisions of the act must apply to the Bureau of Industrial Statistics. All of those who do not apply are exempt absolutely from the provisions of the act and I hope the Senate will vote ‘‘No’’ on the amendment.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. CROW and Mr. KURTZ and were as follows, viz:

So the question was determined in the negative.

The first and second sections of Article II were read as follows and agreed to.

ARTICLE II

Elective Compensation

Section 1 When employers and employe shall by election or agreement either express or implied as hereinafter provided accept the provisions of Article two of this act compensation for personal injury to or for the death of such employee by an accident in the course of his employment shall be made in all cases by the employer without regard to negligence according to the schedule contained in sections five and six of this Article provided that no compensation shall be made when the injury or death be intentionally self-inflicted but the burden of proof of such fact shall be upon the employer

The terms "injury" and "personal injury" as used in this Article shall be construed to mean only violence to the physical structure of the body and such disease or infection as naturally results therefrom and wherever death is mentioned as a cause for compensation under this article it shall mean only death resulting from such violence and its resultant effects and occurring within three hundred weeks after the accident The term "injury" by an accident in the course of his employment" as used in this article not include an injury caused by an act of a third person intended to injure the employee because of reasons personal to him and not directed against him as an employee or because of his employment but shall include all other injuries sustained while the employee is actually engaged in the furtherance of the business or affairs of the employer whether upon the employer's premises or elsewhere and shall include all injuries caused by the condition of the premises or by the operation of the employer's business or affairs thereon sustained by the employee who though not so engaged is injured upon the premises occupied by or under the control of the employer or upon which the employer's business or affairs are being carried on the employee's presence thereon being required by the nature of his employment

Section 2 Such election or agreement shall constitute an acceptance of all the provisions of article two of this act and shall operate as a surrender by the parties thereto of their rights to any form or amount of compensation or damages for any injury or death occurring in the course of the employment or to vided in article two of this act Such election or agreement shall bind the employer and his personal representatives and the employee his or her wife or husband widow or widower next of kin and other dependents

The third section of Article II was read as follows:

Section 3 (a) The provisions of article two of this act shall not be binding upon any employer of labor in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania unless said employer shall so elect Such election shall be evidenced by a writing to that effect duly signed sealed and acknowledged by said employer but the same shall not take effect until said writing has been filed with the Bureau of Industrial Statistics of this Commonwealth Such election shall remain in force until cancelled by such employer by a writing to that effect duly signed sealed and acknowledged by said employer and filed with the Bureau of Industrial Statistics of this Commonwealth as aforesaid In every contract of hiring made after January first one thousand nine hundred and fourteen in every contract of hiring renewed or extended by mutual assent express or implied after said date and in every contract of hiring oral written or implied from circumstances now in operation or made or implied on or before January first one thousand nine hundred and fourteen and thereafter continued where the employer in said contract of hiring shall have filed with the Bureau of Industrial Statistics as aforesaid such general or special election to accept the benefits of the provisions of article two of this act and while such election shall remain on file in said Bureau uncancelled the employe in such contract of hiring shall be conclusively presumed to have accepted the provisions of article two of this act and to have agreed to be bound thereby unless said employee shall at the time of the making renewal or extension of such contract or on or before January first one thousand nine hundred and fourteen in case of contracts made previous to the passage of this act make an express statement in writing to his employer to the effect that the provisions of article two of this act are not intended to apply to said contract Such express statement in writing shall be signed sealed and acknowledged by such employee and shall not go into effect until a duplicate original thereof with proof of service thereof under oath upon said employer shall be filed with the Bureau of Industrial Statistics of this Commonwealth Provided however that the provisions of this article shall not be so construed or to impair the obligation of any contract now in force In case of the employment of minors the agreement to accept the provisions of article two of this act hereinafter provided for and the notice by the employe of his intentions not to be bound by the provisions of article two of this act shall be entered into or given by the parents or guardian of said minor Provided further that any employer and employe in this Commonwealth irrespective of whether such employer shall have filed a general or special election to accept the benefits of article two of this act and irrespective of whether such employe may have filed a notice of his intention not to be bound by the provisions of article two of this act may at any time during the continuance of the contract of hiring between them enter into an agreement in writing whereby they shall reciprocally agree to be bound or not to be bound by the provisions of article two of this act Such agreement shall be signed sealed and acknowledged by both the employer and employe and shall not go into effect until a triplicate original thereof shall have been filed with the Bureau of Industrial Statistics of this Commonwealth

(b) After January first one thousand nine hundred and fourteen an employer who has filed as aforesaid his election to accept the benefits of the provisions of article two of this act shall be entitled to the benefits thereof as against all claims for injury or death to laborers or assistants hired by an employe or contract for the performance upon the premises occupied by such employer or under his control of a part or the employer's regular business entrusted to that employer or contractor provided said employer shall post in a conspicuous place upon the premises where the laborers or assistants work is done a copy of his said election previously filed with the Bureau of Industrial Statistics of this Commonwealth as aforesaid and after January first one thousand nine hundred and fourteen any such laborer or assistant who shall enter upon premises occupied by or under the control of such employer for the purpose of doing such work shall be conclusively presumed to have agreed to accept the compensation provided in article two in lieu of his right of action at common law or under article one unless he shall have given notice in writing to the employer at the time of entering upon such employer's premises for the purpose of doing his work of his intention not to accept such compensation and unless ten days thereafter there shall have been filed with the Bureau of Industrial Statistics a true copy of such notice accompanied by proof of service thereof upon such employer setting further under oath or affirmation the time place and maner of such service And in such cases where article two binds such employer and such laborer or assistant it shall not be in effect between the intermediate employer or contractor and such laborer or assistant unless otherwise expressly agreed

(c) Nothing contained in this act shall affect the rights liabilities or duties of either employer or employee as the same existed prior to the passage of this act except in cases where the employer shall have accepted and agreed to be bound by the provisions of article two as hereinbefore provided

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I move to amend by striking out all of Section 3, Article II, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 3 (a) In every contract of hiring made after December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and thirteen and in every contract of hiring renewed or extended by mutual assent expressed or implied after said date it shall be conclusively presumed that the parties have accepted the provisions of article two of this act and have agreed to be bound thereby unless there be at the time of the making renewal or extension of such contract an express statement in writing from either party to the other that the provisions of article two of this act are not intended to apply and unless a true copy of such written statement accompanied by proof of service thereof upon the other party setting forth under oath or affirmation the time place and manner of such service be filed within ten days after such service in the Bureau of Industrial Statistics of this Commonwealth Every contract of hiring oral written or implied from circumstances now in operation or made or implied on or before December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and thirteen shall be conslusively presumed to continue subject to the provisions of article two hereof unless either party shall on or before said date in writing have notified the other party to such contract that the provisions of article two hereof are not intended to apply and unless there shall be filed in the Bureau of Industrial Statistics a true copy of such notice together with proof of service within the time and in the manner hereinabove prescribed provided however that the provisions of this section shall not be so construed as to impair the obligation of any contract now in force In the employment of minors article two shall be presumed to apply unless the said written notice be given by or to the parent or guardian of the minor It shall not be lawful for any officer or agent of this Commonwealth or for any county city borough or township therein or any officer or agent thereof or for any other governmental authority created by the laws of this Commonwealth to give such notice of rejection of the provisions of this article to any employee of the State or of such governmental agency

(b) After December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and thirteen an employed who permits the entry upon premises occupied by him or under his control of a laborer or an assistant hired by an employee or contractor for the performance upon such premises of a part of the employer's regular business entrusted to that employee or contractor shall be conclusively presumed to have agreed to pay such laborer or assistant compensation in accordance with the provisions of article two unless the employer shall post in a conspicuous place upon the premises where the laborer's or assistant's work is done a notice of his intention not to pay such compensation and unless there be filed with the Bureau of Industrial Statistics within ten days thereafter a true copy of such notice together with proof of the posting of the same setting forth or affirmation the time place and manner of such posting and after December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and thirteen any such laborer or assistant who shall enter upon premises occupied by or under the control of such employer for the purpose of doing such work shall be conclusively presumed to have agreed to accept the compensation provided in article two in lieu of his right of action at common law or under article one unless he shall have given notice in writing to the employer at the time of entering upon such employer's premises for the purpose of doing his work of his intention not to accept such compensation and unless within ten days thereafter there shall be filed with the Bureau of Industrial Statistics a true copy of such notice accompanied by proof of service thereof upon such employer setting forth under oath or affirmation the time place and manner of such service And in such cases where article two binds such employer and such laborer or assistant it shall not be in effect between the intermediate employer or contractor and such laborer or assistant unless otherwise expressly agreed."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I object to the amendment and if the Senator from Philadelphia insists on a vote again of course I will call for the yeas and nays, inasmuch as the matter was already settled on the first vote. This amendment practically covers the same subject matter as has already been disposed of.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, owing to the fact that this is practically a substitution of the amendment voted for I will accept a viva voce vote on this amendment.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was not agreed to.

The fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth, tenth, eleventh, twelfth, thirteenth, fourteenth, fifteenth, sixteenth, seventeenth, eighteenth, nineteenth, twentieth and twenty-first sections of Article II were read as follows and agreed to.

Section 4. Any agreement between employer and employee for the operation or non-operation of the provisions of article two of this act may be terminated prior to any accident by either party upon sixty days' notice to the other in writing if a copy of such notice with proof of service be filed in the Bureau of Industrial Statistics as provided in section three of this article

Section 5 The following schedule of compensation is hereby established for injuries resulting in disability

(a) For the first four hundred weeks after the fourteenth day of total disability fifty per centum of the wages received at the time of injury but the compensation shall not be more than ten dollars per week nor less than five dollars per week Provided That if at the time of injury the employee receives wages of less than five dollars per week then he shall receive the full amount of such wages per week as compensation Nothing in this clause shall require the payment of compensation after disability shall cease should partial disability be followed by total disability the period of four hundred weeks mentioned in this clause of this section shall be reduced by the number of weeks during which compensation was paid for such partial disability

(b) For disability partial in character (except the) particular cases mentioned in clause (c) fifty per centum of the difference between the wages received at the time of injury and the earning power of the employee thereafter but such compensation shall not be more than ten dolllars per week This compensation shall be paid during the period such paritial disability not however beyond three hundred weeks after the fourteenth day of such disability Should total disability be followed by partial disability the period of three hundred weeks mentioned in this clause shall be reduced by the number of weeks during which compensation was paid for such total disability

(c) For all disability resulting from permanent injuries of the following classes the compensation shall be exclusively as follows

For the loss of a hand fifty per centum of wages during one hundred and seventy-five weeks

For the loss of an arm fifty per centum of wages during two hundred and fifteen weeks

For the loss of a foot fifty per centum of wages during one hundred and fifty weeks

For the loss of a leg fifty per centum of wages during two hundred and fifteen weeks

For the loss of an eye fifty per centum of wages during one hundred and twenty-five weeks

For the loss of any two or more of such members not constituting total disability fifty per centum of wages during the aggregate of the periods specified for each

The loss of both hands or both arms or both feet or both legs or both eyes shall constitute total disability to be compensated according to the provisions of clause (a)

Amputation between the elbow and the wrist shall be considered as the equivalent of the loss of a hand and amputation between the knee and ankle shall be considered as the equivalent of the loss of a foot Amputation at or above the elbow shall be considered as the loss of an arm and amputation at or above the knee shall be considered as the loss of a leg Permanent loss of a hand arm foot leg or eye shall be considered as the equivalent of the loss of such hand arm foot leg or eye

This compensation shall not be more than ten dollars per week nor less than five dollars per week provided that if at the time of injury the employee receives wages of less than five dollars per week then he shall receive the full amount of such wages per week as compensation

(d) No compensation shall be allowed for the first fourteen days after disability begins except as hereinafter provided in clause (e) of this section

(e) During the first fourteen days after disability begins the employer shall furnish reasonable surgical medical and hospital services medicines and supplies as and when needed not to exceed twenty-five dollars in value unless the employee refuses to allow them to be furnished by the employer

(f) Should the employee die as a result of the injury the period during which compensation shall be payable to his dependents under section 6 of this article shall be reduced by the period during which compensation was paid to him in his lifetime under this section of this article No reduction shall be made for the amount which may have been paid for medical and hospital services and medicines nor for the expenses of the last sickness and burial Should the employee die from some other cause than the injury the liability for compensation shall cease

Section 6 In case of death compensation shall be computed on the following basis and distributed to the following persons

1 To the child or children if there be no widow nor widower entitled to compensation twenty-five per centum of wages of deceased with ten per centum additional for each child in excess of two with a maximum of sixty per centum to be paid to their guardian

2 To the widow or widower if there be no children twenty-five per centum of wages

3 To the widow or widower if there be one child forty per centum of wages

4 To the widow or widower if there be two children forty-five per centum of wages

5 To the widow or widower if there be three children fifty per centum of wages

6 To the widow or widower if there be four children fifty-five per cetnum of wages

7 To the widow or widower if there be five children or more sixty per centum of wages

8 If there be neither widow widower nor children then to the father and mother or the survivor of them if dependent to any extent upon the employee for support at the time of his death twenty per centum of wages

9 If there be neither widow widower children nor dependent parent then to the brothers and sisters if actually dependent to any extent upon the decedent for support at the time of his death fifteen per centum of wages for one brother or sister and five per centum additional for each additional brother or sister with a maximum of twenty-five per centum such compensation to be paid to their guardian

10 Whether or not there be dependents as aforesaid the reasonable expenses of last sickness and burial not exceeding one hundred dollars (without deduction of any amounts theretofore paid for compensation or for medical expenses) payable to the dependents or if there be no dependents then to the personal representatives of the deceased

Compensation shall be payable under this section to or on account of any child brother or sister only if and while such child brother or sister is under the age of sixteen No compensation shall be payable under this section to a widow unless she was living with her deceased husband at the time of his death or was then actually dependent upon him for support No compensation shall be payable under this section to a widower unless he be incapable of self-support at the time of his wife's death and be at such time dependent upon her for support The terms "child" and "children" shall include step-children and adopted children if members of decedent's household at the time of his death and shall include posthumous children Should any dependent of a deceased employe die or should the widow or widower remarry or should the widower become capable of self-support the right of such dependent or such widow or widower to compensation under this section shall cease If the compensation payable under this section to any person shall for any cause cease the compensation to the remaining persons entitled thereunder shall thereafter be the same as would have been payable to them had they been the only persons entitled to compensation at the time of the death of the deceased

The wages upon which death compensation shall be based shall not in any case be taken to exceed twenty dollars per week nor be less than ten dollars per week This compensation shall be paid during three hundred weeks and in the case of chidren entitled to compensation under clause 1 of this section the compensation of each child shall (if the other parent be dead or have abandoned such child) continue until such child reach the age of sixteen at the rate of fifteen per centum of wages if there be but one child with ten per centum additional for each additional child with a maximum of fifty per centum

Section 7 Except as hereinafter provided all compensation payable under this article shall be payable in periodical installments as the wages of the employee were payable before the accident

Whenever in this article the term "wages" is used it shall be construed to mean the money rate at which the service rendered is recompensed under the contract of hiring in force at the time of the accident and shall not include gratuities received from the employer or others nor shall it include board lodging or similar advantages received from the employer unless the money value of such advantages shall have been fixed by the parties at the time of hiring In occupations involving seasonal employment or employments dependent upon the weather the employee's weekly wages shall be taken to be one-fiftieth of the total wages which he has earned from all occupations during the year immediately preceding the accident unless it be shown that during such year by reason of exceptional causes such method of computation does not ascertain fairly the earnings of the employee in which case the period of calculation shall be extended so far as to give a basis for the fair ascertainment of his average weekly earnings In continuous employments if immediately prior to the accident the rate of wages was fixed by day or hour or by the output of the employee his weekly wages shall be taken to be five and one-half times his average earnings at such for a working day of ordinary length excluding earnings from overtime and using as the basis of calculation his earnings during so much of the preceding six months as he worked for the same employer Where the employee is working under concurrent contracts with two or more employers his wages from all employers shall be considered as if earned from the employer liable for compensation

Section 8 Compensation under this article to alien dependent widows children and parents not residents of the United States shall be the same in amount as is provided in each case for residents except that at any time within one year after death of the injured employee the employer may at his option commute all future installments of compensation to be paid to alien dependents not residents of the United States by paying to such alien dependents two-thirds of the total amount of such future installments of compensation Alien widowers brothers and sisters not residents of the United States shall not be entitled to any compensation

Section 9 Unless the employer shall have actual knowledge of the occurrence of the injury or unless the employee or some one on his behalf or some of the dependents of some one on their behalf shall give notice thereof to the employer within fourteen days after the accident no compensation shall be due until such notice be given or knowledge obtained If notice be given or the knowledge obtained after fourteen days but within thirty days after the accident the delay shall not bar compensation unless the employer shall show that he was prejudiced thereby and then only to the extent of such prejudice If the notice be given or the knowledge obtained after thirty days but within ninety days after the accident and if the employee or other beneficiary shall show that his delay in giving notice was due to his mistake or ignorance of fact or of law or to his physical or mental inability or to fraud misrepresentation or deceit or to any other reasonable cause or excuse then compensation shall be allowed except to the extent that the employer shall show that he was prejudiced by such delay Unless knowledge be obtained or notice given within ninety days after the accident no compensation shall be allowed

Section 10 The notice referred to in section nine hereof shall be substantially in the following form

To (name of employer)

You are hereby notified that an injury of the following character ( ) was received by (name of employee injured) who was in your employment at (place) while engaged as (kind of employment) on or about ( ) the ( ) day of ( ) Anno Domini ( ) and that compensation will be claimed therefor

Date Signed ( )

but no variation from this form shall be material if the notice be sufficient to inform the employer that a certain employees name received an injury the character of which is described in ordinary language in the course of his employment on or about a time specified and at or near a place specified

Section 11 The notices referred to in section three and section nine hereof may be served personally upon the employer or upon the manager or superintendent in charge of the works or business in which the accident occurred or by sending them through the registered mail to the employer at his or its last known residence or place of business or if the employer be a corporation either foreign or domestic then upon the president vice-president secretary or treasurer thereof Knowledge of the occurrence of the injury on the part of any of said agents shall be the knowledge of the employer

Section 12 After an injury the employee if so requested by him employer must submit himself for examination at some reasonable time and place and as often as may be reasonably requested to a physician or physicians legally authorized to practice under the laws of such place who shall be selected and paid by the employer If the employee requests he shall be entitled to have a physician or physicians of his own selection to be paid by him present to participate in such examination For all examinations after the first the employer shall pay the reasonable traveling expenses and loss of wages incurred by the employee in order to submit to such examination The refusal of the employee to submit to such examination shall deprive him of the right to compensation under this article during the continuance of such refusal and the period of such refusal shall be deducted from the period during which compensation would otherwise be payable

Section 13 In case of failure to agree upon a claim for compesation under this article between the employer and employee or the dependents of the employee either party may submit the claim as to questions of fact nature and effect of the injuries and the amount of compensation due therefor according to this article to the Court of Common Pleas of the county in which the accident occurred or of the county in which the adverse party resides or has a permanent place of business or by agreement of the parties to the Court of Common Pleas of any other county which courts shall hear and determine such disputes in a summary manner and their decisions as to all questions of fact shall be conclusive

Section 14 In case of personal injury all claims for compensation shall be forever barred unless within one year after the accident the parties shall have agreed upon the compensation payable under this article or unless within one year after the acident one of the parties shall have filed a petition as provided in section fifteen hereof In cases of death all claims for compensation shall be forever barred unless within one year after the death the parties shall have agreed upon the compensation under this article or unless within one year after the death one of the parties shall have filed a peititon as provided in section fifteen hereof Where however payments of compensation have been made in any case said limitation shall not take effect until the expiration of one year from the time of the making of the last payment

Section 15 Procedure in case of dispute shall be as follows

Either party may present a petition to said court or any judge thereof setting forth the names and residences of the parties and the facts relating to employment at the time of the accident the extent and character of the injury the amount of wages received at the time of the acident the knowledge of the employer or notice of the occurrence of the injury and such other facts as may be necessary and proper for the information of the said court shall state the matter or matters in dispute and the contention of the petitioner with reference thereto This petition shall be verified by the oath or affirmation of the petitioner

Upon the presentation of such petition the same shall be filed with the prothonotary of the Court of Common Pleas and the court shall fix a time and place for the hearing thereof not less than three weeks after the date of the filing of said petition A copy of said petition and order shall be served upon the adverse party as a summons in a civil action may be served Within seven days after the service of such notice (unless the time be extended by the court for cause shown) the adverse party shall file an answer to said petition which shall admit or deny the substantial averments thereof and shall state the contention of the answering party with reference to the matters in dispute The answer shall be verified in like manner as the petition If no answer be filed as aforesaid evidence shall be offered at the hearing by the petitioner only The court shall in every case have authority to allow amendments of the petition or answer and to suspend the proceedings during the refusal of the employee to submit to the examination required by section twelve hereof

At the time fixed for hearing or any adjournment thereof the said court or any judge thereof shall hear the witnesses and in a summary manner decide the merits of the controversy This decision called an award shall be in writing and filed with the prothonotary of the Court of Common Pleas and shall contain a brief statement of the facts as determined by said court Costs may be awarded by said court in its discretion and when so awarded the same costs shall be allowed taxed and collected as are allowed taxed and collected for like services in the same court After petition filed the Court of Common Pleas may in its discretion upon motion of either party or of its own motion appoint one or more impartial physicians or surgeons to examine the injuries of the claimant and to report thereon to the court Said court shall have power to fix the compensation of such physicians or surgeons and to tax the same as a part of the costs of the proceedings The report of any physicians or surgeons appointed by the court as aforesaid shall be filed with the prothonotary and shall be a part of the record and shall be open to inspection by both parties Such report shall not be conclusive of the facts therein stated but shall be advisory only Appeals may be taken from the award of the Court of Common Pleas to the Supreme or Superior Courts in such manner and upon such terms as the Supreme Court shall by rule prescribe but no appeal shall operate as a supersedes unless allowed by the trial or appellate court except where the compensation shall have been commuted as provided in section sixteen of this article Cases arising under this article shall have precedence both in the Courts of Common Pleas and in the appellate courts over all other civil cases

Section 16 The compensation contemplated by this article may be computed by said Court of Common Pleas at its present value when discounted at six per centum interest with annual rests (disregarding the probability of the beneficiary's death) upon application of either party with due notice to the other if it appear that such commutation will be for the best interest of the employee or the dependents of the deceased employee or that it will avoid undue expense or undue hardship to either party or that such employee or dependent has removed or is about to remove from the United States or that the employer has sold or otherwise disposed of the whole or the greater part of his business or assets Except as provided in section eight hereof and in this section no commutation of compensation shall be made

An agreement or award of compensation may be modified at any time by a subsequent agreement or may be reviewed by said court upon the application of either party on the ground that the incapacity of the injured employee has subsequently increased or diminished or that the status of the dependent has changed In such case the provisions of section twelve and fifteen of this article with reference to medical examination shall apply

At any time after the entry of the award a sum equal to all future installments of compensation may (where death or the nature of the injury renders the amount of future payments certain) by leave of court be paid by the employer to any savings bank trust company or life insurance company in good standing and authorized to do business in this State and having an office in the county in which the award was entered and such sum together with all interest thereon shall thereafter be held in trust for the employee or the dependents of the employee who shall have no further recourse against the employer The payments of such sum by the employer evidenced by the receipt of the trustee noted upon the prothonotary's docket shall operate as a satisfaction of said award as to the employer Payments from said fund shall be made by the trustee in the same amounts and at the same periods as are herein required of the employer until said fund and interest shall be exhausted in the appointment of the trustee preference shall be given in the discretion of the court to the choice of the employee or the dependents of the deceased employee

Section 17 The right of compensation granted by this article of this act shall have the same preference (without limit of amount) against the assets of the employer as is now or may hereafter be allowed by law for a claim for unpaid wages for labor provided that no claim for compensation shall have priority over any mortgage or conveyance of land recorded prior to the filing of the petition or agreement as to compensation in the office of the prothonotary of the county in which such land is situated Claims or payments due under this article of this act shall not be assignable and (except as provided in section two of article III hereof) shall be exempt from all claims of creditors and from levy execution or attachment which exemption may not be waived

Section 18 Where the employer and the employee or the dependents of the employee shall after any accident agree upon the compensation payable hereunder for such accident a memorandum of such agreement signed by the parties may be filed with the prothonotary of said Court of Common Pleas The costs of the prothontary for such service shall be allowed taxed and collected as heretofore upon a confession of judgment When thus filed such agreement shall have the same effect as if it were an award of the court as provided in section fifteen hereof but shall be subject to review by the court for fraud mistake or other cause shown provided however that nothing in this Section shall be construed to permit a commutation of payments except as provided in sections eight and sixteen hereof and provided further that no agreement relating to compensation shall be valid if made within fourteen days of the accident nor shall any such agreement be valid of it vary the percentage of wages payable as compensation or the period during which compensation is to be paid as stated in sections five and six hereof

Section 19 If default shall be made by the employer for thirty days after demand in the payment of any amount due under any of the provisions of this article then upon petition of any person interested and after ten days notice thereof to the employer served in the same manner in which a summons may be served the court or any judge thereof shall if the default still exists enter judgment thereon for the amount or amounts due together with interest thereon and costs Upon such judgment no stay of execution shall be allowed except in the discretion of the court

Section 20 It shall be the duty of the prothonotary of each Court of Common Pleas to make report monthly to the Bureau of Industrial Statistics of all proceedings begun in such court under this article of this act classifying such report in such manner as to show whether the proceedings are brought for the settlement of a dispute as to liability for compensation for a modification thereof for a commutation of payments for a judgment in default of payment or for fixing of counsel fees and such report shall state the number and term of each proceeding but neither names nor further detail need be given unless required by the Bureau of Industrial Statistics

Section 21 Where a third person is liable to the employee or the dependents for the injury or death the employer shall be subrogated to the right of the employee or the dependents against such third person but only to the extent of the compensation payable under this article by the employer Any recovery against such third person in excess of the compensation theretofore paid by the employer shall be paid forthwith to the employee or to the dependents and shall be treated as an advance payment by the employer on account of any future installments of compensation

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I have the honor to advise you that I have this day approved and signed Senate Bill No. 140, entitled "An Act requiring bills and answers in equity to be sworn to and abolishing the rule that the averments of a responsive answer must be overcome by the testimony of two witnesses or of one witness sustained by corroborating circumstances equivalent to the testimony of another witness in order to entitle plaintiff to a decree except in certain cases."

JOHN K. TENER.

APPROVAL OF SENATE BILL NO. 828.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 28, 1913.
To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I have the honor to advise you that I have this day approved and signed Senate Bill No. 828, entitled "An Act to amend an act approved the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled 'An Act to provide in cities of the first class for delivery tickets in the sale of anthracite coal and to authorize the designation of weighing scales and for the proper inspection thereof for weighing coal delivered to purchasers who receive the same by cart wagon or other conveyance and to compel the seller thereof to allow said coal to be weighed to provide certificates of weight and the effect thereof as evidence to the weight of coal passing such scales and to punish for refusal of seller to allow coal weighed and to punish fraudulent weighing at such scales and to provide for the keeping of docket records thereof by magistrates or justices of the peace'."

JOHN K. TENER.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 521.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 31, 1913.
To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 521, entitled:

"An Act to amend the second and fifth section of an act entitled 'A Supplement to an act entitled "An Act for the government of cities of the second class," approved the seventh day of March Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and one creating and regulating a City Planning Department giving it jurisdiction extending it over the city and three miles beyond the city limits and regulating the laying out of plans of lots within the limits of the city' Approved June tenth one thousand nine hundred and eleven relating to reports of the City Planning Commission on certain ordinances and bills and relating to plans and plots submitted to said Planning Commission for approval."

This bill among other things provides:

"Council shall not act upon any such ordinance or bill until thirty days after the City Planning Commission shall have received a copy of the same unless in the mean time said commission shall have approved or disapproved the same and transmitted its report theron to councils In case said City Planning Commission shall have disapproved any such ordinance or bill it shall require the affirmative vote of three-fourth of all the members constituting council to pass said ordinance or bill."

I think it unwise to confer upon the City Planning Commission the authority attempted to be conferred by this act, which in my judgment would be an encroachment upon the perogatives of the city councilmanic bodies.

JOHN K. TENER.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. McNICHOLS. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 212.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 29, 1913.
To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 212, entitled:

"An Act to amend section seventy-five of the act entitled 'An Act to consolidate revise and amend the penal laws of this Commonwealth' approved the thirty-first day of March Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty."

A similar bill, passed at the legislative session of 1909, was vetoed by my predecessor, Governor Edwin S. Stuart, for the reason that although the jury has no discretion in fixing the punishment for the crime of murder in the first degree, the verdict of the jury is always subject to the power of the trial judge to grant a new trial, or to recommend executive clemency. As recommendations of this character by the trial judge are rarely, if ever, disregarded, the purpose of the amendment may be practically attained under existing constitutional and statutory provisions.

I concur in the reasons expressed by my predecessor, and therefore withhold my approval from this bill.

JOHN K. TENER.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 75.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 28, 1913.
To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 75, entitled:

"An Act regulating reports for the purposes of taxation by corporations joint stock associations and limited partnerships any part of the capital stock or indebtedness of which is not taxable under the laws of this Commonwealth."

The mischief intended to be remedied by this bill is effectively corrected by the Act approved the ninth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, entitled:

"An Act regulating appeals from tax and other public accounts settlements of the fiscal officers of the Commonwealth."

There is, therefore, no necessity for this act.

For this reason the bill is not approved.

JOHN K. TENER.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding,

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 633.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 29, 1913.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 633, entitled:

"An Act providing for the organization enlistment and enrollment in the National Guard of Pennsylvania of an additional regiment of infantry to be composed of colored men authorizing an increase in the medical hospital and ambulance corps of the National Guard for the service in said regiment providing for said regiment a regimental band."

By this bill the Governor is not only empowered but directed to organize, enlist, and enroll in the National Guard of Pennsylvania, a regiment composed exclusively of colored inhabitants of the Commonwealth.

Under existing laws, the Governor, as Commander in Chief of the military forces of the Commonwealth, is empowered to organize the National Guard of Pennsylvania, in such manner and form as to make it conform to the requirements for the organized militia under the laws of the United States.

By Act of Congress it is provided that the militia shall consist of every able-bodied male citizen (and every able-bodied male of foreign birth who has declared his intention to become a citizen), who is more than eighteen and less than forty-five years of age, and shall be divided into two classes, namely, the organized militia to be known as the National Guard of the various States, and the remainder to be known as the reserve militia.

By Section 3 of the act of May 5, 1911, (Pamphlet Laws 131), the Governor is given the fullest power and discretion to organize, consolidate, annex, disband, or re-organize any organization in the National Guard of Pennsylvania, to conform to the requirements of the Act of Congress above referred to, and to such regulations in connection therewith as may be made by the War Department.

Section 4 of said act of 1911 prescribes the maximum of organizations of the different branches and departments of the service. This maximum has not yet been reached for regiments or companies of infantry, and the Governor of the Commonwealth, therefore, already has the power, if the interests of the military institution of the State seem to warrant it, to organize a regiment, or any part of a regiment, of troops, composed exclusively of colored inhabitants of the Commonwealth.

The proposed bill is, therefore, unnecessary, and would unduly restrict the exercise of the discretion now vested by law in the Governor as Commander in Chief of the military forces of the State.

For this reason the bill is not approved.

JOHN K. TENER.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 714.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 29, 1913.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 714, entitled:

"An Act to amend the ninth section of an act entitled 'An Act for the establishment and government of a State Naval Militia approved the fifteenth day of May Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three by repealing the provision that the divisions in each battalion in the Naval Force shall be considered the equivalents of companies of the National Guard and by providing that the divisions of the Naval Force shall be considered the equivalents of field batteries in the National Guard and shall receive the same allowances as field batteries for armory rent for rifle practice for clothing and equipment and making said allowances also available for subsistence and additional general military purposes by also providing that the allowances to be received by battalions in the Naval Force for armory rent for rifle practice for clothing and equipment shall be available for subsistence and additional general military purposes.

This bill is unnecessary for the reason that House Bill No. 1218 upon the same subject, and in precisely the same language, was approved May 20, 1913. Approval is therefore withheld.

JOHN K. TENER.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding,

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. MrNICHOLS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

MONDAY, June 2nd, 1913.

The HOUSE met at 8:00 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER (George E. Alter), in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. J. E. Wright, offered the following prayer:

O God, it is with peculiar solemnity that we come into Thy presence this evening. Thou hast spoken to our circle, and very impressively, since last we assembled. One of our associates has heard God's call coming out of the skies, and has answered to it. He has laid aside the instruments and the tools of earthly service and received those which are utterly unfamiliar to us, at Thy hands. We thank Thee for the training of the life of this early pilgrimage, and especially for the long and honorable career as a member of this Assembly. And the Angel of Death has come very suddenly into the circle of another member of this Assembly, leaving the shock of terrible desolation and grief. O God, we humbly and reverently bow before Thee asking that as all consolation and grace is with Thee, Thou wilt administer abundantly to those who need Thy comforting, sustaining and strengthening, doing more and better for them than we can ask or think. And we pray that we may all remember the uncertainty and brevity of human life, that our times are in Thy hands, that we know not at any time what a day may bring forth. Let us be faithful, therefore, remembering that word, that if we are faithful unto death we shall receive the crown of life, and Thy name shall have the praise of it forevermore. Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of the preceedings of Wednesday, May 28th, 1913.

The Clerk proceeded the read the Journal of the proceedings of Wednesday, May 28th, 1913, when, on motion of Mr. Donnally, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal was approved.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE DEATH OF HON. EDWARD H. FAHEY.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognized the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. John R. K. Scott.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, death has called to his Maker yesterday morning, one of our members, my colleague, Honorable Edward H. Fahey. We entered public life together in the memorable session of 1899. Since then, he has, with the exception of one session, sat as a member of this House.

Handsome, modest, mild mannered, he attracted to himself many friends. Loyal in friendship, steadfast in political life he quickly won an advanced position both in his party and in the Legislature. He left the House last Wednesday apparently care-free; to-day he rests in death.

Mr. Speaker, I move that this announcement be spread upon the Journal and as a mark of respect to the memory of the Honorable Edward H. Fahey, of the Eighth Legislative District, this House do now adjourn until tomorrow morning at ten o'clock.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

ADJOURNMENT.

The SPEAKER. Out of respect to the memory of our deceased colleague, this House (8:15 P. M.) stands adjourned until to-morrow morning at ten o'clock.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA.

Session 1913 120th of the General Assembly

VOL. 2. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, JUNE 3, 1913. No. 76.

SENATE.

TUESDAY, June 3, 1913.

The Senate met at 11 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor John M. Reynolds) in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. A. C. James, offered the following prayer:

"The Lord is thy Keeper; behold He that keepeth Israel shall neither slumber nor sleep. The Lord shall preserve Thee from all evil; He shall preserve thy soul. The Lord shall preserve thy going out and thy coming in, from this time forth even for evermore." Another morning has come bright with promise; grant that our lives this day shall be the fulfillment of that promise. Another day has come fraught with abundant labors; grant that we shall be found in the fields of service binding together our precious sheaves. Before the curtain of another night shall fall, grant that whatsoever our hands shall find to do, we shall do, so that we shall meet Thine approval. Help us in this our prayer, we ask it in our Redeemers' name. Amen.

The PRESIDENT—A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. MILLS, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 796 (House Bill No. 399), as follows:

An Act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and regulating procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder

Damages by Action at Law

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in any action brought to recover damages for personal injury to an employe in the course of his employment or for death resulting from such injury it shall not be a defense

(a) That the injury was caused in whole or in part by the negligence of a fellow employee or

(b) That the employe had assumed the risk of the injury or

(c) That the injury was caused in any degree by the negligence of such employe unless it be established that the injury was caused by such employe's intoxication or by his reckless indifference to danger The burden of proving such intoxication or reckless indifference to danger shall be upon the defendant and the question shall be one of fact to be determined by the jury

Section 2 The employer shall be liable for the negligence of all employes while acting within the scope of their employment including engineers chauffeurs miners mine-foremen fire-bosses mine superintendents plumbers officers of vessels and all other employes licensed by the State or other governmental authority if the employer be allowed by law the right of free selection of such employes from the class of persons thus licensed

Section 3 An employer who permits the entry upon premises occupied by him or under his control of a laborer or of an assistant hired by an employe or contractor for the performance upon such premises of a part of the employer's regular business entrusted to such employe or contractor shall be liable to such laborer or assistant in the same manner and to the same extent as to his own employe.

Section 4 No agreement composition or release of damages made before the happening of any accident except the agreement defined in Article two of this act shall be valid or shall bar a claim for damages for the injury resulting therefrom and any such agreement other than that defined in Article two herein is declared to be against the public policy of this Commonwealth The receipt of benefits from any association society or fund to which the employe shall have been a contributor shall not bar the recovery of damages by action at law nor the recovery of compensation under Article two hereof and any release executed in consideration of such benefits shall be void This article shall not apply to any employer who does not elect to be bound by the provisions of Article two in the manner hereinafter provided

Elective Compensation

Section 1 When employers and employe shall by election or agreement either express or implied as hereinafter provided accept the provisions of Article two of this act compensation for personal injury to or for the death of such employee by an accident in the course of his employment shall be made in all cases by the employer without regard to negligence according to the schedule contained in sections five and six of this Article provided that no compensation shall be made when the injury or death be intentionally self-inflicted but the burden of proof of such fact shall be upon the employer

The terms "injury" and "personal injury" as used in this Article shall be construed to mean only violence to the physical structure of the body and such disease or infection as naturally results therefrom and wherever death is mentioned as a cause for compensation under this article it shall mean only death resulting from such violence and its resultant effects and occurring within three hundred weeks after the accident The term "injury" by an accident in the course of his employment" as used in this article not include an injury caused by an act of a third person intended to injure the employee because of reasons personal to him and not directed against him as an employee or because of his employment but shall include all other injuries sustained while the employee is actually engaged in the furtherance of the business or affairs of the employer whether upon the employer's premises or elsewhere and shall include all injuries caused by the condition of the premises or by the operation of the employer's business or affairs thereon sustained by the employee who though not so engaged is injured upon the premises occupied by or under the control of the employer or upon which the employer's business or affairs are being carried on the employee's presence thereon being required by the nature of his employment

Section 2 Such election or agreement shall constitute an acceptance of all the provisions of article two of this act and shall operate as a surrender by the parties thereto of their rights to any form or amount of compensation or damages for any injury or death occurring in the course of the employment or to vided in article two of this act Such election or agreement shall bind the employer and his personal representatives and the employee his or her wife or husband widow or widower next of kin and other dependents

Section 3 (a) The provisions of article two of this act shall not be binding upon any employer of labor in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania unless said employer shall so elect Such election shall be evidenced by a writing to that effect duly signed sealed and acknowledged by said employer but the same shall not take effect until said writing has been filed with the Bureau of Industrial Statistics of this Commonwealth Such election shall remain in force until cancelled by such employer by a writing to that effect duly signed sealed and acknowledged by said employer and filed with the Bureau of Industrial Statistics of this Commonwealth as aforesaid In every contract of hiring made after January first one thousand nine hundred and fourteen in every contract of hiring renewed or extended by mutual assent express or implied after said date and in every contract of hiring oral written or implied from circumstances now in operation or made or implied on or before January first one thousand nine hundred and fourteen and thereafter continued where the employer in said contract of hiring shall have filed with the Bureau of Industrial Statistics as aforesaid such general or special election to accept the benefits of the provisions of article two of this act and while such election shall remain on file in said Bureau uncancelled the employe in such contract of hiring shall be conclusively presumed to have accepted the provisions of article two of this act and to have agreed to be bound thereby unless said employee shall at the time of the making renewal or extension of such contract or on or before January first one thousand nine hundred and fourteen in case of contracts made previous to the passage of this act make an express statement in writing to his employer to the effect that the provisions of article two of this act are not intended to apply to said contract Such express statement in writing shall be signed sealed and acknowledged by such employee and shall not go into effect until a duplicate original thereof with proof of service thereof under oath upon said employer shall be filed with the Bureau of Industrial Statistics of this Commonwealth Provided however that the provisions of this article shall not be so construed as to impair the obligation of any contract now in force In case of the employment of minors the agreement to accept the provisions of article two of this act hereinafter provided for and the notice by the employe of his intentions not to be bound by the provisions of article two of this act shall be entered into or given by the parents or guardian of said minor Provided further that any employer and employe in this Commonwealth irrespective of whether such employer shall have filed a general or special election to accept the benefits of article two of this act and irrespective of whether such employe may have filed a notice of his intention not to be bound by the provisions of article two of this act may at any time during the continuance of the contract of hiring between them enter into an agreement in writing whereby they shall reciprocally agree to be bound or not to be bound by the provisions of article two of this act Such agreement shall be signed sealed and acknowledged by both the employer and employe and shall not go into effect until a triplicate original thereof shall have been filed with the Bureau of Industrial Statistics of this Commonwealth

(b) After January first one thousand nine hundred and fourteen an employer who has filed as aforesaid his election to accept the benefits of the provisions of article two of this act shall be entitled to the benefits thereof as against all claims for injury or death to laborers or assistants hired by an employe or contract for the performance upon the premises occupied by such employer or under his control of a part or the employer's regular business entrusted to that employer or contractor provided said employer shall post in a conspicuous place upon the premises where the laborers or assistants work is done a copy of his said election previously filed with the Bureau of Industrial Statistics of this Commonwealth as aforesaid and after January first one thousand nine hundred and fourteen any such laborer or assistant who shall enter upon premises occupied by or under the control of such employer for the purpose of doing such work shall be conclusively presumed to have agreed to accept the compensation provided in article two in lieu of his right of action at common law or under article one unless he shall have given notice in writing to the employer at the time of entering upon such employer's premises for the purpose of doing his work of his intention not to accept such compensation and unless within ten days thereafter there shall have been filed with the Bureau of Industrial Statistics a true copy of such notice accompanied by proof of service thereof upon such employer setting further under oath or affirmation the time place and manner of such service And in such cases where article two binds such employer and such laborer or assistant it shall not be in effect between the intermediate employer or contractor and such laborer or assistant unless otherwise expressly agreed

(c) Nothing contained in this act shall affect the rights liabilities or duties of either employer or employee as the same existed prior to the passage of this act except in cases where the employer shall have accepted and agreed to be bound by the provisions of article two as hereinbefore provided

Section 4. Any agreement between employer and employee for the operation or non-operation of the provisions of article two of this act may be terminated prior to any accident by either party upon sixty days' notice to the other in writing if a copy of such notice with proof of service be filed in the Bureau of Industrial Statistics as provided in section three of this article

Section 5 The following schedule of compensation is hereby established for injuries resulting in disability

(a) For the first four hundred weeks after the fourteenth day of total disability fifty per centum of the wages received at the time of injury but the compensation shall not be more than ten dollars per week nor less than five dollars per week Provided That if at the time of injury the employee receives wages of less than five dollars per week then he shall receive the full amount of such wages per week as compensation Nothing in this clause shall require the payment of compensation after disability shall cease should partial disability be followed by total disability the period of four hundred weeks mentioned in this clause of this section shall be reduced by the number of weeks during which compensation was paid for such partial disability

(b) For disability partial in character (except the) particular cases mentioned in clause (c) fifty per centum of the difference between the wages received at the time of injury and the earning power of the employee thereafter but such compensation shall not be more than ten dolllars per week This compensation shall be paid during the period such paritial disability not however beyond three hundred weeks after the fourteenth day of such disability Should total disability be followed by partial disability the period of three hundred weeks mentioned in this clause shall be reduced by the number of weeks during which compensation was paid for such total disability

(c) For all disability resulting from permanent injuries of the following classes the compensation shall be exclusively as follows

For the loss of a hand fifty per centum of wages during one hundred and seventy-five weeks

For the loss of an arm fifty per centum of wages during two hundred and fifteen weeks

For the loss of a foot fifty per centum of wages during one hundred and fifty weeks

For the loss of a leg fifty per centum of wages during two hundred and fifteen weeks

For the loss of an eye fifty per centum of wages during one hundred and twenty-five weeks

For the loss of any two or more of such members not constituting total disability fifty per centum of wages during the aggregate of the periods specified for each

The loss of both hands or both arms or both feet or both legs or both eyes shall constitute total disability to be compensated according to the provisions of clause (a)

Amputation between the elbow and the wrist shall be considered as the equivalent of the loss of a hand and amputation between the knee and ankle shall be considered as the equivalent of the loss of a foot Amputation at or above the elbow shall be considered as the loss of an arm and amputation at or above the knee shall be considered as the loss of a leg Permanent loss of a hand arm foot leg or eye shall be considered as the equivalent of the loss of such hand arm foot leg or eye

This compensation shall not be more than ten dollars per week nor less than five dollars per week provided that if at the time of injury the employee receives wages of less than five dollars per week then he shall receive the full amount of such wages per week as compensation

(d) No compensation shall be allowed for the first fourteen days after disability begins except as hereinafter provided in clause (e) of this section

(e) During the first fourteen days after disability begins the employer shall furnish reasonable surgical medical and hospital services medicines and supplies as and when needed not to exceed twenty-five dollars in value unless the employee refuses to allow them to be furnished by the employer

(f) Should the employee die as a result of the injury the period during which compensation shall be payable to his dependents under section 6 of this article shall be reduced by the period during which compensation was paid to him in his lifetime under this section of this article No reduction shall be made for the amount which may have been paid for medical and hospital services and medicines nor for the expenses of the last sickness and burial Should the employee die from some other cause than the injury the liability for compensation shall cease

Section 6 In case of death compensation shall be computed on the following basis and distributed to the following persons

1 To the child or children if there be no widow nor widower entitled to compensation twenty-five per centum of wages of deceased with ten per centum additional for each child in excess of two with a maximum of sixty per centum to be paid to their guardian

2 To the widow or widower if there be no children twenty-five per centum of wages

3 To the widow or widower if there be one child forty per centum of wages

4 To the widow or widower if there be two children forty-five per centum of wages

5 To the widow or widower if there be three children fifty per centum of wages

6 To the widow or widower if there be four children fifty-five per centum of wages

7 To the widow or widower if there be five children or more sixty per centum of wages

8 If there be neither widow widower nor children then to the father and mother or the survivor of them if dependent to any extent upon the employee for support at the time of his death twenty per centum of wages

9 If there be neither widow widower children nor dependent parent then to the brothers and sisters if actually dependent to any extent upon the decedent for support at the time of his death fifteen per centum of wages for one brother or sister and five per centum additional for each additional brother or sister with a maximum of twenty-five per centum such compensation to be paid to their guardian

10 Whether or not there be dependents as aforesaid the reasonable expenses of last sickness and burial not exceeding one hundred dollars (without deduction of any amounts theretofore paid for compensation or for medical expenses) payable to the dependents or if there be no dependents then to the personal representatives of the deceased

Compensation shall be payable under this section to or on account of any child brother or sister only if and while such child brother or sister is under the age of sixteen No compensation shall be payable under this section to a widow unless she was living with her deceased husband at the time of his death or was then actually dependent upon him for support No compensation shall be payable under this section to a widower unless he be incapable of self-support at the time of his wife's death and be at such time dependent upon her for support The terms "child" and "children" shall include step-children and adopted children if members of decedent's household at the time of his death and shall include posthumous children Should any dependent of a deceased employe die or should the widow or widower remarry or should the widower become capable of self-support the right of such dependent or such widow or widower to compensation under this section shall cease If the compensation payable under this section to any person shall for any cause cease the compensation to the remaining persons entitled thereunder shall thereafter be the same as would have been payable to them had they been the only persons entitled to compensation at the time of the death of the deceased

The wages upon which death compensation shall be based shall not in any case be taken to exceed twenty dollars per week nor be less than ten dollars per week This compensation shall be paid during three hundred weeks and in the case of chidren entitled to compensation under clause 1 of this section the compensation of each child shall (if the other parent be dead or have abandoned such child) continue until such child reach the age of sixteen at the rate of fifteen per centum of wages if there be but one child with ten per centum additional for each additional child with a maximum of fifty per centum

Section 7 Except as hereinafter provided all compensation payable under this article shall be payable in periodical installments as the wages of the employee were payable before the accident

Whenever in this article the term "wages" is used it shall be construed to mean the money rate at which the service rendered is recompensed under the contract of hiring in force at the time of the accident and shall not include gratuities received from the employer or others nor shall it include board lodging or similar advantages received from the employer unless the money value of such advantages shall have been fixed by the parties at the time of hiring In occupations involving seasonal employment or employments dependent upon the weather the employee's weekly wages shall be taken to be one-fiftieth of the total wages which he has earned from all occupations during the year immediately preceding the accident unless it be shown that during such year by reason of exceptional causes such method of computation does not ascertain fairly the earnings of the employee in which case the period of calculation shall be extended so far as to give a basis for the fair ascertainment of his average weekly earnings In continuous employments if immediately prior to the accident the rate of wages was fixed by day or hour or by the output of the employee his weekly wages shall be taken to be five and one-half times his average earnings at such for a working day of ordinary length excluding earnings from overtime and using as the basis of calculation his earnings during so much of the preceding six months as he worked for the same employer Where the employee is working under concurrent contracts with two or more employers his wages from all employers shall be considered as if earned from the employer liable for compensation

Section 8 Compensation under this article to alien dependent widows children and parents not residents of the United States shall be the same in amount as is provided in each case for residents except that at any time within one year after death of the injured employee the employer may at his option commute all future installments of compensation to be paid to alien dependents not residents of the United States by paying to such alien dependents two-thirds of the total amount of such future installments of compensation Alien widowers brothers and sisters not residents of the United States shall not be entitled to any compensation

Section 9 Unless the employer shall have actual knowledge of the occurrence of the injury or unless the employee or some one on his behalf or some of the dependents of some one on their behalf shall give notice thereof to the employer within fourteen days after the accident no compensation shall be due until such notice be given or knowledge obtained If notice be given or the knowledge obtained after fourteen days but within thirty days after the accident the delay shall not bar compensation unless the employer shall show that he was prejudiced thereby and then only to the extent of such prejudice If the notice be given or the knowledge obtained after thirty days but within ninety days after the accident and if the employee or other beneficiary shall show that his delay in giving notice was due to his mistake or ignorance of fact or of law or to his physical or mental inability or to fraud misrepresentation or deceit or to any other reasonable cause or excuse then compensation shall be allowed except to the extent that the employer shall show that he was prejudiced by such delay Unless knowledge be obtained or notice given within ninety days after the accident no compensation shall be allowed

To (name of employer)

You are hereby notified that an injury of the following character (   ) was received by (name of employee injured) who was in your employment at (place) while engaged as (kind of employment)   on or about (   ) the (   ) day of (   ) Anno Domini (   ) and that compensation will be claimed therefor

Date   Signed (   )

but no variation from this form shall be material if the notice be sufficient to inform the employer that a certain employees name received an injury the character of which is described in ordinary language in the course of his employment on or about a time specified and at or near a place specified

Section 11 The notices referred to in section three and section nine hereof may be served personally upon the employer or upon the manager or superintendent in charge of the works or business in which the accident occurred or by sending them through the registered mail to the employer at his or its last known residence or place of business or if the employer be a corporation either foreign or domestic then upon the president vice-president secretary or treasurer thereof Knowledge of the occurrence of the injury on the part of any of said agents shall be the knowledge of the employer

Section 12 After an injury the employee if so requested by him employer must submit himself for examination at some reasonable time and place and as often as may be reasonably requested to a physician or physicians legally authorized to practice under the laws of such place who shall be selected and paid by the employer If the employee requests he shall be entitled to have a physician or physicians of his own selection to be paid by him present to participate in such examination For all examinations after the first the employer shall pay the reasonable traveling expenses and loss of wages incurred by the employee in order to submit to such examination The refusal of the employee to submit to such examination shall deprive him of the right to compensation under this article during the continuance of such refusal and the period of such refusal shall be deducted from the period during which compensation would otherwise be payable

Section 13 In case of failure to agree upon a claim for compesation under this article between the employer and employee or the dependents of the employee either party may submit the claim as to questions of fact nature and effect of the injuries and the amount of compensation due therefor according to this article to the Court of Common Pleas of the county in which the accident occurred or of the county in which the adverse party resides or has a permanent place of business or by agreement of the parties to the Court of Common Pleas of any other county which courts shall hear and determine such disputes in a summary manner and their decisions as to all questions of fact shall be conclusive

Section 14 In case of personal injury all claims for compensation shall be forever barred unless within one year after the accident the parties shall have agreed upon the compensation payable under this article or unless within one year after the acident one of the parties shall have filed a petition as provided in section fifteen hereof In cases of death all claims for compensation shall be forever barred unless within one year after the death the parties shall have agreed upon the compensation under this article or unless within one year after the death one of the parties shall have filed a peititon as provided in section fifteen hereof Where however payments of compensation have been made in any case said limitation shall not take effect until the expiration of one year from the time of the making of the last payment

Either party may present a petition to said court or any judge thereof setting forth the names and residences of the parties and the facts relating to employment at the time of the accident the extent and character of the injury the amount of wages received at the time of the acident the knowledge of the employer or notice of the occurrence of the injury and such other facts as may be necessary and proper for the information of the said court shall state the matter or matters in dispute and the contention of the petitioner with reference thereto This petition shall be verified by the oath or affirmation of the petitioner

Upon the presentation of such petition the same shall be filed with the prothonotary of the Court of Common Pleas and the court shall fix a time and place for the hearing thereof not less than three weeks after the date of the filing of said petition A copy of said petition and order shall be served upon the adverse party as a summons in a civil action may be served Within seven days after the service of such notice (unless the time be extended by the court for cause shown) the adverse party shall file an answer to said petition which shall admit or deny the substantial averments thereof and shall state the contention of the answering party with reference to the matters in dispute The answer shall be verified in like manner as the petition If no answer be filed as aforesaid evidence shall be offered at the hearing by the petitioner only The court shall in every case have authority to allow amendments of the petition or answer and to suspend the proceedings during the refusal of the employee to submit to the examination required by section twelve hereof

At the time fixed for hearing or any adjournment thereof the said court or any judge thereof shall hear the witnesses and in a summary manner decide the merits of the controversy This decision called an award shall be in writing and filed with the prothonotary of the Court of Common Pleas and shall contain a brief statement of the facts as determined by said court Costs may be awarded by said court in its discretion and when so awarded the same costs shall be allowed taxed and collected as are allowed taxed and collected for like services in the same court After petition filed the Court of Common Pleas may in its discretion upon motion of either party or of its own motion appoint one or more impartial physicians or surgeons to examine the injuries of the claimant and to report thereon to the court Said court shall have power to fix the compensation of such physicians or surgeons and to tax the same as a part of the costs of the proceedings The report of any physicians or surgeons appointed by the court as aforesaid shall be filed with the prothonotary and shall be a part of the record and shall be open to inspection by both parties Such report shall not be conclusive of the facts therein stated but shall be advisory only Appeals may be taken from the award of the Court of Common Pleas to the Supreme or Superior Courts in such manner and upon such terms as the Supreme Court shall by rule prescribe but no appeal shall operate as a supersedes unless allowed by the trial or appellate court except where the compensation shall have been commuted as provided in section sixteen of this article Cases arising under this article shall have precedence both in the Courts of Common Pleas and in the appellate courts over all other civil cases

Section 16 The compensation contemplated by this article may be commuted by said Court of Common Pleas at its present value when discounted at six per centum interest with annual rests (disregarding the probability of the beneficiary's death) upon application of either party with due notice to the other if it appear that such commutation will be for the best interest of the employee or the dependents of the deceased employee or that it will avoid undue expense or undue hardship to either party or that such employee or dependent has removed or is about to remove from the United States or that the employer has sold or otherwise disposed of the whole or the greater part of his business or assets Except as provided in section eight hereof and in this section no commutation of compensation shall be made

An agreement or award of compensation may be modified at any time by a subsequent agreement or may be reviewed by said court upon the application of either party on the ground that the incapacity of the injured employee has subsequently increased or diminished or that the status of the dependent has changed In such case the provisions of section twelve and fifteen of this article with reference to medical examination shall apply

At any time after the entry of the award a sum equal to all future installments of compensation may (where death or the nature of the injury renders the amount of future payments certain) by leave of court be paid by the employer to any savings bank trust company or life insurance company in good standing and authorized to do business in this State and having an office in the county in which the award was entered and such sum together with all interest thereon shall thereafter be held in trust for the employee or the dependents of the employee who shall have no further recourse against the employer The payments of such sum by the employer evidenced by the receipt of the trustee noted upon the prothonotary's docket shall operate as a satisfaction of said award as to the employer Payments from said fund shall be made by the trustee in the same amounts and at the same periods as are herein required of the employer until said fund and interest shall be exhausted in the appointment of the trustee preference shall be given in the discretion of the court to the choice of the employee or the dependents of the deceased employee

Section 17 The right of compensation granted by this article of this act shall have the same preference (without limit of amount) against the assets of the employer as is now or may hereafter be allowed by law for a claim for unpaid wages for labor provided that no claim for compensation shall have priority over any mortgage or conveyance of land recorded prior to the filing of the petition or agreement as to compensation in the office of the prothonotary of the county in which such land is situated Claims or payments due under this article of this act shall not be assignable and (except as provided in section two of article III hereof) shall be exempt from all claims of creditors and from levy execution or attachment which exemption may not be waived

Section 18 Where the employer and the employee or the dependents of the employee shall after any accident agree upon the compensation payable hereunder for such accident a memorandum of such agreement signed by the parties may be filed with the prothonotary of said Court of Common Pleas The costs of the prothontary for such service shall be allowed taxed and collected as heretofore upon a confession of judgment When thus filed such agreement shall have the same effect as if it were an award of the court as provided in section fifteen hereof but shall be subject to review by the court for fraud mistake or other cause shown provided however that nothing in this Section shall be construed to permit a commutation of payments except as provided in sections eight and sixteen hereof and provided further that no agreement relating to compensation shall be valid if made within fourteen days of the accident nor shall any such agreement be valid of it vary the percentage of wages payable as compensation or the period during which compensation is to be paid as stated in sections five and six hereof

Section 19 If default shall be made by the employer for thirty days after demand in the payment of any amount due under any of the provisions of this article then upon petition of any person interested and after ten days notice thereof to the employer served in the same manner in which a summons may be served the court or any judge thereof shall if the default still exists enter judgment thereon for the amount or amounts due together with interest thereon and costs Upon such judgment no stay of execution shall be allowed except in the discretion of the court

Section 20 It shall be the duty of the prothonotary of each Court of Common Pleas to make report monthly to the Bureau of Industrial Statistics of all proceedings begun in such court under this article of this act classifying such report in such manner as to show whether the proceedings are brought for the settlement of a dispute as to liability for compensation for a modification thereof for a commutation of payments for a judgment in default of payment or for fixing of counsel fees and such report shall state the number and term of each proceeding but neither names nor further detail need be given unless required by the Bureau of Industrial Statistics

Section 21 Where a third person is liable to the employee or the dependents for the injury or death the employer shall be subrogated to the right of the employee or the dependents against such third person but only to the extent of the compensation payable under this article by the employer Any recovery against such third person in excess of the compensation theretofore paid by the employer shall be paid forthwith to the employee or to the dependents and shall be treated as an advance payment by the employer on account of any future installments of compensation

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

REQUEST FOR BILL OVER IN ORDER.

Mr. HALL. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 1300 (House Bill No. 912), on third reading, entitled:

An Act laying a tax on anthracite coal and providing for the collection and distribution of the same

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I am very sorry that I have to object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1300 (House Bill No. 912), entitled:

An Act laying a tax on anthracite coal and providing for the collection and distribution of the same

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McNICHOLS. Mr. President, the proposition to levy a tonnage tax upon anthracite coal is one so obviously in the interests of all the citizens of Pennsylvania that it is difficult to see what logical opposition could be presented to the measure which is now on third reading before the Senate.

Anthracite coal is exclusively a Pennsylvania monopoly. Its quantity, always very limited in comparison with the enormous deposits of bituminous coal, is rapidly growing less. Out of a total tonnage of about 90 millions annually, only 17½ millions are consumed by citizens of this State. This tax which approximates about 5 cents per ton, even though added at once to the price of coal, would constitute a very slight burden to the citizens of the Commonwealth in comparison to the substantial increase in the revenues of the State.

This bill, as originally presented at the session of 1911, proposed to turn into the State Treasury all of the tax collected under it, and was very naturally and properly opposed by the people living in the nine anthracite coal producing counties, which had a population of 1,208,574 by the census of 1910. They demanded, since the tax was produced by their natural wealth that they should have a substantial part of it, and in recognition of this just contention, the joint committee of the Senate and House appointed four years ago to inquire into the corporation and revenue laws of the Commonwealth and make recommendations upon the same, which prepared this bill, did at this session, so far recognize the paramount interest of the coal counties in this tax as to provide that one-half of the tax should be returned to these counties, proportioned upon their respective tonnages. The other half of the tax goes, under this bill, into the general treasury of the State.

In effect, it will produce a revenue of four and one-half millions of dollars per year. based upon the present anthracite tonnage. Of this sum two and one-half millions will go into the State Treasury and a like amount to be distributed among the anthracite counties.

The imposition of this tax is a plain business proposition which will net a very substantial profit to the people of the Commonwealth, by this I mean not only those who reside in the coal regions but to all of the citizens wherever residing.

Justice to the citizens of the Commonwealth who live in the coal counties demands the passage of this act. Year by year their great natural resource is being taken from them and these communities are growing not only relatively but actually poorer with each day of the continuance of this industry. It is altogether right and proper that the State should provide a way to bring to these sections some substantial return for their coal which can never be replaced.

Moreover, this industry has, in later years, come almost wholly under the control of the great coal railroads which are in the business solely to create freight, and the profits made out of the business do not go. as in former years, into the pockets of the citizens of the region to be largely reinvested again in the building up of the manufacturing interests of the communities, but rather to pay exorbitant dividends upon the stock of these great coal roads, which to a certain extent are from the view point of Pennsylvania, foreign corporations.

It has been suggested that legislation should be passed which would return to all of the 67 counties of the Commonwealth the State's share of the money derived from this tax, for the purpose of aiding the counties in the construction and maintenance of county and township roads. which are the auxiliary roads and feeders to the great State Highways which will be built in the near future.

The upkeep of these county and township roads will still remain a charge upon the local communities and will constitute a grevious burden after the State has set the fashion for good roads, and each county, however small and feeble, will have the laudable ambition to make its roads comport as far as possible with the general high character of the great through thoroughfares. This sum of money divided equitably, upon some fair basis. among the 67 counties of the State, would amount to an average allotment of $33,500 per year per county. I submit this bill as providing one of the most rational and just plans ever presented to provide revenue for the State.

Mr. HALL. Mr. President, will the Senator from Lackawanna, Mr. McNichols, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McNICHOLS. Mr. President, certainly.

Mr. HALL. Mr. President, I admit I have not read the bill, but is it a fact that so much money goes for the purpose of improving the roads. The Senator from Lackawanna, Mr. McNichols, has stated that part of this money goes to the State for building roads.

Mr. McNICHOLS. Mr. President, no, the Senator misunderstood me. I said the proposition was that the State's share could be so used so that each county could get a share, but it would mean legislation in order to do that, and if it were so divided. each county would receive $37,500 each year for their share of the upkeep of the so-called dirt roads, but there would have to be legislation following.

Mr. HALL. Mr. President, does the bill provide for that?

Mr. McNICHOLS. Mr. President, aside from the amount, yes.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 298, as follows:

An Act providing for the purchase by this Commonwealth of the land upon which Fort Washington Cumberland county was constructed and its preservation by this Commonwealth as a memorial of the high water mark of the war between the States and making an appropriation therefor

Whereas The Confederate forces under General Robert E. Lee in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three made a raid into the State of Pennsylvania and the skirmishers of his army reached a point within three miles of the city of Harrisburg and were driven back which skirmish was the high water mark of the war of the rebellion and

Whereas Hastily constructed interenchments were thrown up on a bluff on the opposite side of the Susquehanna river from the city of Harrisburg in Cumberland county called Fort Washington and troops were rushed there to repel the invaders and save the capital city of the State from possible capture and destruction which happily was accomplished and the invasion culminated in the battle of Gettysburg a few weeks later and

Whereas After the flight of nearly fifty years these intrenchments are practically intact and are a silent reminder of the cannon that once crowned them and the brave men who rallied to the defense of the capital of the State when it was in grave peril and

Whereas To the end that the land upon which this fort was located may be preserved for all times as a historic spot and destined in the years to come a place in the annals of this Commonwealth Therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the Governor is hereby authorized and directed to appoint a commission who shall serve without compensation to be composed of three citizens of this Commonwealth one of whom shall be a resident of Dauphin county and one a resident of Cumberland county whose duty it shall be to purchase in the name of this Commonwealth the land in Cumberland county opposite the city of Harrisburg upon which during the war between the States Fort Washington was constructed and to take such steps from time to time as shall be necessary to preserve said Fort Washington as a memorial of the high water mark of the said war Upon any vacancy occurring in such commission from any cause the Governor may fill such vacancy subject to the conditions aforesaid In the event of the neglect or refusal of any such member to perform any duty herein prescribed such member may be removed by the Governor and the vacancy thus caused shall be filled as aforesaid

Section 2 To carry out the purposes of this act the sum of twenty thousand dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated All payments made hereunder shall be upon warrant of the Auditor General under such conditions as to title of the land and method of payment therefor as he may prescribe

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 301, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation for the improvement of the port of Erie by constructing a modern commercial steamboat landing or wharf upon State lands within the harbor of Erie authorizing the appointment of a commission to construct same and providing for regulating the manner in which said wharf shall be used by the public and kept in repair

Whereas The harbor of the port of Erie is the only harbor in the State of Pennsylvania on the Great Lakes that its improvements is of essential importance to the people of the entire Commonwealth and

Whereas The Congress of the United States has recognized the importance of the preservation and permanent improvement of the harbor of the port of Erie by appropriating large amounts of money therefor and

Whereas The business at the port of Erie is congested by reason that inadequate wharves and docking facilities for the purpose of handling coarse freights and

Whereas The Commonwealth is the owner of the land lying between the foot of Peach street and the United States harbor line a distance of about five hundred and sixty feet upon which land a public wharf could only be built with the consent of the Commonwealth therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the sum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary be and the same is hereby specifically appropriated for the purpose of constructing and building a modern commercial public steamboat landing or wharf upon State lands at the port of Erie by producing Peach street northwardly into the harbor of Erie commencing on the north side of the public dock at the foot of Peach street in the city of Erie and extending northwardly about five hundred and sixty feet and sixty feet in width to the harbor line established by the United States engineer and dredging to the approaches on both sides thereof

Section 2 The Governor is hereby empowered to appoint five persons who shall be and the same are hereby constituted a commission who shall have power and authority vested in them under this act to build and construct the said public steamboat landing or wharf and approaches as aforesaid

Section 3 The said commission shall from time to time certify under the oaths of at least three of their number to the Auditor General of this Commonwealth the amount of said appropriation necessary to be then expended for the building and construction of said wharf as aforesaid upon which certificate the Auditor General shall with the approval of the Governor draw his warrants upon the Treasurer for the payment of the amount thereof until the whole of said appropriation or as much as may be necessary for the purpose hereinbefore indicated shall have been paid out and expended.

Section 4 After the completion of said dock and until the Legislature shall otherwise provide the mayor and council of the city of Erie shall have power to enact ordinances regulating the manner in which said dock may be used by the public with such restriction and prohibitions and such penalties and rentals payable to said city as shall appear conducive to the public interest and welfare of the Commonwealth and shall make such repairs thereto as may appear to them to be necessary to keep the same in proper condition

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 357, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to Emma Lorah mother of Bruce L Lorah formerly an assistant range master in the Ninth regiment National Guard of Pennsylvania

Whereas Bruce L Lorah aged eighteen years was an assistant range master in the regular employ of the officers of the Ninth regiment National Guard of Pennsylvania and was shot and instantly killed by a private while at target practice on October nineteenth nineteen hundred and twelve through no negligence of his own at the rifle range of the said regiment at Wanamie in Luzerne county while in the line of the performance of his duty as such assistant rangemaster and

Whereas His mother Emma Lorah was at the time of the said accident wholly dependent upon the said Bruce L Lorah for her support and maintenance therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the sum of three thousand dollars be and the same is hereby specifically appropriated to Emma Lorah for the purpose of compensating her for the loss of service and damages resulting to her from accidental killing of her son Bruce L Lorah an assistant range master in the Ninth regiment National Guard of Pennsylvania on October nineteenth nineteen hundred and twelve

An Act making an appropriation for the erection at Carlisle of a monument to commemorate the heroine of the battle field of Monmouth in one thousand seven hundred and seventy-eight known in history as "Molly Pitcher" and providing for the appointment of a commission to select a model for and supervise the erection thereof

Whereas, Mary Ludwig of Carlisle married John Hays of Carlisle, who enlisted in the Continental Army and

Whereas, Mary Hay accompanied her husband to the war and nursed and carried water in a pitcher to the soldiers on many a battlefield, for which many acts of kindness and heroism she was given the name of "Molly Pitcher"' and

Whereas, at the battle of Monmouth, June twenty-eight, one thousand seven hundred and seventy-eight, John Hays was short down at the mouth of his cannon and before the command could be obeyed "to the rear with that unmanned gun" Molly Pitcher took the place of her husband and served in his place for eight hours, rallied the troops and assisted in winning the battle for which heroic action she was called before Washington and brevetted sergeant, the French calling her El Capitan, or Captain Molly, and

Whereas, Mary Hays returned to Carlisle with her husband, and after the death of her husband John Hays, she married ——McCauly, after whose death the Legislature of Pennsylvania granted her a pension of forty dollars a year "for services rendered in the Revolutionary War" indexed "Molly McKolly, Revolutionary heroine" (the only woman so indexed in the archives of Pennsylvania) the vouchers for this pension, she signed by making her mark, in some of which she spells her name McKolly and some McCauly, and

Whereas, the citizens of Carlisle erected an humble monument to mark her grave in the old graveyard at Carlisle, and the State of Pennsylvania has never erected a proper monument to the only woman cannoneer of the Revolutionary War, Therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That Roy L Schuyler of Lock Haven William A Rupp of Carlisle William S Wacker of Philadelphia and Herman A Miller of Easton be a commission of citizens of this Commonwealth together with three other citizens of this Commonwealth to be appointed by the Governor which commission shall serve without compensation except travelling and incidental expenses and shall have in charge the selection of the plan and the erection of such a monument at Carlisle expending the money hereby appropriated

Section 2 That in the aid of object aforesaid and in order to secure a monument which shall be as to art and materials in every way worthy thereof the sum of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) is hereby appropriated the said sum to be expended under the direction of the commission hereby provided for

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I move to amend section 1, in line 5, by inserting after the word "of" the words "United States Senator for the office of;" also in lines 11 and 12 by striking out the words "as are required by the rules;" also in line 20 by inserting after the word "qualified" the words "and enrolled;" also in line 26 by inserting after the word "vacancies" the words "except when such special election is held at the time of a regular election and such vacancy occurred or existed at least sixty days prior to the regular primary antecedent to such regular election;" also in line 43 by striking out "eleced" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "elected;" also by adding at the end of the section the following: "Vacancies happening at any time in the office of National committeemen shall be filled by the State Committees of the respective parties. Vacancies happening at any time in the office of State Committeeman shall be filled by the County Committees of the respective parties."

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

Mr. JARRETT. Mr. President, I move to amend section 1 in line 26 by inserting after the word "vacancies" the words "and nothing herein contained shall prevent anybody of electors not constituting a political body from nominating candidates by nomination papers as is now or may hereafter be provided by law."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. JARRETT. Mr. President, the purpose of this amendment that I have just offered is to preserve to the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that right which they have enjoyed for the past twenty years and that is the right for them to have their candidate, if he is not the candidate of a party nominated by nomination papers, either before the primaries or after the primaries, that he can get on the ballot at the general election by nomination papers. In spirit as a straight Republican, such as I am, I am personally opposed to independent candidates coming out after the primaries and getting on the general election ballot, but I want to say, Mr. President, that I am not here as representing the Republican Party, I am not here as representing my own views in this, but I am here to represent the wishes of the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. In this matter, Mr. President, I think that we shall not take a selfish view of this. It may be our view that we are opposed to independent candidates, but at the same time we must not forget that there are people in this Commonwealth who may not participate in the primaries, and I think the right should be preserved to them to have their candidates nominated by nomination papers. So, Mr. President, the striking out of the general election law of this feature will make a monoply of our politics and that will enure to the benefit of the Democratic and Republican Parties and I say that it is not right to legislate to make a trust of the politics of the State. We should leave it as it is, that the people should have the right to file their nomination papers to get on the ballot at the general election and for this reason I have offered this amendment and I call for the yeas and nays.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, the aim has been to present in this bill a uniform state wide primary act. The provision under discussion is that any combination of independent voters may by petition to the court of Dauphin County three months before the primary, requesting the use of a particular name or party at the primaries and have the privilege issued to them of a party name and an official ballot. They participate in the primary just the same as any other political party. Now this affords any combination of voters, however independent they may be the fullest opportunity to come in a regular way and participate in the primary election. Now then, after these people have participated, this provides that thereafter, after people have come in in the regular way and participated in the primary, that they must abide by its results and be bound by them, that after the primary the gates are down and no combination of dissatisfied voters, who, sore because they have not won out at the primaries in which they have participated, can come in through nomination papers and defeat the regularly nominated candidate of the political party. Now I submit to you, Mr. President, that to every fair minded man no objection whatever can be found to this provision in this bill. If voters are given the opportunity without restriction to participate in the primary, why should they not be legally bound in a matter in which they are in honor bound, and we submit to you, Mr. President, that this bill has been prepared with the greatest care, with but one idea, to give the people the fullest opportunity to participate in the primary elections and to nominate the candidates of their choice but after they have participated we insist, Mr. President, they should be bound by the result and we sincerely hope that this amendment will be voted down.

Mr. JARRETT. Mr. President, as I have said in my remarks I am not in favor of soreheads after they have been defeated by a primary coming out then and seeking a nomination by nomination papers. In answer to the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Crow, I want to say this that we must not forget that when we are closing the door to the sorehead gentleman who has been defeated for the nomination we are also closing the doors to the independent candidate who has not sought the nomination. We are also closing the doors to men who did not vote at all at the primaries. There are lots of men who will be enrolled under the Flynn enrollment bill. There are thousands of them, independent electors. You say they are Democrats, Republicans or Washingtons, but they will be enrolled. These men will not be satisfied with any candidates on any other ticket. This is not right for us to close doors on the independent voters of the State of Pennsylvania, because some sorehead heretofore has run for office and caused this dissension. I say, Mr. President, after a nomination is made for a political party the independent voters care not under what party name he is. He wants a right to have nomination papers and to have his name on the ticket for the general election. The principal matter is the man that he wants to fill the office of governor, or the man that he wants to fill the office of Judge or inspector and all those offices, and that question is determined at a general election and is not determined at the primary, and as I said before this right should be reserved to the people.

Mr. McILHENNY. Mr. President, the Senator from Fayette, last night opposed a bill because it carried a burden to a certain class of the community. Unless this bill is amended in accordance with the amendment offered by the Senator from Mercer it will work a very great hardship to some classes of the community. In order to get on the primary ballot, unless you happen to be affiliated with one of the older parties, under this state wide primary bill in odd numbered years you must form the party before June for your fall election, and in even numbered years you must form your party before the January before the fall election. Therefore if the independent body of electors wish to participate in the fall election unless this amendment is put in they must form their party by quite a complicated system, either six or nine or ten months before the general election and then go on the primary ballot and if they neglect to form their party within that time or if the conditions have not arisen which requires them to form that party within that time, that body of electors must go into the primary and vote under the old party name that can participate in the general election the next time; in other words unless this amendment is put in an independent body of electors must start their campaign nearly a year before election and in others nearly four months. That is a real hardship to independent movements, and the people of this State, I am confident, do not what any such complications in the elections. The elections are complicated now, but this will make it practically prohibitive. This amendment that the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Jarrett, offered will merely put the law the way it has always been for the last twenty years. The people of this State have had the liberty of filing nomination papers for twenty years and if the primary is not satisfactory to them they can file nomination papers and have their day in court. Our general system of election laws is to give every man a full opportunity to exercise discretion. Our general election laws allow a man to write a name in the very last day, the day he casts his ballot. At a general election he can write a name in, but under this primary you would head a man off or a group of men off from forming a party unless they formed this party in some years nearly a year before election. I think that is a great burden to some parts of the community. It is not necessary. The law we have has in the past gave them that right and there is no reason to change it and I hope you will vote "aye" on this amendment."

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I am surprised at the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. MIlhenny referring to the law for at least twenty years as pertaining to elections being entirely satisfactory. This is what this Senate has been working at for the last four months, under the impression that there was a general uprising for a change, not only of the laws but the system under which the State of Pennsylvania has been working for the last twenty years. Now the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McIlhenny, has referred to the long stage of time that is consumed or used by in dependent parties to file their petitions for the preemption of a new party. The purpose of the Committee in considering that proposition in fixing those dates as specified in this bill was with the idea that the Committee and the legislature would not be charged with undertaking to crowd any body of citizens into a short space of time for the purpose of accepting and developing a situation in the formation of a party which would require of itself under the provisions of this bill practically thirty days for its deliberation and approval by the Dauphin County Court, or a local court, if it were a local affair, and the Committee in its wisdom thought that at least ninety days was the shortest sufficient time in which these committees could prepare their list for signatures and could file those signatures in the court and could form their committees and begin to prepare for the election or the primary election to be held in the succeeding months. We have in the city of Philadelphia an example of what is in the mind of independent voters. They will not wait for thirty days. They are not waiting for sixty days but we have on our city today, twelve months before the coming November election, wherein these independent citizens are already preparing not only by the formation of committees but also in the matter of campaign organization, public meetings, etc., and they propose to continue that on for the next six months or until the November election. Now as the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Crow, has said this bill has been prepared with the idea of fairness to every one and if a body of gentlemen or citizens desire to have a political party, they have all the time as specified in this bill to organize one and they have all the time to participate in the primary election. Now the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Jarrett, said that the primary elections are closed and the independent citizen is barred from expressing his views at the general election. That is not true, because as Mr. McIlhenny said, there is still a space upon the ballot for anyone to write his reference on the blank space at the time of voting for that office. There is also a provision in the bill that those of the party organization or the independent party as formed at the primaries with and by the consent of the committee or of the signers, fifty-one per cent of them, there can be a coalition for the purpose of defeating an undesirable candidate. Now if by any means if any more opportunity could be given to men to exercise their rights in all of their politics, I cannot conceive it possible to draw such a bill.

Mr. McILHENNY. Mr. President, when the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol, talks about the length of time necessary to form a party before the primary, it is unfortunate that the time is so long, but I agree with him on the bill as it is drawn it is very difficult to make it any shorter time, but that being the fact that it cannot be shortened makes it all the more necessary that independent groups of electors may have the right as they always have had the right, to file nomination papers after that time has elapsed. If you have to get a new party to file its nominations papers a year before the election, it practically does away with independent voting and independent forming of parties, as we have always permitted it to be done. Now all over this State there has been hundreds and hundreds of nomination papers filed every year. The people have used that part of our Baker ballot system more than any other part and yet if you pass this bill without the amendment introduced by the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Jarrett, you will take away that right they now enjoy and the right that they have made good use of in the last twenty years.

Mr. MILLS. Mr. President, in arising to second the motion of the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Jarrett, that the "Yeas" and "Nays" be called for on this amendment I wish to state that party regularity and party allegiance should not be put above the rights of the people, although it is undesirable from a straight party standpoint for a group of citizens to form an independent party. They should have the right to do so if they so desire. The fact that there is a popular demand, the fact that this provision of the law is used is evidenced by the vote of last fall when 450,000 voters of Pennsylvania exercised the right which is sought to be taken away from them by the bill as it now stands before the Senate, and I wish to say that it is far most important that the rights of the people be preserved than legislation be passed to preserve political regularity. The people should have the right to form political parties to encourage independent politics at any time. The fact that a vacant space appears on the ballot is true, but every Senator knows that it is almost impossible to have concerted action in these independent movements where it is necessary to insert the name by sticker or by writing the name of the candidate of the independent movement. Therefore, I hope this amendment offered by the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Jarrett, will pevail.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, since the passage of the act of 1893 known as the Baker Ballot law a large percentage of our election contests have appeared in the court of common pleas of Dauphin County, which I have the honor to represent, and I challenge, Mr. President, any one to contradict the statement that the large percentage of the nomination papers which have been filed in the court of Common Pleas of this County have appeared there because of a desire to defeat some candidate who was regularly nominated by the party to which he belongs. We have had since the Baker ballot law was enacted a growing tendency upon the part of every defeated candidate and the friends he represented to come into court after the party primaries have been held and file some nomination papers in order that he might have advantage over the man who defeated him at the primary election. And furthermore, Mr. President, as time goes on we have had in the last two years these papers filed with the idea of creating fusion movements and why? Because the minority party in the several districts had a lot of independent voters, or have so called independent voters that are not independent in spirit, for they desire to defeat the majority candidate of the party in the county he represents. Why, Mr. President, just let us take off the mask of last spring. The Republican party recognized as the large majority of Pennsylvania and a number of men endeavored to scuttle that party after they could not secure the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt as the candidate of the Republican Party at the Chicago convention. And up to the time that that convention was held there was not a single one of them but that professed he was a member of the Republican Party, and when they failed to bring about that nomination after they had secured control of the party machinery in the Commonwealth they were not satisfied with the Republican candidate for president and then they created the Washington Party and in order that the people may know just how that convention was carried on, let me ask any member of this Senate, Mr. President, whether he ever knew of any person in any party convention who had the hardihood to assume the proxy of a deegate to a convention from a district in which he did not live and when that man was to cast his vote for the candidate for State Treasurer, that man who had taken his proxy and which he was not entited to, and who had assumed the Chairmanship of the Republican State convention, still continued in the chair without any authority, while the man to whom he had returned his proxy cast his ballot in favor of a candidate on the Republican ticket for State Treasurer. Why, Mr. President, the very purpose of this bill is to defeat the right of people, wrecking parties when they have had the chance at the regular time for making nominations, and Mr. President, have these people acted in good faith? Why, I say to you, Mr. President, that persons who will do these things and the person who would enter into an agreement, a copy of which I now have in my possession, will do anything to wreck a party, be it Republican, Democratic, Washington, or what party, and the agreement to which I refer is as follows:

"Memorandum and agreement between M. S. Quay of the first part and J. C. Brown and William Flinn of the second part. The consideration of this agreement being the mutual political and business advantage which may result therefrom.

First—The said M. S. Quay is to have the benefit of the influence in all matters in State and national politics of the said parties of the second part, the said paries agreeing that they will secure the election of delegates to the State and national convention who will be guided in all matters by the wishes of the said party of the first part, and who will also secure the election of members of the State Senate from the forty-third, forth-fourth, and forty-fifth senatorial districts, and also secure the election of members of the House of Representatives south of the Monongahela and Ohio Rivers in the County of Allegheny who will be guided by the wishes and request of said party of the first part during the continuance of this agreement upon all political matters. The different candidates for the various positions mentioned shall be selected by the parties of the second part and all the position of the State and national appointments made in this territory mentioned shall be satisfactory to and secure the endorsement of the party of the second part when the appointment is made either by or through the party of the first part or his friends or political associates. All legislation affecting the parties of the second part shall receive the hearty co-operation and assistance of the party of the second part and legislation which may affect their business shall likewise receive the hearty co-operation and help of the party of the first part. It being distinctly understood that at the approaching national convention to be held in the City of St. Louis, the delegates from the twenty-second congressional district shall neither by voice nor vote do other than what is satisfactory to the party of the first part. The party of the first part agrees to use his influence and secure the support of his friends and political associates to support the Republican county and city ticket when nominated both in the City of Pittsburg and the County of Allegheny and that he will discontinue the factional fighting by his friends and associates for county offices during the continuance of this agreement. This agreement is not to be binding if the party of the first part is a candidate for United States Senator, to succeed himself so far as this office is concerned. In the forty-third senatorial district a new Senator shall be elected to succeed Senator Upperman. In the forty-fifth senatorial district the party of the first part shall secure the withdrawal of Dr. A. J. Barchfield and the parties of the second part shall withdraw as a candidate Senator Steel and the parties of the second part shall secure the election of some party satisfactory to themselves. In the twenty-second congressional district the candidates for Congress shall be selected by the party of the second part. The term of this agreement to be for ...... years from the beginning thereof, and shall be binding upon all parties when signed by C. L. Magee.

I want to ask you, Mr. President, whether there can be any good faith in this so-called reformer to represent the people of Pennsylvania, or that the members of this Senate shall not have the right to cross a T or dot an I or oppose an election bill except at the instance and direction of a man who enters into an agreement of this character. I could go on, Mr. President, and detail on the floor of this Senate the corruption which existed in the City of Pittsburgh for many years by reason of this agreement having been entered into and to such time that the people of that city rose up in their might and defeated any further scuttling of the treasury of the city of Pittsburgh. Mr. President, I submit to the members of this Senate that a man who desires to be a candidate for public office has the right to select the party to which he may belong and if he does not see fit to select a party if he goes into the primary election I submit he has a right to be bound by that primary. If the right exists for an independent movement in the Commonwealth it exists just as well before the primary is held as it would exist after the primary was held, because I submit that the only reason that any independent movement could exist after a primary was held was because of the desire on the part of the men who were defeated at the primaries to fuse with the members of other parties in order that he might defeat the victor at the primary election and I submit Mr. President, that this bill is fair in its provisions. A man has a right to know when he goes into a primary election whether the man who sees fit to oppose him in that primary shall be bound by the action of that primary and if he goes in with that idea, this is the one safeguard for honesty in politics and procuring party nominations which shall stand at regular elections.

Mr. MILLS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Beidleman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Dauphin, Mr Beidleman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. MILLS. Mr. President, I desire to ask the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Beidleman, whether or not he has information that the agreement just read was signed by the parties.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I have information that agreement was in existence for something like eight or nine years.

Mr. MILLS. Mr. President. I desire to ask the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Beidleman, whether he has any information that the agreement just read was signed by the parties.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I do not, but I am advised by the people who lived in the city of Pittsburgh for all their life this agreement was entered into, the agreement which I have read was entered into, and Mr. President, it is a matter of public record in the City of Pittsburgh that by reason of the failure to interfere on the part of people with conditions existing in that city, that a firm of which the party which I have named was a member in the course of nine years did over three and one-half millions dollars worth of street paving and the only one other firm outside of that firm that did any paving at all did about thirty-three thousand dollars worth and that the prices that were obtained for that paving ran anywhere from a dollar to one dollar and eighty cents per square yard above what was being paid by municipalities close to the community in which that work was done. And I have, Mr. President, information which I have no reason to question or doubt, that the construction of the Public Safety Building in the City of Pittsburgh, there were specified there certain things in the nature of preferences for this man and when somebody offered to bid for the stone for $18,000 the color of the Ligonier stone was changed so that this person might bid for it at something like $30,000 and the specifications for that work were delivered before the contract was actually written.

Mr. MILLS. I desire to further interrogate the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Beidleman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Beidleman, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I am perfectly willing to be interrogated.

Mr. MILLS. Mr. President, I wish to ask the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Beidleman, if a year ago he was not concerned or engaged in the formation of a third party after the Republican Primaries at which he was nominated.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, A number of people, one of whom is in this room and who attempted to steal the County Chairmanship, and was during last fall the County Chairman of the Washington Party and who did attempt to steal the Chairmanship which I have the honor to represent and for the purpose of offsetting their Washington Party in this County, I did secure the nomination of the Bull Moose Party, but Mr. President let me say this that

I would be glad at any time to be the candidate of a party nominated at an out and out primary and would not seek to defeat him by any independent party.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, there is only one thing I wish to add on the proposition. The information of the Senator is very enlightening and might prompt me to move to Pittsburgh, but it does not give me any reason why I should support this amendment The reason I am against the amendment offered by the Senator from Mercer, is because I found last fall it was an easy matter for a number of men who signed these so-called nomination papers to send them and place them in deposit in Pittsburgh, Philadelphia or Harrisburg and let certain gentlemen have them and then have these independent nomination papers huckstered about to the highest bidder. I find that that kind of proceeding is not only injurious to a party but it is injurious to the citizenship of the State and while it has been practiced under the law that has permitted it I don't believe it was ever intended and I do not think it should be permitted in the future. It is a well known fact that certain gentlemen who are now holding office under the so called reform wave of last fall, and were then so called Republicans, carried thousands of so-called independent papers around in a grip from the Secretary of the Commonwealth's office down to the Clerk of the Senate's office and back and forth waiting for bidders or for men to pay for the getting up of their subscribers or these signatures, and I happened to be present, and have to say that certain independent nominations which were gotten in the County of Schuylkill were filed and I found that the same gentlemen were huckstering them about until about twelve o'clock at night in a big grip. It took himself and two or three others to assist to carry these independent papers and finally the cost of getting these signatures was paid by some one and the papers were either handed over or destroyed.

To me that system is not fair, it is not honest, and does not promote the good citizenship of this Commonwealth. It has been used by all men who desire office regardless of their political affiliations, whether Republican, Democratic or Washington. As to the gentlemen who took advantage of it we have nothing to say because under their party spirit, I have no doubt who did it, but to me it is improper and the reason I vote against this amendment is for the purpose of preventing that kind of procedure in the future.

Mr. JARRETT. Mr. President, I trust that the members of this Senate will not be lead away by the remarks made by the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Beidleman. Mr. Beidleman as an attorney at law knows very well that the evidence that he has offered here would not be regarded as evidence in a law suit. You gentlemen are sitting here as a jury and it is now for you to decide whether you are to allow side issues to crowd out the main issue. The main issue is whether we are going to give the people of Pennsylvania the right to place in nomination a candidate after the primary and I say Mr. President, that the statement the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Beideman has made is unfair. I am not here defending any person, but I say the attack is unfair, bringing a man in here that has nothing to do with it. I say it is not a fair proposition to either side, having nothing whatever to do with it, and it has no bearing whatever upon it.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Mercer, Mr. Jarrett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Jarrett permit himself to be interogated?

Mr. JARRETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I wish to ask the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Jarrett, in that he questions the statement that I have made, if he is ready to contradict that Senator Upperman was not succeeded by somebody else at the time this agreement was executed.

Mr. JARRETT. Mr. President, I know nothing about it. I know nothing at all about it.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I want to ask him whether Dr. Barchfield was withdrawn as a candidate for State Senate about the time this agreement was entered into between these parties.

Mr. JARRETT. Mr. President, I know nothing at all about it.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, and I would like to ask whether he is ready to contradict that Senator Upperman was withdrawn as a candidate at about the time of the execution of this agreement.

Mr. JARRETT. Mr. President, I am not ready to contradict it, as I know nothing about this, but I want to say that this matter has no bearing upon this amendment. That is what I want to say and it should not be defeated.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. JARRETT and Mr. MILLS, and were as follows, viz:

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President. I move to amend Section 5 by striking out all of line 44; also by striking out all of line 51.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the amendments?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?
It was agreed to.
The sixth section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 6 Any body of electors who otherwise under this act would not be entitled to an official ballot at the primary may not later than the fifteenth day of January in even numbered years and not later than the fifteenth day of June in odd-numbered years obtain the exclusive use of a party name for the next ensuing primary by filing a petition in the court of common pleas of Dauphin county setting forth the name or appellation which they desire to adopt and the election district or division in which they desire to use such name as well as the primary at which they desire to use such name Such petition shall be signed by qualified electors of the election district or division in which it is desired to use such name to the number of at least three per centum of the largest entire vote cast in such election district or division for any office at the last preceding election at which any officer was voted for by the electors at large is such political district or division Opposite the name of each person so signing shall be set forth his residence his occupation and his age Such petition shall be vouched for by the affidavit of not less than three of such signers who shall make affidavit attached to said petition that the averments contained in said petition are true that they and each of them saw all of said signers affix their signatures to said petition and that said signers are all qualified electors of such political district or division No elector shall sign more than one of said petitions for adoption of political appellation or name to be used at the ensuing primary

Upon the filing of said petition for the exclusive right to use said party name at an ensuing primary the court of common pleas of Dauphin county shall after such notice by advertisement or otherwise as the said court may direct set a date for a hearing on said petition which date shall be more than fifteen days after the filing of said petition At least one of the affiants must appear before the said court in person at the time set for the hearing and vouch for the truth of all the averments contained in said petition Should none of the affiants appear to vouch for the truth of the averments contained in said petition or if said affiants appear but do not show that the averments contained in the said petition are true or if any cause be shown why the said body of electors should not have the exclusive right to the use of said party name then the said court shall dismiss said petition and place the costs of the proceeding upon the said three affiants If however the said court should find that the averments contained in said petition are true then said court shall enter an order granting to the said body of electors the exclusive right to the use of said name or political appellation for the ensuing primary in such election district or division of which the nomination or nominations are to be made

No right shall be given to any body of electors pre-empting a party name as above to use the name or part of the name or a name similar to that of any other party which shall be entitled to an official ballot at the ensuing primary

In the event of two petitions for the same party name being filed the court shall allow only that petition which is in due accordance with the provisions of this act which is the first filed In no event shall any body of electors be granted the right to the use of the name or part of the name or a name similar to that already granted to nay other body of electors for use at the ensuing primary

When the court of common pleas of Dauphin county has entered its order allowing a body of electors the exclusive right to the use of a party name or political appellation for the ensuing primary the said party shall be entitled to an official party ballot at said primary and the names of delegates and candidates or party officers for said party shall be printed on the official ballot of said party in the same manner and by same means as the names of delegates candidates and party officers are placed upon the official ballots of other parties participating in said primary

As soon as convenient after the court of common pleas of Dauphin county has entered its order allowing the exclusive use of a party name to any body of electors the members of said party shall organize and elect a State chairman and such county chairmen as may be necessary for the purpose of sending the notices required in section three of this act to the Secretary of the Commonwealth or the county commissioners as the case may be"

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I move to amend Section 6, in line 1, by striking out "otherwsie" and inserting the word "otherwise;" also in line 6 by striking out the word "in;" also in line 9 by striking out the word "election" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "political;" also in line 15 by striking out the word "is" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "in;" also beginning in line 18 by striking out the words "such petition shall be vouched for by the affidavit of not less than three of such signers who shall make affidavit attached to said petition that the averments contained in said petition are true that they and each of them saw all of said signers affix their signatures to said petition and that said signers are all qualified electors of such political district or division" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "such petition if consisting of one sheet shall be vouched for by the affidavit of not less than three of the signers thereof who shall make affidavit attached to said petition that the averments contained in said petition are true and that they and each of them saw all of the signers affix their signatures to said petition and that the said signers are all qualified electors of such political district or division. If said petition consists of more than one sheet each sheet shall be vouched for by the affidavit of one of the signers thereof who shall make affidavit attached to said sheet that the averments contains in said petition are true and that he saw all of the signers affix their signatures to said sheet and that the signers are all qualified electors of such political district or division and in addition thereto at least three of the signers of said petition shall make an affidavit to said petition that all the averents contained in the said petition are true to the best of their knowledge and belief and that they believe the signatures attached to the said petition are the proper signatures of the persons purporting to sign said petition and that the said persons are duly qualified electors of the said district or division;" also in line 27 by striking out "fiiing" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "filing;" also in line 31 by inserting after the word "shall" the word "not;" also in line 43 by striking out the word "find;" also in line 56 by inserting after the word "act" the word "and;" also by striking out the double quotation marks at the end of line 78.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the amendments?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?
It was agreed to.
The seventh section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 6 The names of candidates for nomination as President of the United States and as United States Senator and the names of all other party candidates shall be printed upon the official ballot of a designated party upon the filing of nomination petitions in their behalf signed by qualified electors of the State or of the political district or division as the case may be within which the nomination is to be made or election is to be held and the filing of affidavits by the candidates as provided in this act and the names of no candidates shall be printed upon an official ballot of a political party to be used at any primary unless such petitions shall have been filed and unless such candidates except they be candidates for office of President of the United States shall have filed affidavits as hereinafter provided

(a) Each signer of a nomination petition shall sign but one such petition for each office to be filled and shall declare therein that he is a duly enrolled member of the party designated in such petition Provided however that where there are to be elected two or more persons to the same office each signer may sign petition for as many candidates for such office as and no more than he could vote for at the succeeding election He shall also declare therein that he is a qualified and enrolled elector of the designated party in the county therein named and in case the nomination is not to be made or candidates are not to be elected by the electors of the State at large of the political district or division therein named in which the nomination is to be made or the election is to be held He shall add his occupation and residence giving city borough or township with street and number of any and shall also add the date of signing No nomination petition shall be circulated prior to sixty (60) days before the last day on which such petition may be filed and no signature shall be counted unless it bears date within sixty (60) days of the last day for filing the same

Said nomination petition may be on one or more sheets and different sheets must be used for signers resident in different counties Each sheet shall have appended thereto the affidavit some person a signer of said sheet setting forth that the affiant is a qualified elector of the State or of the political district or division as the case may be referred to in said petition his residence giving city borough or township with street and number if any that the signers or duly enrolled as members of the designated party and signed with full knowledge of the contents of the petition that their respective residences are correctly stated therein that they all reside in the county named in the affidavit and that each signed on the date set opposite his name and that to the best of affiant's knowledge and belief the signers are qualified electors duly enrolled as members of the designated party of the State or of the political district or division as the case may be

(b) Each candidate shall file with his nomination petition his affidavit stating his residence with street and number if any and his postoffice address his election district the name of the office for which he consents to be a candidate that he is eligible for such office and that he will not knowingly violate any election law or any law regulating and limiting nomination and election expenses and prohibiting corrupt practices in connection therewith

Provided That in no event shall any person's name be printed upon the official ballot of any party as a delegate candidate or party officer unless he is registered and enrolled as a member of said party and unless he has signed and filed the affidavit above Should such a petition be filed to place the name of any person upon the official ballot of any party no petition shall be filed to place his name upon the ballot of any other party

In the case of a candidate for nomination as President of the United States it shall not be necessary for such candidate to file the affidavit required in this section to be filed by candidates but the postoffice address of such candidate shall be stated in such nomination petition

(c) Each candidate for election as delegate or alternate delegate to a national party convention may include with his affidavit the statement hereinafter set forth in this section but his failure to include such statement shall not be a valid ground on the part of the Secretary of the Commonwealth for refusal to receive and file his nomination petition Such statement if any be made shall be in substantially the following form

DELEGATE'S STATEMENT

I hereby declare to the voters of my political party in the (here insert "State of Pennsylvania" if a delegate or alternate delegate at large otherwise insert ".........District") that if elected and in attendance as a delegate to the national convention of the party I shall with all fidelity to the best of my judgment and ability in all matters coming before the convention support that candidate for President of the United States who shall have received the highest number of votes cast in the (here insert "State" if a delegate or alternate delegate at large otherwise insert "..........District") by the voters of my party for said office at the ensuing primary and shall use all honorable means within my power to aid in securing the nomination for such candidate for President

Signature of candidate for delegate or alternate delegate

On the ballot used at the primary after or under the name of each candidate for delegate or alternate delegate to a national party convention shall appear the words "Promises to support popular choice of party in the (here insert "State" if a delegate or alternate delegate at large otherwise insert "........... District") for President" or if the candidate included above statement with his affidavit

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I move to amend Section 7, in line 27, by striking out the brackets before and after the words "not necessarily," striking out the words "who is," striking out the words "of said sheet" and the brackets before and after the words "and not;" also in line 39 by inserting after the word "qualified" the words "enrolled;" also in line 43 by striking out the word "or" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "are;" also in line 58 by inserting after the word "candidate" the words state committeeman."

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

Mr. MILLS. Mr. President, I move to amend Section 7 by striking out beginning in line 57 the following: "Provided that in no event shall any person's name be printed upon the official ballot of any party as a delegate candidate State committeeman or party officers unless he is registered and enrolled as a member of said party and unless he has signed and filed the affidavit above. Should such a petition be filed to place the name of any person upon the official ballot of any party no petition shall be filed to place his name upon the ballot of any other party."

Mr. JARRETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. MILLS. Mr. President, in offering this amendment it is thought to restore this bill as far as Section 7 is concerned in the original manner in which it was presented to this Senate by the House of Representatives. As the bill now stands, without this amendment it is absolutely prohibitive of fusion in Pennsylvania. In other words this amendment will allow one particular party to endorse the candidate of any other particular party. As the bill now stands it is impossible for one political party to endorse a candidate of any other political party. It strikes me that it is good government and with the growing sentiment of eliminating politics from the election of public officers, it seems to me the people of one political party should have the right to endorse the candidate named by another political party. This bill will prevent this. It would be absolutely certain in any election district, no matter how good a man was named on the ticket. no matter how great the desire to endorse him by another political party, it would be impossible for them to do so, and we think it is not an unreasonable thing for the citizens of the State, and it is but just to give the good citizens the opportunity of making a good man the candidate of all the parties. I remember about a year age that many members of this Senate were seeking to have the very thing done with their candidacy which this bill absolutely prohibits and had they been unsuccessful in their quest for their second nomination as Senators, other Senators would be occupying the chairs in this chamber which they now have the pleasure of occupying. I sincerely hope the members of this Senate will see the justice of this amendment and will support it by their vote. On this question I ask for the "Yeas" and "Nays."

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I cannot understand how the Senator can construe this amendment to prohibit fusion. After the primary elections are over and the results of these elections are ascertained, this can be done under the provisions of this bill, but that shall be done in a regular, legal manner, as stipulated in the provisions of this section. If there is a candidate nominated on the Republican Party after the primary election the Democrat Party and the Washington Party propose for the purpose of the general election to have a fusion for the purpose of defeating the Republican Party, with the consent of their organization to the extent of a majority of the political committee or if it is an individual candidate fifty-one per cent. of the signers of that political candidate, what the Senator has objected to or stated cannot be completed can absolutely be done in a way that is recognized under this bill. Just as he referred to the Senators who are in this chamber to-day, first they were nominated by the Republican party and the officers and those who composed the Washington party took them and put them on their ticket, but in doing it now under the provisions of this law which is for the purpose of seeing that the people shall then name the candidate and that the legal officers of the ward committee or county committee or State committee shall control if it is deemed wise and advisable by a majority or a percentage of the signers of those independent papers.

Mr. McILHENNY. Mr. President, I hope this amendment as offered by the Senator from Bradford, Mr. Mills, will prevail. Why should we force contests when they do not want them? For instance, look at the County of Delaware, where they do not want a contest. Why should we compel the voters of this district to put different names on the ballot of the different parties if they only want one name? And if after the primaries are held, when they have different names, we would then have to have one man withdraw. I had some experience in fusion movements, and if there is anything harder to get a man to do it is to get him to withdraw after he is on the ticket. In many counties, many districts, the people want the same man to run on all the tickets, and I don't see any good reason, any sane reason, why the people should not have what they want in that respect.

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The eighth section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 8 The nomination petitions in the case of candidates for the office of President of the United States Senator of the United States member of the House of Representatives of the United States for all State offices for the office of delegate or alternate delegate to a national party convention and for the office of member of the State committee shall be filed at least four weeks prior to the primary with the Secretary of the Commonwealth Nomination petitions in all other cases shall be filed at least three weeks prior to the primary with the county commissioners of the respective counties

Nomination petitions of candidates shall be signed

(a) If for the office of President of the United States or of Senator of the United States by at least one hundred duly qualified and enrolled electors of the designated party in each of at least ten counties of the State

(b) Except for the office of judge of the Supreme Superior common pleas orphans' court or any other court of record within this Commonwealth now or hereafter to be established of the State or District as the case may be the petition so filed for the said candidates for judge shall not bear upon it any political appellation or designation and upon being filed in the proper office the name of the person so presented as candidate for judge by said petition shall be placed on the official ballot of every political party at said primary notwithstanding that the said candidate for judge is enrolled as a member of any political party

(c) If for a State office excepting judges of the Supreme Superior common pleas orphans' court or any other court of record of this Commonwealth now or hereafter to be established to be filled by a vote of the electors of the State at large for the office of Representative from the State at large in the Congress of the United States for the office of delegate or alternate delegate at large to a national party convention by at least one hundred duly qualified and enrolled electors of the designated party in each of at least five counties of the State

(d) If for the office of a member of the House of Representatives of the United States to be filled by a vote of the electors of a Congressional district or of delegate or alternate delegate to a national party convention other than delegate or alternate delegate at large or of State Senator by at least two hundred duly qualified and enrolled electors of the designated party

(e) If for the office of a member of the State House of Representatives or for the office of member of the State committee or an office to be voted for by the electors of the entire county by at least one hundred duly qualified and enrolled electors of the designated party

(f) And for all other offices and all other party offices by at least ten duly qualified and enrolled electors of the designated party

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I move to amend Section 8, in line 15, by striking out the word "except" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "if;" also in line 20 by inserting after the word "designation" the words "and shall be signed by two hundred qualified electors of the state or district as the case may be;" also by adding at the end of line 25 the following:

"And except further, that for the office of Judge of the Supreme, Superior, Common Pleas, Orphans Court, or any other Court of Record within this Commonwealth, now or hereafter to be established in the State, or any District, as the case may be, the votes of the candidates on all of the official ballots of all parties shall be commuted and added together, and where there is only one office to be filled, the two candidates receiving the highest number of votes in the aggregate on all such ballots for the specified office for which they were voted, shall be nominees of all the parties, and it shall be the duty of the proper officers to so print their names upon the official ballot outside the designated party columns for use at the succeeding election, as is now or may hereafter be required, and provided further, that where there are two offices of any one of said courts to be filled at any election, the four candidates receiving the highest number of votes shall be the nominees of all the parties and placed upon the ballots as aforesaid and similarly in the same proportion as the offices to be filled at ny election are increased in number. And provided further that where any one of said candidates for any one of said offices of any of said courts to be filled, has more votes than all the other candidates in the aggregate on all the ballots, he shall be the only nominee whose name shall be printed in all the party columns upon said ballots as aforesaid."

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will th Seenate agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The ninth section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 9 No nomination petition shall be refused or set aside except for

(a) Material error or defects apparent on the face thereof or on the face of the appended or accompanying affidavit or

(b) Material alterations made after signing without the consent of the signers or

(c) Want of a sufficient number of genuine signatures of duly qualified electors lawfully enrolled as members of the designated party for which the petition is filed excepting in the cases of the judges of courts of record in which petitions the signers thereof need be only qualified electors of the State or district as the case may be

The invalidity of any sheet of a petition shall not affect the validity of such petition if a sufficient petition remains after eliminating such invalid sheet

Application to set aside any nomination petition shall be by petition to the Court of Common Pleas of the county in which such nomination petition has been filed setting forth specifically the matters objected to and must be filed within five days after the last day for filing said nomination petition Upon the presentation of such a petition the court shall make an order fixing a time for hearing which shall not be later than ten days after the last day for filing said nomination petition and specifying the time and manner of notice that shall be given to the candidate named in the nomination petition sought to be set aside

In case the petition to set aside a nomination petition is dismissed the petitioner shall pay the whole of the costs of the proceeding including all witness fees

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. MILLS. Mr. President, I move to amend section 9, after line 26, by inserting a new paragraph as follows: "If the matters objected to are such as are specified in subdivision (A) of this section the court upon hearing the case may in its discretion permit amendments within such time and upon such terms as the said court may specify."

Mr. JARRETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. MILLS. Mr. President, well knowing that very many nomination papers, particularly for minor offices throughout the county and towns of the State of Pennsylvania, are prepared not by attorneys, who know all the legal formalities and technicalities required, but which are only formulated at the cross roads and in the stores and public meeting places for the purpose of nominating people whom they desire for office, this amendment seeks to make that task easy for them? In other words if any points in the petition is not observed which are required by law, which in the discretion of the court ought to be amended, this section gives the courts the right in its discretion to allow the amendment. The purpose of the amendment is simply to make it easy and convenient for people to make their nomination papers without putting their chance of nomination in jeopardy.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Bradford, Mr. Mills.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Bradford, Mr. Mills, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MILLS. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, As I understand it the intention of the amendment is to enable the courts or to give the courts the discretionary power to permit amendments of material errors. Is that the purport of it?

Mr. MILLS. Mr. President, yes, amend according to subdivision A, the previous section.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, The objection to this amendment is this. It would enable parties filing papers to procure the signatures attached to affidavits leaving out the name of the candidate, file them and afterwards when they had agreed upon the candidate come in and allege material error in the petition and under the discretionary power given in this amendment the court would have the right to grant them the privilege of substituting the name of the candidate after the papers had been filed. If the parties filing the petition omitted the name of the political party with which they were affiliated this amendment would enable the court in its descretion to permit the name of the party to be substituted after the papers were filed. Now Mr. President, it seems to me that this on the face of it is sufficient answer to this amendment to justify its rejection.

Mr. MILLS. Mr. President, the argument of the distinguished Senator from Fayette County is carried so far as to become an absurdity. Under the provisions of this act, if enacted into a law in the State of Pennsylvania, and its companion act the party enrollment bill, it would be very apparent the name of what party should be inserted if it is omitted, because the act provides that only voters enrolled of a given party are eligible to sign nomination papers of that party and therefore if a name was inadvertently omitted it would be a great injustice both to the candidate and to the signers of the nomination papers to have it fail by reason of a defect which the court could not correct by amendment.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I just want to say that in the matter of election bills in the Dauphin County Court or in any other Court in the Commonwealth, there has been very little injustice done to either party or candidates, and I think that we are all safe as representing the respective parties here to leave the legal matters in the hands of the judges of the courts.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, On this question, I want to add just one word. This is not a matter of difference in policies but in a pure matter of law. The original bill that came over from the House provided that no nomination petition will be refused or set aside except for material error or defect appearing upon the face of the paper. Now the design of the bill as presented here tonight is to leave the bill as it was when it came over from the House. The amendment proposed is to change that. That is to say no nomination petition can be ejected when it is presented unless there is a material error on the face of it. Now that is the amplest protection it seems to me that a candidate can have. Anything further than that is simply a license, and we may as well do away with the whole nomination scheme, because if the court in its discretion, if there is a material error found, can say to the candidates, to one candidate, "you may go back and correct that" and to another one "you may not correct that," then we have no system at all. There is not any difference in opinion as to policy, but I want to say, that I do not agree with the Senator introducing this amendment.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. MILLS and Mr. JARRETT, and were as follows, viz:

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The tenth section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 10 The Secretary of the Commonwealth immediately after the last day fixed for the filing of said petitions with him shall forward to the county commissioners of each county a correct list of candidates of each party for the various offices as shown in such petitions with their respective residences and postoffice addresses as shown in their affidavits and shall also at the same time notify the said candidates by mail that their names have been so certified to said county commissioners In the case of each candidate for delegate or alternate delegate to a national party convention the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall certify as to whether such candidate has included with his affidavit the statement provided for in subdivision (c) of section six of this act

The county commissioners shall have on file in their office on and after the Tuesday preceding the primary open to public inspection forms of the ballots with the names and such statements and notations as may be required by the provisions of this act printed thereon which shall be used in each election district within such county

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I move to amend section 10, line 20, by striking out the word "six" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "seven."

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The eleventh section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 11 The county commissioners shall prepare and furnish to the election officers for use at the primaries as many official ballots of each party as are equal to double the largest entire vote cast for any candidate of said party within the election district at any of the last three preceding general elections Provided that the county commissioners upon request made in writing by any candidate of any party within four weeks prior to the primary shall furnish such additional number of ballots in any election district as said county commissioners may deem necessary

The county commissioners shall also furnish specimen ballots for the use of electors at the polls equal in number to one-fourth the whole number of official ballots said specimen ballots to be printed on colored paper and to be of the same size and form as the official ballot Provided That no elector shall be permitted to mark the ballot of any other elector unless the elector so assisted shall first make affidavit that he cannot read the names on the ballot or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I move to amend section 11, line 22, by striking out the word "six" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "seven," also in line 30 by inserting after the word "identity" the words "or party enrollment."

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The twelfth section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 12 The primaries shall be conducted by the regular election boards duly elected under existing or future laws who shall receive the same compensation for their services as they receive at elections Inspectors of elections shall have the right to appoint clerks to assist them as at elections who shall receive the same compensation that clerks receive for such services at elections Vacancies in election boards shall be filled in the manner now provided by law Before entering upon their duties the election officers and clerks shall be sworn and execute written oaths as he is now required by law

The polls shall be open between the hours of one o'clock post meridian and eight o'clock post meridian All persons licensed to sell liquors either at wholesale or retail or as bottlers shall be compelled to keep their places of business closed on said days for holding said primary only between the hours of twelve o'clock meridian and eight o'clock post meridian

Primaries shall be conducted in conformity with the laws governing the conduct of general elections in so far as the same are not modified by the provisions of this act or are not inconsisten with its terms Provided That no elector shall be permitted to mark the ballot of any other elector unless the elector so assisted shall first make affidavit that he cannot read the names on the ballot or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. JARRETT. Mr. President, I move to amend section 12 by striking out all of lines 52, 53, 54, 55 and 56, and inserting in lieu thereof the matter striken out in brackets in lines 19 to 52, inclusive."

Mr. MILLS. Mr. President, I second the motion?

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. JARRETT. Mr. President, The amendments that I just offered to put back in this bill that which was stricken out in Committee is known as the physical disability clause, a provision that all those entitled to assistance are those who are physically defective. The term physical disability shall be construed to mean disability arising from blindness or such a degree of blindness as to prevent the voter from distinguishing the names printed upon the ballot, or the loss of both hands or such inability to use both hands as to incapacitate the voter from making a mark or such physical condition as makes it impossible for him to enter the voting compartment without assistance. The term physical disability shall not be construed to mean illiteracy, inability to understand the ballot, etc. There was a time Mr. President, when I was opposed to this amendment that I have just offered. I had thought on looking the amendment over at first that it meant the clogging of an election and that many of the citizens would be deprived of the right to vote. But after I have gone into the matter thoroughly and looked into it well, I have changed my mind. I found after further consideration that this would be an excellent feature in the primary law. It provides that no person can mark a ballot except an election officer. That will mean the judge, one of the inspectors or the clerk. Now it may be argued that the men who are physically disabled may arrive at the polls just when there is a rush and ask for assistance, perhaps two or three of them, and they are required in the election room at that time and while the election board is assisting the voting stops. Now I do not think there is such a large percentage of the voters of Pennsylvania disabled, and I do not think there will be many disabled if this feature is placed in the bill. Another thing, the man who is really physically disabled and provided for in this amendment, I think this would be the means of that man getting to the polls at a time when he knows rush. Now Mr. President, this amendment provides that physical disability shall not include illiteracy. It may be argued concerned the foreign citizenship in this country that we should not pass a law that would be the means of disfranchising these men. I think this amendment, if placed in this bill, is going to be the means of raising the foreign element of this country which is illiterate and is going to be the means of placing these men on the alert to study the ballot and become better educated. It will also be the means that the men who are under the head of the political boss or under the head of an industrial boss who says to these men "You have got to vote the Democratic, the Republican or Washington ticket?" whatever it is, it gives these men the right to say when he is told to call for assistance, it will give these men the right to say "I can't do it, the law is against that," and if he does not know the law he goes to the polls and asks for John Jones and he is then told. This man will take some friend he can trust and he wants to mark it in a particular way and the political boss or the industrial boss tells him he ought to mark it this way and it is a very easy matter to slip the ballot away at the polls and he can use the ballot the friend has marked for him, and this amendment, Mr. President, I think will be of great good.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, This bill is similar to the provisions of the primary election bill we have in the city of Philadelphia. We have had these conditions there the last four or five years and I do not think to my recollection in Philadelphia there has been one complaint in regard to the boss usurping the right of the men in the primary election respecting the assistance required. Referring to the city of Pittsburg, at the last election there were one thousand four hundred and twenty who were unable to read or write who would come under the provisions as detailed by the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Jarrett, and under the provisions of his amendment they would be deprived of their right to vote. It is true that there is a large number of voters in this State to whom it is necessary to give assistance in the matter of voting. If we want to deprive that population that is termed by some gentlemen as the foreign illiterate element of the voting population of the State, all we have to do is to adopt the amendment as offered by the Senator from Mercer and, we are going to exclude from the provisions of citizenship one of the best elements in the State of Pennsylvania so far as their capacity and ability and necessity for success of his Commonwealth in the future is concerned. It provides in the section as it is now in the bill that the men who desire assistance will make affidavit to the physical disability and there is sufficient law that will protect and safeguard the purity of elections for violating any of the requirements of these election laws, in which the punishment is sufficient to make every man stop and think and listen. Now in the matter of this amendment for this section this has been threshed out for quite a while and we thought every person every legitimate citizen of this State who is entitled by his qualifications to vote if he came to the polls and stated honestly and made affidavit to the effect that he was physical disabled to mark the ballot or did not understand the ballot and that has occurred in the recollection of every member in this chamber or any person who has anything to do with the election, that he as a citizen of this Commonwealth is entitled to cast that vote by the aid and cooperation and assistance of the workers or persons around that polling place.

Mr. JARRETT. Mr. President, I do not want to be misunderstood when I have mentioned the foreign as an illiterate. And I think the real reason for the adoption of the amendment is that it is for the protection of these men so that they are safe from the boss, either political or industrial, and in the years to come he will be glad we have such a law.

Mr. McNICHOLS. Mr. President, I hardly agree with the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Jarrett, as to the provisions of this amendment. Coming from a county where I may say almost one-fourth of the voters of that county are of the population spoken of, not illiterate, but many who have not resided long enough in our Commonwealth or had not the opportunity to learn our language sufficiently well to understand a complicated election law we have to have such law. I hate to think that this body or any other body would disfranchise a body of citizens in Lackawanna or any other county simply for the reason that they are unable to understand this ballot. Now last fall you all understood the length of that ballot. You would know if you lived in Lackawanna County we are possibly going to have a hundred names on our ballot. It is not the foreign born citizen that is going to have the trouble. There will be a lot of people born in this Commonwealth and who are not illiterate that are going to have trouble to mark this ballot, and if you are passing laws to help the voter and simplify matters, this is the wrong way to go about it. I believe instead of making it harder for an elector to cast a ballot and cast it intelligently, you should make it easier and how could you make it easier than allowing a man to take his friend or election officer or somebody that understands his language better than he can understands English, a person understanding a foreign language who can mark his ballot and I hope this amendment will not prevail.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I would like to call the Senators' attention to one thing in this amendment to show its unfairness. A man who is blind and illiterate could vote; a man who is illiterate and has his eyesight could not vote. A man who has his two hands off and is illiterate could vote A man who has his two hands on and is illiterate could not vote, if this amendment goes through. Now I come from a district where we have quite some foreign voters. These men are intelligent and many of them to my own personal observation come around to the polls on election day with their sons and go into the polls with their sons and the sons are there to show them how to mark their ballot. If this amendment should go through, why of course they could not get that assistance. They are men of intelligence. The Senator from Mercer says this will give these men a reason why they should become educated and learn English language. Those of us who have foreign people around us know that most of them are poor, most of them have large families and it takes all of their time and attention to support their families and to give them the benefits of the school education that they do give them. They do not have time to educate themselves; they do not care to educate themselves. Their ambition in life seems from my experience to be to devote all their time and attention in order that they may bring up their large families, that they in turn become good citizens in the community and become of the educated classes. And you will find particularly in the district that I represent that the coming generation of the foreign population is a generation that is bound to rise, is a generation that works harder for its education and is making the best citizenship, and these boys go to the polls and show their parents how to vote, no doubt after they have gone over the facts at their homes, and I say it will be palpably unfair to deprive these good citizens of the right to vote because of the fact that in their younger lives and possibly in foreign shores where they were raised they did not have the chance we had, after we had given them the right of citizenship.

On the question.

Will the Senate agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The thirteenth section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 13 The County Commissions shall keep an accurate account of the entire expense of holding such primaries including the preparation and delivery of supplies voting materials et cetera and the total amount shall be paid in the first instance by the County Treasurer upon the order of the County Commissioners As soon as convenient thereafter the County Commissioners shall prepare an itemized statement of the amount so paid verified by oath and send the same accompanied by the receipted vouchers to the Auditor General who if he finds the same correct shall draw a warrant on the State Treasurer for the proper county for the amount so approved which shall be paid by the State Treasurer out of the money in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I move to amend section 13, line 13, by striking out the words "not otherwise" and inserting after the word "appropriated" the words "for said purpose."

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The fourteenth section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 14 The qualifications of electors entitled to vote at a primary shall be the same as the qualifications of electors entitled to vote at elections within the election district where the primary is held except that with respect to the payment of taxes it shall be sufficient if an elector shall have paid within two years before the next succeeding election a State or county tax which shall have been assessed at least two months and paid at least one month before the said election and on or before the day of the primary and in cases where personal registration is required on or before the reigstration day on which the elector registers Each elector shall prove his qualifications and his identity in the same manner in which electors in the election district in whch he offers to vote are or hereafter may be requred by law to prove their qualifications or identity on election day and may be challenged as at elections

Each elector shall have the right to receive the ballot of the party for which he asks Provided That if he is challenged he shall be required to make oath or affirmation that at the last preceding election at which he voted he voted for a majority of the candidates of the party for whose ballot he asks And provided further That no elector may vote at any primary unless he has been enrolled as a member of such political party and then he may be permitted to vote only the official ballot of the party in which is thus enrolled as a member

If such last preceding election at which such elector voted was a general election at which Presidential electors were voted for he shall in determining the number of candidates for which he voted at such last preceding election count each of Presidential electors as one candidate

Upon executing such affidavit the voter shall be entitled to receive the ballot for which he has called and to cast his vote according to law If he is unable or unwilling to take such affidavit he shall be denied the right to receive such ballot but he shall not be deemed thereby to be guilty of any violation or attempted violation of this law

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I move to amend section 14, line 19, by striking out the word "asks" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "is enrolled and no other;" also in line 31 by striking out the brackets before and after the words "the group of;" also in line 32 by striking out the word "each," striking out the brackets before and after the word "two", striking out the word "one," and striking out the word "candidates" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "candidates."

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I second the motion.
